COACHES STRESS TIMING OF PLAYS IN SECRET DRILL

BROWNS GAMES TICKETS

CINCINNATI — Brown University football fans will have a great opportunity to formally meet their team when they come to the University of Cincinnati for one of the regular practices scheduled for 9 a.m. today (Friday) at the athletic field. The team will take the field at 9 a.m. under the direction of Coach H. A. Mathews, and will begin with a few preliminaries and then go over the plays in detail.

The team will be divided into two sections, one for the offense and one for the defense, and each player will be given a specific position. The offense will be led by the quarterback, while the defense will be under the direction of the coach. The players will be given a script of plays and will be required to memorize them.

The practice will last for approximately two hours, after which the players will be dismissed for lunch. The team will return to the field at 1 p.m. for further drills and scrimmages. The practice will conclude at 3 p.m., after which the players will have the rest of the day off.

The Brown University football team is scheduled to play its first game of the season on September 23 against the University of Pennsylvania at 2 p.m. at Baker Field.

A WARM WELCOME AT WINTERS

Are you a grind?

You'll have more time and a freer inclination for pleasant things if you have the right tools for school use. Buy a "Lifetime" pen, not alone because it is the smart and the successful pen of the day; or because it is made of green jadeite, a beautiful and indestructible material; or because it has a "nifty" little white dot on its "other" end and a lifetime guaranteed nib. But buy it for the very good reason that it is an insatiable performer. Sold at the better stores.

Yesterday for the first time this week and run the team during signal drill, but was kept out of scrimmage for fear of aggravating his injury. It is probable that he will fully recover by Saturday and direct the Red and Blue offensive against Swarthmore.
