COACHES

Intensive Work to Begin for Opening Meet Against Navy, May 3, on Anglesea Course

CACHES OBTAIN NEW EQUIPMENT

At the last meeting of the Board of Governors, when the new season's regulations were adopted, the Coaches were instructed to buy as much of their own equipment as possible. As a result, several Coaches have now purchased new equipment, including a large number of new boats and oars. The new equipment is expected to improve the performance of the teams in the upcoming season.

PUNCH BOWL. Appearing Friday, Devotes Feature Issue Entirely to Mask and Wig

As the feature issue of the year, the Punch Bowl will be devoted, in whole or in part, to the Mask and Wig Society. This is the first time in many years that the Punch Bowl has devoted an entire issue to a single society, and the Coaches have been very pleased with the results. The Punch Bowl will be published on Friday, April 2, and will be available for sale to the public at the following price:

- Single copy: 25 cents
- Subscription: 1 dollar per year

A variety of articles will be featured in the issue, including a special report on the activities of the Mask and Wig Society, interviews with members of the society, and articles on the history and traditions of the society. The issue will also feature a special section on the Mask and Wig Society's upcoming performance, "A Sale and a Sailor," at the Philadelphia Opera House on April 15.

The custom of setting the Ivy Stone is a remarkable tradition which has lasted for 120 years. The stone is set on the east side of the campus, and is one of the few things that the students do themselves. The stone is set by the seniors of each class, and is usually designed by an artist chosen by the class. The stone is usually a representation of some important event in the history of the college, or some symbol of the spirit of the class.

Driving Easter-Making night, Philadelphians will be presented with a number of the most successful plays of the current season. Very few who are familiar with Philadelphia's successes will be kept from some time to come in attending all these productions.

Michael Arlen's "The Green Hat" will be presented at the Lyric Theatre, Monday, April 3 by A. H. Wood, with Miss Katherine Cornell, who plays the leading part of Miss March. The New York cast will consist of Miss Cornell in the presentational, and will include Margaret Gilmore, Louis Howard, Gordon Ahl, Eugene Powers and a number of other famous actors and actresses.

"The Green Hat" has been by far the best loved of Michael Arlen's five books, and the play has made from its own merit in one of the greatest theatrical successes of several seasons. It is the story of an extraordinary girl and represents perhaps as brilliant a cross-section of modern life as has been presented on the stage.

"A Great Little City," starring Joe Law Co. Jr., will be shown at the Adelphi Theatre beginning April 5. The comedy was written by William McKeen and is staged by Joe Laurin, the leading character. He has gathered about him a cast of notable artists, including George Bryan, Violet Dean and Dorothy Blackburn.

The cast is well known in this city for his comedy parts in "The Gingham Girl," "Six Cylinder Laws," and "Tin Pan Mornings." He also played the leading part in "Plain Jane," which was presented here last Easter.

Subsequently to its opening performance in New York, "Jump High" will be shown for the first time in this city April 7. The cast and direction is by William McKeen, the leading character. He has gathered about him a cast of notable artists, including George Bryan, Violet Dean and Dorothy Blackburn.

The cast is well known in this city for his comedy parts in "The Gingham Girl," "Six Cylinder Laws," and "Tin Pan Mornings." He also played the leading part in "Plain Jane," which was presented here last Easter.

The cast includes Charles Higgins, last seen in Boston's Miller's, George Bley, who has just joined as the principal comedian of the Greenwich Village Players; Emma Grist, leading character in "Pops," and Ann Milner, who played the principal role in "Sky High."

"No, No, Nanette," will play a return engagement at the Garrick Theatre beginning Easter Sunday night. The image since it left here last summer, has traveled through many of the larger cities of the country and returns to this city as one of the best musical comedies of the year.

The cast of the production includes some of the most famous characters on the stage with Osa Massen, Frank Criss, Julia Sanderson and Franklin Bria playing the leading roles. The comedy has remained here for nearly four months just as it was. The show, which has just returned from a trip through the middle west, has been very successful in every performance and is reported to be one of the best above produced by the Club in many years.

YALE WILL OPEN NEW GOLF LINKS APRIL 13

Course Will Be One of Best in America - winds Membership Extended to Faculty and Students

BERNARD THOMSON AIDS AS COACH

In a statement recently issued by the Athletic Association of Yale University, the new Yale golf course, being constructed on the Bay Tomato General Trust, will be formally opened on or about April 13. Celebrated golfers and faculty members may have the privilege of playing the course for a small trifling charge.

The course will be one of the finest in America, and a clubhouse to contain lockers, showers and ample accommodations for all members is under construction. William E. Perkins, Jr., the celebrated put out of the world, announced that while the greens would be in perfect condition for the opening, the fairways, which were just recently seeded, will not be completed until later in the spring.

The new course was designed by the late Seth W. Raynor, one of the foremost golf architects of the country, and the excellence of the course lies in the fact that Mr. Raynor's technique has made the course one of the most difficult in that section of the country.

Bernard Thomson has been engaged by Yale to act as the professional of the club, and in reality is one of the most popular and respected men in the sports world. He will act in the capacity of coach of the golf team and will instruct for any students who desire instruction. Sunday play will be permitted and the memberships are payable now. Only those men who have membership cards will be allowed the privileges of the club. This new course marks the first college course in the country, and the success of the enterprise will be carefully watched by other universities.

CREWWEI WILL WORK OUT DURING EASTER VACATION
