UNDERGRADUATES GATHER AT ELEVENTH ANNUAL HEY DAY CELEBRATION, MAY 21

CHRISTIAN ORGANIZATIONS HOLD COMBINED MEETING

Installation of Officers, Discussion of Policies and Reading of Reports

ALUMNI SOCIETIES TO STAGE REUNION

Medical School Will Be Represented Annual Gathering on June 12

For the first time in years, the Alumni Society of the Medical School plans to stage an annual reunion on June 12. The organization of the society is a group of alumni who are graduates of the University of Pennsylvania. The alumni society is responsible for keeping in touch with former students of the University and for maintaining contact with them after graduation. This reunion is an opportunity for alumni to come together and reminisce about their time at the University and share news about their current lives. The alumni society also uses this event to discuss important issues and decisions affecting the medical school and its alumni. The reunion is an important occasion for alumni to connect with one another and to celebrate their shared experiences and achievements.

UNIVERSITY BAND MAKES RECORD OF FIVE SONGS

Students Desiring Tryouts for Positions in New Band to Be Successful in Sign Up at Band Office

JUNIOR BAND IS NEW FEATURE

Five songs performed by the University Band and recorded by the Victor Talking Machine Company on June 12 at the Holiday Hotel will be made available to the public. The songs will be released on record and can be purchased at local record stores. This is an exciting development for the University Band, as it marks the first time that the band has recorded its music. The songs feature a variety of musical styles and themes, reflecting the diversity of the University Band's repertoire. The release of these recordings will provide an opportunity for the University Band to share its music with a wider audience and to showcase the talent and skills of its members.

CATHOLIC FEDERATION CONVENSES IN JULY

Cooperating with the Philadelphia chapter of the Pennsylvania Catholic Federation, the annual convention of the National Catholic Federation will be held on July 4. The convention will provide an opportunity for Catholic leaders and members to come together and discuss important issues affecting the Catholic community. The convention will include a variety of sessions, including workshops, discussions, and keynote speeches. The convention is an important event for Catholic leaders and members to come together and collaborate on issues of common concern.

RACQUET WIELDERS ENGAGE COLGATE

Tennis Team Seeks Third Consecutive Win in Match with Maroon

After their triumphs at the expense of Maryland and the strong M. J. T. team last week, the Pennsylvania racquet wavers will attempt to annex their third consecutive victory in the unkindly climate of the Colgate field courts on Thursday. As he has been conducting invigilating games, these three men have added the Red and Blue players to display a much improved game, Pennsylvania having been added to the list of the Colgate. The two leading men in the race for the University Band's new feature, the junior band, will be featured in this event. The junior band, which is an annual event, will be expanded this year to include a larger number of students. The inclusion of the junior band will provide an opportunity for students to participate in musical activities and to showcase their talents.

DARMSMEN PREPARE FOR TRIANGULAR REGATTA

Varney, Jay Ves and Freshman Crew Meet Harvard and M. I. T. Eight on Charles River Saturday

The triangular regatta, which is an annual event, will take place on the Charles River and will feature three competitive teams: the Pennsylvania varsity crew, Harvard, and M.I.T. Crews from these three institutions will race against each other, showcasing their skills and competitive spirit. The triangular regatta is an exciting event that brings together some of the best rowing teams from the region and provides a thrilling competition for spectators. The regatta is an opportunity for the teams to demonstrate their abilities, and for fans to enjoy a day of intense racing and sportsmanship.
In West Phls.
was _...anal these we've been bluntly

DENTAL INSTRUMENTS
You Will Find

One of the famous "FLEET" of the Line. All outside well-balanced meals. Good fellowship—Congenial company.

For reservations and detailed information apply to your College or University

STUDENT SOUTH AMERICAN TOURS
18 Broadway
CORNFUL RECEIVES GIFT FOR NEW WAR MEMORIAL

$5,000 Donated for Erection of Room in Institute of Science System Now Being Erected

CLOISTER TO CONNECT BUILDINGS

Cornell has lately been given $5,000 for the erection of a new memorial in honor of the late and twenty Cornell undergraduates who were killed in action during the World War. This memorial fund will be used to construct a room in one of the Cornell structures which are now being erected as part of the Dormitory System. These memorial rooms, connected by a cloister, will be theed by the remaining members of the new men's living quarters which were begun several years ago, and were made possible by the gift of George F. Baker, chairman of the board of directors of the First National Bank of New York. Two additional buildings have been covered in the group in memory of the late George C. Bush, at one time a member of the board of trustees of the institution. It was largely through Mr. Bush's efforts that the architecture was improved in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the durational at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system. When completed, these buildings will accommodate 1,000 students and will be the most beautiful edifices in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the dormitory at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system.

