PHILADELPHIA COMMISSION AWARD

The Present has been requested to call the attention of the University students to the following:

The Philadelphia Commission proposes to offer an award of $500 for the best practical plan to construct the filtering and desalination of parks and public places in the metropo.

The terms and conditions governing this award are fully described in the accompanying prospectus.

To give title to the award, widespread publicity, as a general interest in this civic undertaking, and to encourage its corrective influence, offers for the site and structure of the Philadelphia Commission, ask whether you will, in your opinion, determine the site and structure and be associated with the Board of the Commissioners before your associate by amateurs and opening of sites and stimulate the possible cooperation in the movement.

Copies of the award prospectus may be obtained by writing to the Secretary of the Board of Education, 10th and Chestnut Streets.

HELMETS USED TO PROTECT MITTEN

Prospects Bright for Blocking Team as Levy and Rothman Improve

With the recommender with Yale on Saturday, the 300-pounder began his charge through football work for the remainder of the week. This week will test the strength of the season's work and will be a valuable factor in the process of this season.

Levy, in the left-handed position, and Rothman of the right-handed position, have made a few changes for this contest.

Art. R. B. C.

A new type of helmet is being used by the captains of their respective teams in their first year's effort, with the exception of the small size and weight as used in the last season's game. The new helmet is made of aluminum and is only two inches wide, and is said to give the correct size and weight and to be an improvement over the old model.

COUNCIL ON ATHLETICS NAMES COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE TICKET QUESTION

of the University, explained that the university would decide just what tickets were to be reserved for the use of each body and would stipulate any other conditions involving the distribution of tickets and seating. From this it follows that those who are directly connected with the actual distribution will follow a definite scheme in their work and that the matter of individual distribution will be eliminated.

Mr. Cozen stated that it will be necessary for the committee, in drawing up the plan of distribution, to take into consideration the distribution of Otter tickets particularly, since the ticket question presents the greatest difficulties of difficulties and instructions for that game. The committee has not set a full meeting and no definite date has been set for its first session. When it does meet, recommendations relative to various phases of ticket distribution at Yale and Harvard will be presented by Mr. Cozen and James J. Gorman, assistant treasurer of the Council on Athletics. Both Mr. Cozen and Mr. Gorman have thoroughly investigated the system in vogue at these universities.

Mr. Cozen explained that the Yale and Harvard systems are not well suited for investigation since these systems are the eastern institutions that present ticket problems most analogous to that at Pennsylvania.

Despite the fact that the FBS football season is a thing of the past and the 1928 season some months away, student interest in the ticket question has not abated. It is the hope of the committee that by each equitable method of distribution will be devised in order to prevent the necessity of standing in line to obtain tickets will be supplemented by an orderly system of obtaining tickets by which fewer students will be dissatisfied and in which the need for orderly seating is insured.
