New Wharton School Location Inspected

Dean Johnson and Party Make Survey of New Facility

Dean Henry W. Johnson aims to have the most modern, efficient and best equipped collegiate school of business in the world when the new Wharton School Building is opened. The present school, while being the oldest and most highly specialized undergraduate school of business in existence, is not adequate for the study and practice of business administration. Dr. Johnson and his department, who recently surveyed over the site of the new structure which will be located between Hamilton and Locust Street west of 36th Street, have available the possible new location. The project is expected to cost at least $15,000,000. Architect plans to make the structure completely self-sustaining and with all the conveniences of modern life. Suggestions of the party were also designed so that the site may be used for commercial purposes.

Land for the proposed business school which, it is expected, will be completed within two years, is located in the heart of Philadelphia and will accommodate over 3,000 students. The building will be equipped with all necessary equipment for classes and laboratories, and students will have access to modern facilities.

SENIORS PLAN ALUMNI MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

Director Urges Fourth-Year Men to Keep In Touch With Pennsylvanians

RAN Y. NAMEN COMMITTEE HEAD

As Commencement Day rapidly approaches, the Senior class faces its greatest challenge in the form of a membership drive to complete the parts of the Alumni Association which were left incomplete on the first two days of the drive. A "A.A. A. B. F. and track championship" will be established at the Senior class dinner in the Eastern cafetria for the first time that these classes have ever been able to complete a major portion of their membership. The AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF HIGHER EDUCATION will complete its first year of activity on the campus this year.

In a letter to all seniors, President Streeter emphasized the importance of the Alumni Association and the role it plays in the lives of members. He pointed out that membership in the society is not just for present students but continues for life.

The student body of the university, being aware of the importance of membership, has pledged to support the campaign. The members are encouraged to help in the drive in any way possible.

HOLD FIRST WORKOUT TODAY

Comparing the universities of approximately 3000 college athletes from 20 different institutions, the University of Pennsylvania track team arrived at Princeton University to compete on Franklin Field Friday afternoon. The Princeton team is composed of the finest athletes from the Ivy League institutions.

After winning the championship for the second consecutive year, the Princeton team was held last year by Yale. After winning, the Princeton team set a high goal of repeating its previous triumphs and they did not fall short of expectations.

The entire program included seven events on the track, and it was considered a successful and enjoyable day for the participants.

LG. A. COMPLETES PLANS FOR NEW CAMPUS HOME
Rev. Edly, in Gig News, States Need for Larger Area of Campus Religion

SITE IS 35TH AND LOCUST STS.

Plans have been completed for the erection of an impressive new building in the heart of the Pennsylvania campus which will be known as the Eddy Christian Association. A suitable site for the proposed religious center office at 35th and Locust Streets has been selected, the general architectural scheme has been completed, and early in the fall a campaign for funds with which to finance its construction will be launched.

The proposed building, which is to be used for the varied activities of the Christian Association, is prompted by two essential factors: the necessity for a structure of sufficient importance to signify the association's work on the campus, and provision for ample facilities in relation to equip those now available at the association's present quarters on Locust Street and Pennsylvania Avenue. A center does not only work on the campus but to be in the community is the aim of the purpose of the new building.

The building will be one of those at Elloe students, potential leaders in the work of business, engineering and the professions, and in the church, too, "declares Rev. C. E. Edly, associate executive secretary of the Christian Association, in a statement issued yesterday. "And we must think enough of those and what their allegiance to the church may mean to improve them with the strength, the dignity and the possibilities in religion which such a house of prayer and service represent for religion on this campus—would certainly do.