When completed, these buildings will accommodate 1,000 students and will be the most beautiful edifices in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the dormitory at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system.

When completed, these buildings will accommodate 1,000 students and will be the most beautiful edifices in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the dormitory at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system.

When completed, these buildings will accommodate 1,000 students and will be the most beautiful edifices in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the dormitory at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system.

When completed, these buildings will accommodate 1,000 students and will be the most beautiful edifices in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the dormitory at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system.

When completed, these buildings will accommodate 1,000 students and will be the most beautiful edifices in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the dormitory at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system.

When completed, these buildings will accommodate 1,000 students and will be the most beautiful edifices in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the dormitory at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system.

When completed, these buildings will accommodate 1,000 students and will be the most beautiful edifices in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the dormitory at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system.

When completed, these buildings will accommodate 1,000 students and will be the most beautiful edifices in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the dormitory at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system.

When completed, these buildings will accommodate 1,000 students and will be the most beautiful edifices in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the dormitory at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system.

When completed, these buildings will accommodate 1,000 students and will be the most beautiful edifices in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the dormitory at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system.

When completed, these buildings will accommodate 1,000 students and will be the most beautiful edifices in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the dormitory at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system.

When completed, these buildings will accommodate 1,000 students and will be the most beautiful edifices in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the dormitory at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system.

When completed, these buildings will accommodate 1,000 students and will be the most beautiful edifices in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the dormitory at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system.

When completed, these buildings will accommodate 1,000 students and will be the most beautiful edifices in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the dormitory at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system.

When completed, these buildings will accommodate 1,000 students and will be the most beautiful edifices in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the dormitory at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system.

When completed, these buildings will accommodate 1,000 students and will be the most beautiful edifices in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the dormitory at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system.

When completed, these buildings will accommodate 1,000 students and will be the most beautiful edifices in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the dormitory at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system.

When completed, these buildings will accommodate 1,000 students and will be the most beautiful edifices in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the dormitory at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system.

When completed, these buildings will accommodate 1,000 students and will be the most beautiful edifices in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the dormitory at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system.

When completed, these buildings will accommodate 1,000 students and will be the most beautiful edifices in the Cornell campus. The type of architecture in a modern version of English Gothic, and is similar to that of the dormitory at Princeton. The original plan, however, did not contemplate the placing of the towers by the cloister, which will contain the memorial tablets to be erected in the group in memory of the new men's living quarters which will be used in the dormitory system.
The committee, after due deliberation, has decided to award the hands-down prize to the Advertising Department, as the Apollo department who found the Pole closed and could not vote, after all.

Note: The Argus have presented Eddie Bemiller with a class of editor, it is expected that he will be a more perfect folder than ever.

We are informed that college students will have an opportunity to inspect the final examination papers.

Question:

When will the final examination papers be available?

Well, Jack Peckford and Marilyn Millier have decided to separate temporarily. The most interesting thing about the whole affair is not in the fact that Marilyn still seems to keep that schoolgirl competition.

We notice that Miss Elizabeth Evans, of Baltimore, has applied for England, where she and her dog will attempt to see the English Thames. We intended to enter Wool and West in this competition, but they insisted on waiting until after final exams.

Of course, we have never seen Mike London play.

How about another poem?

TROILOE

He gave me now with outstretched hand. His manner is so calm and bland. His air is dignified and grand—

He gave me now with outstretched hand. I cannot learn—much to my woe—

The waiter will not let me go.

BOY PLAYS UKE AS HOUSE BURNS—headline.

Which goes to show what this jive age is doing to ancient traditions.

The day, so to speak, has been made for us. We can answer forth and listen to the election returns without a pause, one of the column's faithful listeners has noticed that King Solomon has never been a columnist. More than that, as everybody knows, he had a thousand wives. We can, at least, regard his journalistic achievements.

