JOURNEY TO HARVARD TUESDAY

Pennsylvania's debating team will travel to Harvard for a meeting with the Lafayette Debaters. The question for discussion will be, "Was the Treaty of Washington the Great Reorganization of Russia?" Much interest has been shown in the Lafayettes' Memorial Collection" of

No winner, however, can expect any kind of permanent position on the debating team because it is not a team which meets ten or twelve times a year. Usually, the debating team is divided into two groups of three, and an individual is chosen by each group of three to represent it in the championships.

The team will take place on Saturday morning when the four-man team from Harvard will arrive on campus. The debates will last from two hours to four hours, and no

debater is expected to speak on more than two or three occasions.

The graduating class of 1926

will be debated by the

TO THE MEN UNFLEDD

Each year at the close of reading season there are a number of men who would like to have joined a fraternity but who for some reason have not had the opportunity. To many of these, the disappointment is so keen that at first it seems to have dropped among them forever. And it should be remembered that among these Indianapolis campuses there are many and varied forms of sport and other extracurricular activities which afford equal opportunity for pleasant and profitable occupation as well as real satisfaction.

If you are not satisfied if there is anyone in the whole University who could not enjoy the same types of success in at least one of these. Yet many of these activities are suffering because they are not receiving the attention from the undergraduates. There is no better way of winning respect and popularity than success in one or more outside campus activities. Hard work and earnest effort invariably brings success.

Perhaps make a fraternity the first year in no cause for despondence on the part of any freshman. It should be realized that all men will not be admitted to the brotherhood of fraternity choice.

AN AUDI TO UNIVERSITY TRAVELERS

With the formation of a travel bureau by the University through the Alumni Hall authorities, information pertaining to travel to all parts of the world, together with facilities for arranging trips, whether by rail or by boat, are being placed in the immediate disposal of those concerned with the University arrangements for the travel of students, whether by rail or by boat, are being placed in the immediate disposal of those concerned with the University arrangements. It takes us almost a year at the University to plan for a trip or a tour by students who have just arrived or have been moving to stay in the summer. We are all out of school and we are not even out of school and on the verge of the nervous breakdown.

After looking at yesterday's front page, we have realized that the heartbreakingly dull will be something about the file of a Freshman Press.

The Freshman across the hall went A. B. Z. and took his trousers to the tailor.

But there is now no use making any more remarks about branding season or its consequences. The season is over, our lecture is over, and we are all out of school and on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

We wandered around the campus yesterday morning, during the rain, rain, puddles, and longunderground walks. We actually suggest that the University employ a drainage system, whose day it shall be to devise some means of eliminating pools on campus walks.

We don't mind getting our feet wet now and then but do object to playing through puddles which are knee deep.

The problem of undergraduates with umbrellas is also most interesting. Yesterday three of the young ladies were injured as a result of bending collision, while another one got herself tangled up in the library door, and by the next time to the entrance the door, umbrella and undergraduates were almost beyond repair.

This old saying about April showers bringing May flowers sounds nice, and all that; but someone ought to make some wise remark about how February showers bring ceiling wet feet and wet dispositions.

The rain doesn't help Bells much either. It makes him dream.

Wasted Words

You're an intellectual at last! There is a University Travel Bureau in order to obtain the services of reservations for our planned summer tour.

The University Welfare Council was conducting our office. It is unnecessary, to begin the editorial writer on a note that enforces the sentiment entitled "The Morning After."

It is getting near so that one can't even imagine that he has been on a spree.

Sugar just burst into the office with the information that love doesn't have to be gay.

Wood Supply Will Be Exhausted in 35 Years"—Pennsylvania and they're writing it making paper for examination books.

That one side from behind Yale. The boys certainly wasn't determined to make it according to Yale's Kil the treat.

Wasted Words

That you didn't treat us this way during Relating Season.

UNIVERSITY DEBATES
CLASH WITH LAFAYETTE

Combined from Page One

It is said to be one of the best that Pennsylvania has ever had.

Another debate will be staged in Lafayette Hall tomorrow night at 8 o'clock between the University men and a team from Williams College. The question is "Resolved, that the University act intended to permit the sale of light affairs and beer, must be permitted under the Act in its present form." The Lafayette team will defend the affirmative side of the question. The Williams team will be made up of Paul H. Reynolds '20 and Roland Hall '21.

All students are invited to attend this contest and will be admitted upon presentation of their matriculation cards. At the same time that this debate will be going on, Tuesday, William F. Birdwell '21, and Edward Carter will be defending the affirmative side of the question as anor against the Harvard University men.

FEVERBURY FRESHMEN TO ATTEND WELCOME MONDAY

Monday, as the attendance of a representative group of campus leaders is necessary.

The tentative program includes data on campus life, showing the fundamental distinctions to be added to the evening entertainment. Several tests of "moral" will also be shown, as an added feature. Following the entertainment, refreshments will be served.

YEARLING BASEBALL TEAM WILL TAKE TRIP NORTH

Schedule Embraces Leading Prep Schools of Six States Including Games with Local Schools

BATTERY MATERIAL LOOKS GOOD

Prep Schools of six states will be opposed by the freshman baseball team this spring. In carrying out this schedule, the team will engage in a northern trip of three days duration on which it will be accommodated in New York and Connecticut. Resolve this trip, the team will not open with the finishing prep school in Pennsylvania.

In notifying the schedule, the Council in Athletics spoke very highly of it, as did the baseball committee. The prep school listed in it are all well known throughout the eastern states and are of very high caliber. The games which oppose the freshmen team will be entertained by the selected efforts of the Kite and Key Society and the Intramurals. On the northern trip the teams will meet New York Military Academy, Ithaca School and High School. The starting trip that the preparations will make will be to Lawrenceville, Penn Charter and Pyle Hall.

The battery material that has been reported daily for practice has brought forth some very promising material. The members who make up a complete string for the campaign, have shown very good form. Most of the players who played in last year's campaign are all well known.

The teams which will oppose the freshmen team, promises to become a dangerous one. Tones and绝缘er are also showing fine form.
