Undergraduate Council Announces Rules of Contest of Election—Polls Open from 10 to 4

MARSHELLES—CANES SELECTED

With the massive spirit rush for 무 breach, indications point to a large turnout of juniors at the 2926 class elections, so the polls will open from 10 to 4 in Alumni Hall. Final arrangements for the polling were completed at the undergraduate council meeting last evening in the Mazz and Witztum.

Edward S. Irish and E. Distin Stewart, have been selected president of the Undergraduate Council, and the second set of candidates for the Class of 1927 have been announced.

Juniors, coasting in from the Class of 1926, will be the selection of the Class of 1927.

Low Students Choose Officers

Four graduates of the University who went out the spring of 1926 were recently selected by the first-year men as advisors to the class of 1927. Howard Zieg, Long, A. C. 42, was chosen as president for next year, and Edward J. Bowles, Oliphant, was chosen as treasurer.

Life Students Choose Officers

Senior men were granted the right to chose class officers for the Class of 1927. The poll will open in Alumni Hall on Monday and will run until Wednesday afternoon.

New poll to be held in Alumni Hall today.

Juniors Ballot Today

The seniors' spirit committee is composed of 15 members, selected from the senior class, and will be charged with the supervision of all the activities of the spirit committee.
Today the Juniors will choose the men who will pilot the Floats this year. The men who are elected and the number in which they are chosen will show to a great extent the amount and the kind of work the Juniors feel the members of the Class of 1938 possess.

The shoulders of the men who are elected to fill the five executive offices will affect all the responsibility of the various activities of the Junior Class. They will guide the destinies of a Mass through what may be a big year only in the annals of 1936 but also in those of the University. Junior Week and all its attending problems and responsibilities will entirely in their hands. The conduct of Junior Week may reflect either credit or discredit on the University and honor or dishonor upon the names which it holds. Success or failure in the undertaking is absolutely dependent upon the ability and merit of the men at the head of the class. For this reason, if for no other, the Pennsylvania is looking to you. The Juniors, to make sure that men are elected who are worthy and able to fulfill their duties in such a manner that the class and University may both be better for their efforts.

There is little to be said about the method of selecting these officers. A whole-hearted interest in the election is praiseworthy in every individual member of the class. However, if this is carried too far and some so-called "smart politicking" endeavor to push a candidate through by means which are not entirely fair and stand above the class is bound to suffer. Not only is this true, but the Pennsylvania Congress, which conducts the elections, will stand ready to stop it and punish any individuals who are in any way implicated in such a practice.

Today there is a chance to show your spirit and sportsmanship in a definite and concrete way. In the election to day get out and do your part. Vote for the men whom you feel are worthy, fair, and have the ability so as to make a creditable showing in the election, in the variety of duties of your class. Effect the best but show all elect above it in an honorable and orderly manner.

Life is, after all, one big game. They come and go at their own free will. That which is today. disappears on the tomorrow, and the course of the present is the fram of the future.

And so it is with this part University of ages. Even here there is no evil and there is no disappointment. With, indeed, is the only of the sun shone working on the life of the low underclass, close to Honors Hall. The members of the Class of 1930 won election yesterday to find that their vote, won, and secure campaign was given one—shocker in this election. The shock has gone. But there will be other shocks. Somewhere in the future there will be another one. They come and go at their own free will. That which is today disappears on the tomorrow, and the course of the present is the frame of the future.
