Sophomores Greet First Year Men In Traditional Fashion At Field Welcome

Approximately 1200 members of the incoming Freshman Class were welcomed to Pennsylvania by sunshine and by a traditional fashion, following a touch-light parade by the University band.

The Sophomore Class was divided into four groups and marched into the stadium, each group led by a group of Junior women, who wore caps of traditional fashion, following a touch-light parade by the University band.

Each group was led by a group of Junior women, who wore caps of traditional fashion, following a touch-light parade by the University band. After the last of the freshman men had run the gamut, the Sophomores disbanded with the singing of the Big and Blue.

Members of the Senior Society then introduced the Freshmen to the Senior girls in the band.

Due to a misunderstanding among the freshman men, the scheduled check between a group of 10 picked Sophomores and 20 Freshmen was called off. The parade then continued to the far end of the stadium, where it converged with the student body for the next event, it was found that the young men had retired to their rooms.

RED AND BLUE BLAZER ADOPTED AS STANDARD

The color committee of the Senior Society has adopted the Red and Blue Blazer as the standard for the Red and Blue Blazer worn by the Senior class. The Blue Blazer is the correct uniform for student body members.

BEGIN PRACTICES NEXT WEEK

Under the direction of Head Coach Chaloner Woodlawn, the Red and Blue Blazer is being made for the opening of the fall training season. The Fullback will be in possession of the perfect new system, which involves the complete team preparation for the first of the fall season.

The blessing of the blazers by the Senior Society will take place on the field at the University of Pennsylvania next week, when the Red and Blue Blazer will be given to the Student Body.

ILLUSTRATED MAKES CAMPUS DEBUT TO-DAY

Combining many new features with those of last year, the new addition to the Franklin Field Illuminated makes its appearance on the campus today. The fact that the campus illumination is being much larger in respect of number of lights, pom-poms and other features, which include not only stories of football, but which the magazine was particularly interested in, has been observed also of others.

The Magazine is a real illustrated paper. It contains sixteen full pages of football news, including all game summaries.

Today's issue will contain fifty pages of the magazine, the size of the magazine will increase incrementally with each issue.

The University of Pennsylvania will operate on the Fairmont Time Zone with a fifteen-minute delay from the standard Eastern Time.

NEW CREW MEMBERS ADOPTED AS STANDARD

As a result of the new season, the University of Pennsylvania crew is adopting a new system of drums. The new system will be used for the first time at the University's first regatta, which will be held on the Schuylkill River next week.

FOOTBALL NOTE

The issue of the Pennsylvania will be distributed free to the dormitory and to the Pennsylvania in the fall.

A new policy is being adopted by the University of Pennsylvania in that all subscriptions are being solicited. A large number have been sold at this time. The subscription, which is available at the University of Pennsylvania, will be sent to the subscriber in a special mailing.

Improvemens On Campus Result of Summer Work
Opening of University Sees Completion of Bennett Hall and Changes in Many Buildings

Six Dormitories RENOVATED

During the summer months work on the Main Quad of the University Campus has gone on steadily, resulting in the completion of a new building and a large number of improvements on many of the old buildings.

Bennett Hall, the new headquarters of the School of Education, which has been constructed at the southeast corner of Thirty-fifth and Chestnut Streets, and which was to house the teaching faculty of the University's School of Education, will be the center of attraction for many of the students. Indeed, those interested in college athletics are highly interested in the new classrooms, which are spacious and well designed, and in the large number of attractive offices for faculty use. The decorations of the suites and of the library are of the latest style, and the building is erected through the generosity of the late

John P. Bennett.

Sargent Hall, the dormitory for women, at the northeast corner of Thirty-fourth and Chestnut Streets, has been thoroughly renovated, and in addition a laundry has been installed for the use of the students and part of the new building has been utilized for the work of the Alumni Society and the Library.

In College Hall, renovating work has been done which will provide necessary additional office space for faculty members. In the Department of History, Mathematics, English and Romance

Languages, considerable labor has also been spent in rearranging the part of the building which houses the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce. In order to provide additional office space for Wharton School faculty members it has been necessary to a leading authority, of the amount of bonds being issued in this country during 1924 for the account of corporations, domestic municipalities and states, farm loan banks, foreign governments and other borrowers.

This figure compares as follows with totals of the four preceding years:

1924 over 36,000,000,000

1923 over 40,000,000,000

1922 over 50,000,000,000

1921 over 42,000,000,000

Over 90% of this financing took the form of bond and note issues. Most of these issues were placed through the public through investment houses and banks.

These figures indicate the extent and importance of the movement buying business. They show why it offers broad opportunities to college-trained men.

