Leading in an all-weather outlook, Professor E. A. H. Smith, a member of the faculty at Harvard, has prepared a complete new set of lectures on the recent and present development of meteorology. These will be given in the lecture hall in the Physics building, and will cover the range of meteorological science from the earliest times to the present day. The lectures will be open to all students, and are expected to attract a large audience.

Radio broadcasts are prohibited on the grounds. When the ban went into effect, the students were surprised and angry. However, they were able to recover enough from their astonishment to join one another in vocal protests of the ban.

In discussing the restriction, Dr. Guth explained that the radio was being kept by students. He went on to state that men owning their own radios in the business world were easy to find. They showed the result of sleep lost in sitting up until 2 and 3 a.m. Dr. Guth continued, in an endeavor to remove far-off station.

CREW INVITED TO
GERMAN REGATTA
...and few absent," said Mr. Brown, "we will give the harmony and...the latter. It will be necessary for us to raise funds for the trip but I think we would need little difficulty there."

The last American crew to win a championship race at the Henley Regatta was one from Harvard. In 1926, a Pennsylvania eight rowed against the Lebanon crew in the final of the Henley, losing, not by a wide, but a very fine margin. Since that time Pennsylvania crews have remained on this side of the ocean.

The task of the Potomac valley crew in the race of the Henley, being the first in twenty years to invade foreign shores, is anything but an easy one.

The first race of the year, May 1, is with the Naval Academy eight, on the Severn River. The Midshipmen won the interesting battle championship last season, having an exceptionally fine array of talent for this year's eight.

A week after the meeting with the Navy, the undefeated Yale eight will be met along with Columbia, on the Delaware River. Harvard and M.I.T. are also scheduled for May 22, at Cambridge, and work later, Princeton and Columbia are opponents in the Chi Phi Regatta. Negotiate the last opponent on the regular schedule, will meet Pennsylvania on May 31, two days after the Chi Phi Regatta.

COUNCIL WILL HOLD FIRST MEETING TODAY

Members of the Undergraduate Council will meet today for the purpose of appointing new committees to act during the coming semester. Upon investigation of their old reports last year's committees will be dissolved.

At this time an inquiry into the status of the Primeur Boil Contest and the activities of both the Vigilance and Cooperative committees, will be held. The progress of work on the Club House act will also be discussed.

THE HOME OF THE CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION ASSURED

Officially closing with the goal of $250,000 soon, the campaign in the City of Philadelphia to raise funds for the proposed new house of the University Christian Association has by no means been a failure. It is true that the fund is still short of the desired amount, but the various denominations have agreed to assume responsibility for raising the balance and it appears to be only a question of time until the entire sum will be pledged.

The drive has been a decided success. Two workers who have so unselfishly devoted their time and at tempts to the cause are to be congratulated upon the results of their efforts. To them, and to the good people of Philadelphia who have so generously contributed to it, the fund, the University is indebted in a small measure.

It will now be possible to proceed with the construction of the magnificent building that has been proposed to house the Christian Association in the future. In addition to providing a more adequate home for the association, the proposed structure will contain Memorial Hall and become a center of beauty on the campus. Directly or indirectly, it will benefit every student and will be a splendid thing for Pennsylvania.

To the faithful workers and generous contributors, The Pennsylvanian wishes to express the appreciation of Pennsyl-svania men and extend them most hearty thanks for a splendid campaign.

The Varsity basketball team must overcome the ancient Columbia Jinx next Friday if it is to extend its winning streak to five games and retain its standing among the leader of the Eastern Intercollegiate League. Although playing at peak form, McIlhenny's chargers will do double duty over the week-end, meeting the League leaders at Memorial Heights Friday and the Army five in Westcott Hall the following evening.

Mask and Wig interest among undergraduates should grow spontaneously with the announcement of the name and theme of the thirty-eighth annual production. The fact that the play, based on a scenario suggested by the committee on production, was written by a freshmen undergraduate should make it an addition to the list of pride to make next winter's production
the best of the celebrated series.

The explanation of the present perplexed boxer situation, as given by Dr. E. Trait McIndoe in yesterday's issue, makes evident that it is beyond the powers of the Department of Physical Education to take any action which would relieve the situation. As Dr. McIndoe points out, the new gymnasi-siums will furnish locker facilities for the present student population.

Well, now that the scholastic baseball race are completed, and the campus has supposedly settled back to its customary rule, we would greatly appreciate it if someone would dust around and tell us where our Psychology 10 class is meeting.
It isn't on the route roster.

"You are to appear before the Executive Committee, etc., etc."

We think it worthy of mention that no one has said "No" to the request made to us for these three days.

The freshman across the hall just remarked, as he came in to honor our best boy, that he hopes he can stay here long enough to see the new church the Christian Association is going to build.

The editor of our two high-light columns "Book-off the pedestal. We have discovered that he sends

Every man who intends stepping out this social season needs this very coat.
They are light in weight—single breasted —extra long.
Mr. Bacharach not only gives them to you for formal wear, but also serve the purpose of being a perfect top coat for Spring wear.
Here's real economy without sacrificing style in a coat that serves two purposes, can legitimately be worn for both formal and informal occasions.

20,000 TECH ALUMNI HAVE RADIO DINNER

Loud, New York and Honolulu Among Cities Selected to Hear Some Speakers

Dawes and Harbord Talk

Their Platform in Washington, Eastman's in Rochester and Stratton's in Cambridge

Sitting at tables in sixty-seven cities in the United States, Cuba, Canada, England and Hawaii, 20,000 graduates of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology attended a simultaneous "phantom radio dinner" last night. It was hoped they all would have the same speeches and the same dinner as the 200 who attended the main dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria.

The after-dinner speeches were made in four cities—New York, Washington, Cambridge and Rochester and were broadcast by radio stations between New York and California, two of which sent them across the Atlantic and the Pacific.

Vice-President Charles D. Howe was the principal speaker. He and Major General James C. Harbord, president of the Radio Corporation of America, spoke from Washington after a private dinner given by the Vice-President to President Coolidge. George Eastman, President of the Eastman Kodak Company, who has given about $20,000,000 to M.I.T., spoke from Rochester. Dr. Samuel W. Stratton, President of M.I.T., spoke from Cambridge. David Barnoff, Vice-President and General Manager of the Corporation of America, spoke from New York.

All along the phantom banquet table, thousands of miles long with no connection but the radio, the M.I.T. graduates were scheduled to hear their college pupils' song "Yale class" sung by Miss Lucrece Dupre in Cambridge as follows:

M. I. T. rah. rah. rah!
M. I. T. rah. rah. rah!
M. I. T. rah. rah. rah!

The program also included Miss Lucy Morris and Royal winders, singing from the Victor studio in New York; Paul Speckle Martin Ring Orchestra in New York and other musical features.

Irresistible

Millions agree that Lucky Strike's exclusive toasting process develops the hidden flavors of the world's finest tobaccos.

They appreciate that Lucky Strike is the only cigarette out of over 200 brands with a definite and exclusive reason for that superior flavor.