MAC, with Bue, Irwin and Wendy singing box.

They join before they graduate, admission can be offered with such bad taste that if they went under after graduation. If any seniors are interested, I shall be glad to see them at my office in Room 6, Houston Hall any time.

Mr. A. L. Herot, chairman of the committee of measures of the club is at the University yesterday and informed a number of members of the graduating class and the faculty and was successful in securing a number of memberships.

I shall appreciate it if you will permit this letter to appear in your column.

Very truly yours,

EDWARD W. MADELEI.

---

INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY

It has become necessary, because of the general apathy shown by the majority of students, to postpone another important election. On Monday the members of the Senior Class, balloted for the office of permanent president, while the juniors were given an opportunity to select the final member to balance the majority.

The postponement of elections because of an evident lack of interest is becoming chronic. This year it has been paralleled by several opportunities given the students to select the final member to the club, another major office at the University.

JOSEPH PODUOR

QUESTION

When will the final examination papers be available?

Well, Jack Peckford and Marilyn Millier have decided to separate temporarily. The most interesting thing about the whole affair is not in the fact that Marilyn still seems to keep that schoolgirl competition.

We notice that Miss Elizabeth Evans, of Baltimore, has applied for England, where she and her dog will attempt to see the English Thames. We intended to enter Wool and West in this competition, but they insisted on waiting until after final exams.

Of course, we have never seen Mike London play.

How about another poem?

TROILOE

He gave me now with outstretched hand. His manner is so calm and bland. His air is dignified and grand—

He gave me now with outstretched hand. I cannot learn—much to my woe—

The waiter will not let me go.

BOY PLAYS UKE AS HOUSE BURNS—headline.

Which goes to show what this jive age is doing to ancient traditions.

The day, so to speak, has been made for us. We can answer forth and listen to the election returns without a pause, one of the column’s faithful listeners has noticed that King Solomon has never been a columnist. More than that, as everybody knows, he had a thousand wives. We can, at least, regard his journalistic achievements.

MAC, with Bue, Irwin and Wendy singing box.

They join before they graduate, admission can be offered with such bad taste that if they went under after graduation. If any seniors are interested, I shall be glad to see them at my office in Room 6, Houston Hall any time.

Mr. A. L. Herot, chairman of the committee of measures of the club is at the University yesterday and informed a number of members of the graduating class and the faculty and was successful in securing a number of memberships.

I shall appreciate it if you will permit this letter to appear in your column.

Very truly yours,

EDWARD W. MADELEI.
These four Fundamentals must influence the choosing of a career

The Man

While selling experience would obviously be of some value, lack of it would not lessen the bigness of this opportunity.

To successfully sell life insurance a man must first of all be human—an average man interested in people and progress. He must believe in the doctrine of the right to life insurance. He must influence the choosing of a career. He must be as disinterested as he would be in any other endeavor. He is particularly fortunate if he has that precious something in his manner that brings him the confidence of others. A man who is intelligent, not brilliant. A man who can make friendships and hold them. He realizes that life insurance is a sure protection for the family and against old age dependency.

The Work

INSURANCE is a business dedicated to the welfare, contentment and progress of individuals, communities and nations. A calling where your efforts bring a double reward of happiness bestowed and material gain received—a career of profitable service.

The insurance salesman is actually in business for himself, although he needs no capital to start. His work is dignified, healthful, pleasant. He punches no time clock—he is not the sort that needs to rub elbows continuously with people of all ranks, and enjoys it. The work is called upon to travel. The opportunities in his own community are innumerable. His work is interesting, wide in scope, broadening in its contacts, thoroughly satisfying.

The Opportunity

NEVER before has the public been so conscious of its needs for adequate insurance protection and dependable insurance advice. By being able to offer his clients sound and complete security—the protection best suited to their needs—the Aetna is at an enviable position. His work is exceptionally profitable. A completed sale brings a generous commission and a liberal renewal commission for several years.

Aetna representatives all over the country have built up remunerative businesses in a short time, and with no preliminary knowledge of life insurance. The Aetna agent is successful. He is in direct proportion to his ambition, his industry, and his enthusiasm.

The Company

THE Aetna Life Insurance Company has grown steadily and carefully during its seventy-six years. Today it is the greatest organization of its kind in the world, nationally known and respected, not only for the prompt and full payment of all honest claims, but also for the care and attention it gives to its policyholders.

