Establish Department of Student Personnel
Created to Aid in Personal Contact and Intimacy Between Students and Faculty Members
In Charge of Thomas A. Budd
As a means of creating a greater sense of intimacy between the student and the faculty, the Wharton School has established a new department this year known as the "Department of Student Personal." The function of the department will be to build up a personal record of each student from the time he enters the University, and to aid him in solving any problems which may come from him. Register Thomas A. Budd of the Wharton School, assisted by Assistant Professor W. R. Blackham and A. K. Henry, will head this new department.
One of the chief duties of the department will be to guide each student in the selection of his courses, so that he may be best fitted for the profession which he desires to follow upon leaving the University. A very good knowledge of the department's activities will be kept, and the time he marks are attended by the officials hope to have a clear idea of his personality and aptitudes. As a result of this study, the department hopes to be able to do the placement work of graduates more efficiently.

This business of having to fill out cards is being done.
A medical student does this to fill out cards giving where he lives, whether he has invited them to his home, why he is living wherever, whether he can read, what color his vest is, the name of the cat; in fact the cards seem too many and too much. Some of the departments might save their time before saving new window shades for their rooms.

What can't we see is why everyone hasn't been with his last name first. It seems as though this would arrive a great deal of time a great many people, both among students and faculty. Several times this quarter, in order to report each term, then also thus cutting down the waste of paper and helping to solve the dehydrator problem. If all babies who come to go to college, be used to being bucked backwards or upside down, or something, so that their last names would be first, in capital, it certainly would help.

But of course there would always be some fly in the ointment. Some of the babies would never go to college, for reason of another, and it would never do to have new grown through life handicapped by such aiguiplt on

Mile Steeplechase

Russell Payne of the Illinois C. M. is a member of the 1925 Olympic team, scored a brilliant victory in the mile steeplechase for the championship of America at the New York A. C. Fall games, Saturday. Payne is a student of the University of Pennsylvania, but was ineligible for track last year, because of the one-year residence rule.

Payne's time was a little more than four-fifths seconds in the second fastest time in the history of steeplechase. Last year his time was 4:57.

Because thousands of applicates for tickets to the big games last year but had to be turned down because of lack of seating space, the work is being turned through is rapidly as possible.

In order to assure sufficient work completed before the deadline of a'he big games, this year, the members have kept a double shift of workers on the job since opening last month, every hour.

The line on the south side will be able to fill the line on the比较 with the University of Illinois.