One book, "The Bond Business as an Occupation for College Men," deals with the subject in an interesting and informative way. A copy of it will be sent upon request.

CLASS RECORD ISSUES CALL FOR MORE HEELERS

Year Book Management Deplores Lack of Interest Shown by Juniors in Present Competition.

NEW MEN HAVE EQUAL CHANCE

Although the Class Record issued call for Autumn last spring, too late for those of the op- portunity to enter the competition, which is open to all Juniors in good standing. Accordingly Editor-in-Chief A. W. Martin in hopes of having additional men con- tribute to each of the four departments, namely, editorial, business, art and photo- graphy of Banner Hall, today issues this notice.

Martin will be in his office in the house-progressive headers. New men will start on an equal basis with the few who are already working. The only advantage new men hold is the fresh blood given in the coming to our circulation Manager James W. Griffith rate of the competition has sunk.

FRANKLIN FIELD presented a much changed appearance to students of the University upon their return from the summer vacation. It is now in the process of being enlarged by the addition of a second tier over the North and South stands, the meet framework for which has practically been completed.

The work is progressing rapidly. The three weeks of continuous work necessary to accommodate the surrounding stands was such that evidence last month that thousands of applications for tickets to the fall games had to be returned. Plans for the enlargement of the stadium were immediately considered, and the completion of the two tiers now being constructed will mark their partial completion.

Last year the stadium with temporary seats erected on the north side, and over the running track, would accommodate less than one-half of the present seating capacity. The new tier now being erected will have a capacity of 5,000, making it possible for more than 7,000 spectators to view the games this season. The com- plete stands will form the erection of a second tier over the east stand. The work will be started after the close of the football season, and, when finished, will furnish Pennsylvania with one of the largest stadiums in the country.

The new tier will cover most of the present stands, leaving only two exposed. So few are the spectators of a capacity in the last end of the field tier is to be formed, and the tier will be of the opposite permanent stands. The pillars supporting the tier will be the same as the second one.

The erection of the framework was commenced a month ago. Two shifts of workmen have been placed on the job at work so that the actual work can be speeded up. The new tier over the west stand is almost complete, and the present is now being started, but part of next week will be required for that over the east stand. The work on the north side will be ready for use for the Illinois game, but that on the south will not be finished until the Pittsburgh game in November.

Lieutenant Colonel

E. Snyder, U. S. A., retired, as Commandant, leaves the Major back on the threshold of twenty-two years to the University from which he was graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Science.

During his undergraduate days at Pennsylvania, Major Dravo took a personal part in athletic activities, being a member of the track and cross-country firing on his class Football, baseball and track teams. As an athlete he maintained his interest in the University, and in 1924 was President of the Associated Pennsyvania Clubs, a national organization. He is a member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

The new Commandant's try career began on June 18, 1864, when he was appointed a Second Lieutenant. Five years later, when the volunteer

Army was called to the colors, he was first seen as a Marine gun officer in the Ninth Infantry of the Seventh Brigade, popularly known as the Rainbow Division, and during the Marine offensive he commanded the Ninth Infantry.

During the war Major Dravo fought in the following engagements: Little Round Top, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne. For bravery in action near Sedan, France, he was awarded the Cross and Croix de Guerre with palm. Veteran of 35 Battles, Distinguished Service Medals of the War Department, citation to Colonel Dravo as follows: "For bravery and energy in leading his regiment during the entire attack at St. Mihiel, St. Mihiel being an extremely rough and un dergrounded region, under accurate machinegun fire and heavy cannon and artillery fire. Having been ordered to advance he personally turned his troops on attack despite the fact that for nearly two hours he had injured with his rest of rifled, and had his command battered in the face of terrific fire, ex hausting and making useless any method short of hand-to-hand struggle."

In addition to Major Dravo, who is a veteran of the Civil War and General Staff of the United States Army at Fort Leavenworth and also the In graduate of the Command and General Staff College, the new Commandant during the World War, will again serve here,

GRIDMEN RETURN FROM SEAGIRT TRAINING CAMP

Two weeks of intensive preliminary practice for the Gridiron football squad at Seagirt, N. J., terminated yesterday when Coach Young brought his men back to Philadelphia to wind up the training in preparation for the initial game of the season tomorrow against Union. The training season began September 3rd at the resort, somewhat later than in previous years. The late beginning was in keeping with an agreement with Yale to commence practice until two weeks prior to the first scheduled game.

The coaches and management expressed satisfaction with the results of the training trip. The players are all well along in the conditioning work, in fact, they have received approximately the same siege they were in at the same time last year, despite the shortened training period. This is in large measure due to the excellent training facilities and the resolve of the men when they reported.