The extraordinary success of the Aetna Life salesman is in large part attributable to the backing afforded him by his company. This includes a thorough preliminary training in life insurance, the closest cooperation in helping to solve his clients' problems. The support of extensive national and local advertising and printed material, and the prestige of the strongest multiple line insurance organization in the world.

The strongest organization of its kind in the world now offers you an opportunity to lay the corner-stone of a real career

F YOU have sufficient vision to investigate thoroughly the opportunity to lay the cornerstone of a real career, the Aetna Life Insurance Company will promptly send you a copy of "A MESSAGE TO EARNEST MEN." Just tear off the coupon at the right and mail now.

W. R. HARPER, General Agent

AETNA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

710-28 WIDENER BUILDING, PHILADELPHIA

The PENNSYLVANIAN
GARSMEN PREPARE FOR TRIANGULAR REGATTA

Continued from Page One

The Luxenberg Sack

The Luxenberg Sack-bush has won its wide- spreading popularity among college men through smart, clean, modern merchandise.

next showing at

PENN DRUG CO.
3701 Woodland Ave.
Wednesday, May 25

NaLUXENBERG & Bro.
17 Union Square, New York
 Bounds the 9 Ct. Bu.

TROUSERS TO MATCH

For College and City Wear

Trousers Matching Co.
905 Walton St., Near Main

FLOWERS

SPECIAL TO PENN STUDENTS

Concaves for All Dances

At Fraternity Decorations

THE COLONIAL

FLORIST CO.
N. E. COR. 52nd & LOCUST

PHILADELPHIA

CHRISTIAN ORGANIZATIONS

HOLD COMBINED MEETING

Continued from Page One

committee of business men to raise funds; Mrs. Charles Hall, director of the Community Center; Mrs. Percy Stoback, of the University Service Club of Women; and members of the faculty, including W. S. Ball, C. S. Beatty, Robert Collinson, William Curtis, Hesse Hall, Philip Debs, H. W. Fosler, Jr., A. Greenband, William Marison, R. Irwin, John M. Kennedy, Foster Mihaloff, William Bliss, J. Spigel, Charles Stewart, George Tisser and Walter Wolfe.

JEWELRY REPAIRING

Engraving

HALF-CUTS COUNT UP WHY BE LATE FOR CLASS

Watch Repairing

ROGER F. PRICE

Watchmaker

1907 Woodland Ave.
Above the Second Floor
Campus Christian

THE POOR NUT with

Elliott Nugent

and the Entire Original Cast

One jewel of a show from the same team that killed the Tar's ardor. Special $1.50 Wed. Matinee.

University Band Makes

Record of Five Songs

Continued from Page One

To be composed of approximately seventy-five men. This group will be drawn from the incoming freshmen and the upper-classmen who fail to make the Senior Band this spring. At any time during the boating season, men on the Junior Band whose performances merit special award will be promoted to the regular Band by Ralph Vogel, musical director. The purpose of this organization is to develop for the Senior Band those men who have not had much playing experience. Each band will have uniforms and both will appear at the intercollegiate football games.

Even in the days of Bunion when "they ain't no rules", and bring your buggy slippa along, was the siren call of the crew boat, the products of Anheuser-Busch were nationally known to good fellows.

And now, when buggy slippa are out of date as boys' skirts and knee-breeches.

BUSCH PALE DRY

is the favored drink of college men because, like the college man, Busch Pale Dry is a good man everywhere and every time.

Anheuser-Busch St. Louis

ROBINSON SUPPLY CO., INC.

Distributors

D. H. Kresge

D. H. KRESGE

Spring and Summer

REGROUPING SALE

OF $75, $80 and $85

SACK SUITINGS

Now $65

MADE TO MEASURE AND MADE TO FIT

THIS SALE OFFERS A GREAT OPPORTUNITY TO PURCHASE EXTRAVAGANTLY HIGH QUALITY MERCHANDISE AT VERY MODERATE PRICES

ACCURACY QUALITY SERVICE

D. H. KRESGE

PHILA., PA.

3715 SPRUCE ST.

EXCLUSIVE TAILORS FOR COLLEGE MEN SINCE 1896

ON THE CAMPUS FOR SERVICE