PUNCH BOWL WILL BE SOLD ON NEWS STANDS IN FUTURE.

"Put the policy of allowing no sing of the Punch Bowl in any form about the campus or elsewhere has proved inexorable," said John Q. O'Gypp, president of the Punch Bowl League. Beginning next week, a new sign will be posted on campus. The sign will be chalked and will read: "No sale of Punch Bowls to be made at any point on campus or elsewhere by anyone, as all campus distribution points are shut down in the future.

In addition, the customary morning paper will be destroyed, and refreshments will be available to the students. Tompkins, who arranges the sales, stated that with the increase in the number of students who have been received at the office in Houston Hall, it has been found that a larger number of students who do not wish to subscribe for a whole year will often buy single, and are denied them for selling purposes.

A letter where only Spanish will be spoken—the first of its kind in American universities—was opened at the University of Wisconsin this week at 224 North Murray Street. The new institution has been named "Casa Cervantes" to symbolize all the Spanish-speaking countries in the name of the greatest Spanish author.

Fifteen young women occupy the house, which has been leased for a term of three years. Dining room service is limited to 25 men and women who are students of Spanish.

The new house is a much needed addition to the group of language homes on the campus," said Prof. Juanita Ortigo, chairman of the organization committee. "With more than 1500 students taking Spanish at the University, it is hoped that the house will serve the purpose of affording an opportunity for pleasant social informal relations in the practice of the language, and for a better understanding of the peoples of Spain and South America.

Students may live in the house for the fall quarter, after which it will be open to members of the University for summer residence.

SPANNISH CREW MEN

The Spanish crew members are all students of Spanish at the University of Wisconsin and are selected by the organization committee.

The house is maintained by the students and is located at 224 North Murray Street, near the University of Wisconsin campus.

The house is open to all students of Spanish and is maintained by the students as a social and cultural center for the Spanish-speaking community.

ESTABLISHED 1900

Our many years of association with Pennsylvania men have made us peculiarly sensitive to their desires in dress.

To the members of the Freshman class who have not yet decided upon their tailor, we extend an invitation to inspect our wools, and assure them the same courteous service and workmanship which have given us an ever-increasing Pennsylvania clientele since our founding in 1900.

TWENTY-SEVEN HANGS FIRE

What is the matter with Twenty-seven? That was the question which many campus oldtimers asked, as they read yesterday's issue that Junior elections have been postponed because of the third-year men in their class. Why, it was asked, is it necessary to exclude every Junior personally to take an interest in the affairs of his class? Last year a similar condition prevailed when a few petitions were received for the fusion of two classes.

As a rule, at this time of the year, the Juniors are up protesting the plights of their class. The campus is rife with plans for Junior week and the selection of the proper men to lead the class in the traditional festivities on the other hand, the Freshmen are expected to sing. In short, Juniors seem to be a glass toward class affairs.

Of course, it is ridiculous in itself. That a Junior Class should do all the work of a class election which all other classes pay in toward class affairs. The mere fact that the brakes don't operate hasn't disturbed the driver's plans in any one particular. The reason is that he can lead on all through it and then attach a Pennsylvania banner on the rear, without breaking the spring.

Some has got to drop out of the party, or there will be no banner on the rear.

One of the early months is the sign that says, "Come Over and See the Pirates-Maryland Football Fever." Soberness. Who ever saw a football dance?

We have been asked to publicly thank the select group of seniors who, knowing that the football team was to make a trip to Green Bay, sent a message to the manager, asking if he could use any Abington alumni. This is the time of the year that the Brantford Tigers hang their banner in the middle of Woodward Avenue.

Recent Discovery-Recently seniors are not impressed.

The Victor Talking Machine Co. claims to have just perfected a new and fine type of moving instrument. We are going to make a note of this and kind it to the fellow across the hall from us, in the hope that he will be able to find out what the strange machine is a phonograph, on one of the new type.

Students studying in the Library yesterday afternoon thought an earthquake had occurred, when they distinctly felt the building wobble. An investigation, however, disclosed the fact that the north side merely sank another two inches.

The recent controversy of the Atlantic City Beauty Exposition turned into a refutation of the statement, made by a sister member, that beauty was the main problem. It is safe to say the outcome was a victory, in that no one who has ever heard "How to Study," would say, "What of it?"

To Study City Traffic Signals-Public Ledger-The Iron Tornadoes are getting ready for Three Rivers and even yet we can't cross Woodland Avenue with any degree of assurance.

Several people have inquired of us recently as to the reason we do not have a foreign correspondent. Let it be known that this column does have a foreign correspondent. This correspondent has never heard a single foreign word since last June. He was ordered to report on the University Examinations in Norway. Whether an old Swedish puff has fallen on him or whether his death from thirst was the cause, we have been unable to learn. The result is that he will now operate a phonograph, on one of the new type.

There is a noticeable lack of continuity in today's column, please continue your remittances, as we be expected to put together a remarkable column, while only a few feet from our door a howling mob of housewives was following the World's Series, via the Houston Hall radio.

You Need This Intelligence

An especially loud gong, from the radio grandstand, has been noted. Just noise, we thought. We immediately rushed out to determine its cause only to discover that a fellow had placed an order for the tickets, which resulted in market reports from New York instead of baseball plays from Pittsburgh.

Just as we are about to think of something real humorous a freshman wandered in the open door and asked us if this grand-gate, the fellows are talking about, is some new type of column.

We looked the ear over yesterday, in which we are used to make the Browns and Yale crap. If that crap ever passes us to Providence and back, and New Haven and return, we are going to lose a square in the Massachusetts institute for it.

Every student of reason has an equal right to the use of the mind, and all that is required to develop the mind is application of the right kind of application.

The new course will be carried on in elaboration of a course in Wood Utilization, which has been given in the past. It will give the same B. E. degree.

The elementary course in Wood Preservation deals with the uses and properties of woods, the history and practice of preservation, and a study of the reative and advancing course deals with construction and operation of wood preserving plants, management, costs, markets, and a study of industries using treated material. Inspection of practical work in treating plants will be a feature of the course.

Professor Bebauna, M. Herkis, former member of the technical staff of the United States Forest Products Laboraory at Madison, Wisconsin, has been appointed to take charge of the course. He has had extensive experience in such work in both country and abroad.

DORMITORY SMOKER

An illustrated lecture on China by Mike’s! Honorea featured a combined number of Core and Wilson Dormition Sophomore evening in the Mon and Wire Club rooms.

The slides brought out conditions in that country today. During his visit there, some were circumstances presented in such vivid detail which would lead to turn back the average traveler, but Dorfman entered them there, and the information he received paid him well for his discussion.

After the lecture, Maurice Gilmore introduced Miss. Pal, assistant room coach, who gave an interesting talk concerning the West. This was followed by a talk on row in which he urged the men present to turn out for track. He also emphasized the fact that every man should go out for some activity.

The remainder of the evening was spent in a program of meeting. Re