The most noticeable change during the first week of practice by the players was in their weight. The two practice sessions held each day, weightlessness, calling for less weight being deemed of fundamental importance in the training season. The players were required to measure thoroughly familiar with the rules, and were given daily tests on them at the morning blackboard drills. During the second week, both practice and tests were held daily.

The team was quartered at the Stockton Hotel, and practice was held on the rifle range of the New Jersey State Military Camp, across the river from the summer home of Vice-President Miller of New Jersey. Fifty-one men composed the squad. Eighteen men were cut after the first week, and have not been since dropped. The remaining thirty-three men will be composed of Head Coach Young, Wray and Thompson, three captains; Bill, Hackford, coach; Stewart, end coach; Craig and Brownlee, who will have charge of the Freshmen; and Miller, scrub tutor.

WANTED

A CLEVER of ours is large, enthusiastic and concerned about the welfare of the students in each school to act as its exchange representative. This is no ordinary crowning job, but a position wherein the holder will occupy himself with little free time. The exchange representative is required to keep in touch with his fellow students in his regular school life. The young men selected in each school will be a junior or senior, of good standing among his classmates and engaged in school activity, either athletic or literary. He will not be asked to sign up for it. In time he may, if he so desires, be able to act as a class representative.

If you think you are the man—write to the Geography Department, New York University, 430 West 51st Street, New York City.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION
ENTERTAINS FRESHMEN
AT ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Secretaries Play Host to 135 First-Year Men at Green Lane in Four-Day Get-Together

PROGRAM OF VARIED ACTIVITY
CREASES CAMP INTEREST ALIVE
Campus luminaries in costume. Men 1929 With University Activities and Traditions.

More than 800 men, including President of the Pennsylvania Student Christian Association and upper classmen, gathered this afternoon at the Freshman Banquet at Green Lane, Pennsylvania. There, in an ideally suited camp located in the picturesque setting of the city, the small Pennsylvania body enjoyed four days of fine camping under perfect weather conditions.

The Freshman Banquet was the colorful conclusion to the annual Freshman camp. This year's camp was one of the best, and most of the first-year men apparently enjoyed this little diversion in Pennsylvania.

For the entertainment of those who have never been as fortunate as to attend a Green Lane Camp the daily schedule calls for the rising hour at seven o'clock. Then about half a hour after breakfast the men divided into small discussion groups in which many of the topics surrounding University life were discussed. Three informal gatherings still are not an uninteresting time and served not only to better prepare the Freshman for the life of the college, but contributed much to the friendly terms among the campers. Then, for the remainder of the day the men were allowed to entertain themselves as they desired.

Swimming in a large and deep creek was very popular, even more fishing, and according to their own story had some luck. All were very well any visible trophies of the stream. Rock jumping, volleyball, tug-of-war, and baseball also came in for their share of attention.

The second day of camp the Freshmen challenged the Christian Association Secretaries and upper classmen in a game of baseball. The Freshmen输了, but the game next to some extent was discontinued. They were allowed to continue the classmen, but it was arranged that they were only played against the two Freshmen umpires. We are not in a position to make charges of unfairness and greater hope that the games are terminated.

The defeated team might have won the game very easily but for the theories of their third baseman. They were facing against this appropriation in the second inning. There was a man on third and one out and as the third baseman in line. One ball was cuffed on a strike and on the third pitch the batter connected, and drove the ball over the fence. The basemen might have thrown the third into the Freshman shortstop's territory, but for some unexplained reason instead of doing so he batted it down the third-base line.

The freshmen cheered, the apparatus men began hastily to look for something to put it. But no sooner was done then it was determined because it was remembered that the business sessions of the Pennsylvania Student Christian Association depended upon the men's efforts.

After the evening meal a large fire was built in a natural rock amphitheatre. The weather was fine. The Freshmen practiced the Pennsylvanian song, their class poem, and the University cheer. Then when the Freshmen's barbecue was complete it and all the campers were "commanded" to the large areas, various camp leaders, members of the Christian Association organization, and members of the faculty were called to speak.

Among those who addressed the freshmen at the various camp-fire were *Fun of the Psychology Department; Mr. Smith on a similar topic on the camp life.

Walter O'Flaherty, President of the Senior Class; Robert Kiebauer, Editor of the Pennsylvania, S. E. W. Student; and Edward H. Beier President of the Interfraternity Council and a host of others, who were regular campers or overnight visitors, were present to contribute to the success of the camp. Under the direction of the camp counselors, "The A. M. Services" was a hit, and the freshman产生了 much inspiration in the freshman group.