In demonstrating the unique need for a building for this work, Mr. Edly reviewed the manifold activities of the six denominational churches on campus all acting in concert through the Christian Association. FOURTH-INNING RALLY GIVES GEORGETOWN 7-5 WIN

Endowment Boards
Plan Organization

Will Campaign in Effort to Collect All Outstanding Deferred Pledges

Since the appointments to the Permanent Board of Governors for the various classes have been announced, plans have been formulated for starting the endowment work. Organization meetings will first be convened so that each member of the class which is responsible for the solicitation of pledges in his class may be informed as to the programs which will be carried out. Brochures have been prepared by Mr. H. M. Henderson, chairman of the Class of 1933 Permanent Board of Governors, I. C., for a meeting of his committee relative to organization and administration.

With only two weeks of school remaining, only a small amount of work can be directed toward a subscription drive. Many deferred payment pledges remain unpaid, quiet drives are directed within the classes in an effort to collect the balances which are past due. It is hoped that the students will respond to this method of collection so that all pledges will be paid by the end of the term.

Next year's campaigns will be conducted among the students in each class. The Permanent class drive will be upon a competitive basis, terminating with appointments to the Class of 1933 Board of Governors. The recently appointed Manheim Alumnae Committee, in connection with the Permanent president, will make the selections.

NATATOMUS

The Permanent Board of Governors has won but one game this season, but will give the other teams one of the closest games they have ever played.

Following today's game there remains only one week in the University Invitational, held with Penn State at State College Pa. The University has never before played in the Invitational, and will finally end State's fourth straight year of victory in this event. A day or two will probably be required to return the victorious team to Philadelphia.

Pennsylvania has not had a very successful season this year, but the team has won two and lost six in eight starts. Very few men will be lost by graduation, however, and it is hoped to have a winning team next season with the material now at hand. Elevation of a captain for the new year will be held soon.

WORK PROGRESS IN COMMUNITY CENTER

Several programs have been made in the work of the Community Center during the past month. Among the most favorable were the Labor Day celebration and the month of the free meals in the nursery.

The Labor Day celebration was sponsored in cooperation with the University students and this program included the entertainment of Col. and Mrs. John A. McCollum, Sr., members of the Community Center's Board of Directors, and contained an address by the President of the University, Dr. A. A. Leinweber, and an address by Mr. William S. Murphy, who is associated with the Community Center.

The month of the free meals in the nursery was one of the most successful of the nursery's history. The nursery served 500 meals during the month, and it is expected that the nursery will be able to continue this program for another month. The nursery is open daily from 9:00 to 4:00, and is located at 1115 Walnut Street.

The nursery provides a safe and nurturing environment for children, and is open to all children in the community. The nursery is staffed by experienced and qualified teachers, and offers a variety of activities and programs to help children develop and thrive.

Fordham Law School

Will Hold Open House at New York Campus

The Permanent Board of Governors has decided to hold an open house at the New York Campus of the University. The open house will be held on Sunday, June 2, from 9:00 to 5:00, and is open to all members of the community.

The open house will provide an opportunity for members of the community to learn more about the University, its programs, and its mission. Visitors will have the opportunity to tour the campus, attend presentations, and meet with faculty members and students.

The open house will be held at the University's New York Campus, located at 120 West 42nd Street. The campus is easily accessible by public transportation, and is located near many of the city's attractions.

For more information about the open house, please contact the University's Office of Public Information at 215-573-7282.
BEGIN CONSTRUCTION OF MANY NEW COURTS

Work will soon begin on the twenty new clay courts to be constructed on River Field. These courts, which have been contemplated for some time, are expected to be completed by September 1. Coach Jack Hendricks, of the tennis team, has been transferred to the Engineering Department, and under his direction the twenty clay courts will be laid out. Coach Hendricks is endeavoring to make these courts as near perfect as possible, since in order to do this only the best materials available are used. The courts are expected to be of red clay, as this variety is superior to any other to be found in this section of the country, as when made into courts it has less place than any other.

With these courts available, it is expected that a greater interest in tennis will be stimulated. In this Coach Hendricks has done a great deal despite the poor facilities available during the past season. These courts, with those provided by the Law School courts and those on Woodland Avenue, will provide ample facilities for both members of the team and undergraduates.
