Rameau and Goldblatt Star
In the best fought game of the season, the Columbia men and the Williams team competed with the university's for Columbia's chance for an undefeated league championship by upsetting the Mountain Heights quintet, 23 to 28. At Weightsight Hall Sunday night, close counting of both teams was the feature of the game. Columbia kept the Wings out of McNichol's men when they were faced in every variety and often chased over bears that gave them the ball.

Rameau and Goldblatt both scored twenty points each with five goals from the court. McNichol, the tall center of the raiders, was the star player on his team. He started a rally in the closing minutes of the game that made things look doubtful for the Red and Blue when he broke away for several laces.

The Horticultural Society was made up of the New York five in an effort to get a combination that would prove the strongest in the tournament. There was in the later part of November. The event was planned in part to illustrate the progress of the yearlings and to demonstrate the fitting of the horse to the task.

Lecture on Crusades Features Final of Educational Department Series

The last topic of the series on "The Crusades," entitled "The Battle for Jerusalem," was delivered by Dr. A. N. Mather, Scandinavian Professor of History. The lecture was given on the stage of the auditorium and was well attended, with many members of the university community in attendance.

The lecture was well received by the students and was considered to be a valuable contribution to the series on the Crusades, which was planned to be continued in the fall semester.

The lecture was followed by a discussion in which several members of the audience participated.

The next lecture in the series will be on "The Battle for Constantinople," which will be delivered by Dr. N. A. Mather on Wednesday, November 27.

The series on the Crusades will continue in the fall semester, with the final lecture to be given on "The Battle for Damascus," which will be delivered by Dr. A. N. Mather on November 30.

University Completes Installation Of Pennonian Memorial Library

With the hanging of a portrait of Mr. and Mrs. Hon. Benjamin F. Penniman, with the sitting of a tablet, and with the placing of the stele of some 2350 volumes, the University of Pennsylvania has completed the installation in Benham Hall of the Hon. Benjamin Penniman Memorial Library of Education; gift of the University by Dr. James Hadley Penniman, as memorial to his mother.

It is more than a decade ago that Dr. Penniman began to build up at the University this memorial to his mother. The number of the collection was many thousands of volumes he had gathered in the course of years of investigation of the history of education and study of its modern developments.

Year after year Dr. Penniman has added to scoffers the books in his collection. He has found in the possession of the American libraries during a score of years almost none of these during back in the earliest years of the art of printing; books he has obtained through agencies in various parts of the world; books, too, from the press, telling the latest results of investigation or experiments in educational methods.

The University authorities have endeavored to make this contribution to the Pennsylvania library and so to direct that this volume always possessed by the University which deals with educational history, theory, and practice, and by directing that these volumes, and also the other books added to the collection by the University itself, shall be considered part of the Mrs. Benjamin Penniman Memorial Library of Education.

As in Teacher Training

The result is that great collection, doubtless, in the new Benham Hall, the University has added to the University which, itself, his mother, Dr. James Hadley Penniman, the Emperor of the University in the humanities, and the full development of the powers of the mind, with a deep sympathy for others, has supplied to the public and has given to the student, the Penniman Memorial Library.

LACROSSE CANDIDATES WILL PRACTICE ON RIVER FIELD

When the candidates for the University lacrosse team report a week from today, they will no longer go to the Lancaster Avenue Armoury but to the new River Field. The field, which has been in the process of being remodeled for lacrosse, will be finished by the end of this week, Mr. Kilbourn announced Saturday.

It is expected that a great deal more will be accomplished by practicing outdoors, as the coaches have been hampered by poor conditions in the Armoury. This is because the Armoury was very poorly lighted for playing and too small to handle the large number of candidates. All men who are contemplating coming out for lacrosse should be sure to report at the Armoury this week as it is desired that all men will have learned the fundamentals of the game before going outside.

ANOTHER GREAT COMEBACK
Pennsylvania's athletic history is replete with stories of famous comebacks by teams which carried the Red and Blue to victory in spite of overwhelming odds. Accounts of these dramatic deeds are handed down to us from the very beginning of athletics at the University.

During the four years that the present Senior Class has been in the University, there have been several outstanding instances in which Pennsylvania teams have upset the expectations of the "shoppers" in winning important battles.

Among these we might note the memorable Navy football victory in 1922, the success of the 1922 eleven in holding the powerful Cornell machine as a 127 overnight, the triumph over the Princeton Tigers in 1924, and in the past season the first victory that any Pennsylvania football team had ever registered against Yale. These exhibitions of determined courage are all ascribed to the qualities of the undergraduate body which will fall in the future.

University Rifle Team Downs Drexel

Captain Valgenti Scores 294 Out of Possible 300 Points for High Score of Match

Pennsylvania's rifle team continued its winning streak by decisively defeating the Drexel varsity on its home court in a school vs. school match held at the University range last week. The University team scored a total of 2787 out of a possible 3000, an average of 932.0 points. This victory keeps the Red and White rifle team undefeated this season, and gives them a good chance to repeat their feat of last season when they captured the Intercollegiate championships.

The Drexel rifle team is one of the leading contenders for first place in the Eastern League of the National Rifle Association. It defeated Buffalo last week and Buffalo Tech this week, by large scores. Pennsylvania belongs to the Middle Atlantic States Intercollegiate Rifle League, which is also under the supervision of the National Rifle Association. William and Mary, V. P. I., Invicta, Yale, Navy, Georgetown, George Wash-ington, and Maryland are other members of the league.

Captain Valgenti, of Pennsylvania, was high-scoring for both sides, with a score of 294 out of a possible 300, while O'Hara led his team mates with 275 points. Six men on each team shot their targets in the three positions, prone, kneeling, and standing; but only the five highest scores were entered in the final count. It is important to note that Valley, of Pennsylvania, was the University's highest individual scorer.

In an exciting meet with Mercersburg Academy at Westmount last Saturday, the Freshmen gym team won victories by the score of 25 to 19. The outcome of the match was in doubt until the third quarter, when the last one on the program had been finished.

Taylor of the Freshmen team was the individual star, tying for first in tumbling, and second in the parallel bars and the horizontal bar. Zook was the outstanding man on the Freshmen's team. Hickey is expected to send a strong team to the Freshmen's intercollegiate meet which will be held in Westmount Hall on March 26.

Princeton Awards Honor

The M. Taylor Fiske Honor Prize for 1926 has been awarded to Richard Roberts Query, a Princeton senior. This prize is the highest honor that the university can confer on any undergraduate and goes to the member of the senior class who most closely manifests "excellent scholarship, manly qualities, and effective support for the best interests of Princeton University."