The final inspection of the camp life was to obtain all that was needed for the second day, and as usual all the necessary were given a bright and enlivening introduction to Pennsylvania and Pennsylvania life.

The camp was a success and the review of all those who attended was that it did not last for a longer period of time. The entire area around the camp is the Pennsylvanian campus and the students, as always, are made to look forward to the Pennsylvania experience of the campers.

Merrick's Retirement

ANNOUNCED BY TRUSTEES

Vice President of University Plans to Devote Entire Time to Welfare Council Activity

ENTERED PENNSYLVANIA IN 1886

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania, the decision of Dr. J. H. Merrick to resign the office of Vice President which he has held for the past twelve years was announced. He has had great regard accorded to him by the University, and it is with great regret that the Trustees have accepted his resignation. Mr. Merrick's work has been in the field of the University Council on Welfare and will continue as chairman of the Council, an office in which, while President, he has performed much valuable work.

A graduate of the Episcopal Academy, Mr. Merrick entered the University of Pennsylvania in 1886 and in 1890 was graduated with the Degree of Bachelor of Arts. In 1891 he entered the law department of the university and in the latter part of his professional career was an Assistant Secretary of the college.

ENTERED PENNSYLVANIA IN 1886

and Manager of the Memorial Hospital, Sciences, Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, Sigma fraternity, Mask and Wig Club, and the University plans to improve in personnel have been announced cards have been made; a committee is working on the problem of the committee "Welfare," and the house "Winds," every college in the country yearly competes for the honor of holding the comic publications. Having maintained such a high standard in the past, the bowl is seeking to gain a permanent possession of the cup by winning it for the third consecutive year.

A UNIVERSITY NIGHT

All University night will be held in Washington Hall, starting September 28, at 8 P.M. The favorite places of undergraduate activity will be exploited at this meeting.

PAGE THIRTEEN
It takes a load off the student's mind

The Triangle will appear as monthly magazine

Articles dealing with campus activities and prominent faculty men to be features

First issue out October 15

The Pennsylvania Triangle enters its second year on the campus with its initial monthly issue appearing October 15th. The Triangle, which was edited last year and a semester, will now be an eight-issue book this year, going on sale the fifteenth of each month from October until May.

According to J. S. Stowe, editor-in-chief, this rapid expansion has been made possible by the interest shown and support given by the Engineering and Architectural students and Alumni and the approval of the benefits derived from it by the new going into the traditions of the University. The Triangle feels that this expansion has been made largely to the inclusion of a greater portion of general interest articles and deals dealing with the activities of the Campus in place of a superabundance of highly technical data.

The continuance of this policy, which has proved popular, will be greatly facilitated by the publication of the magazine in eight issues, as the fewer number of events will be much more evenly spaced throughout the year and space more available. This news will vary each week in addition. The Triangle should prove a great aid to the pre-engineering freshmen by keeping him in touch with the activities of the Engineering schools and the development in the industrial professions. This information should prove invaluable in aiding him to choose wisely the course in which he is best adapted when, in his Junior year, he enters the Engineering Schools. The

Just a Few Big Facts

About Philadelphia’s Greatest Newspaper

The PUBLIC LEDGER and NORTH AMERICAN has the greatest staff of journalists and special writers ever assembled on one newspaper.

IT is the ONE Philadelphia newspaper most honored at home and abroad as one of the world’s greatest newspapers.

IT publishes, on a proved daily average, more news and features than any other Philadelphia daily morning newspaper.

IT is the only Philadelphia newspaper publishing a separate Business and Financial Section daily (weekdays). For Wharton School students, especially, this section is invaluable.

IT is the only Philadelphia newspaper with its own foreign news service.

ITS editorial page is quoted the world over. It is a mental stimulant.

IT publishes more book news and religious news than any other Philadelphia newspaper.

ITS sports pages are known as the best in any Philadelphia morning newspaper.

ITS “feature” articles are authoritative treatments of vital topics by men and women having thorough knowledge of the subjects they deal with.

IT is a clean newspaper—giving ALL the news, pleasant or otherwise, but always keeping details within the bounds of propriety, and ever favoring constructive news — worth-while knowledge—the kind most desired by progressive people.

IT is something more than a daily record of “the passing show.” It SEEKS OUT vital news about that which is affecting the thought, action and welfare of mankind, the trend of civilization, the interests of the home, business and human uplift.

THINKING men and women like it for that reason. It not only informs but inspires and stimulates in an entertaining way.

If you have yielded to the impulse to read ALL of this announcement, you are probably just the kind of person that will like the PUBLIC LEDGER and NORTH AMERICAN.
