ON TO ILLINOIS

FRATERNITY TENNIS TEAMS PLAY TODAY

First Round of Interfraternity Tourney will begin at 2:30 o'clock.

In conjunction with the finale of the Interfraternity tournament which will be played off this afternoon when Illinois and Purdue will meet, the interfraternity tennis tournament will also be played in intercollegiate competition.

The interfraternity tourney is the first of a series of events to be held at Penn State and, in addition to the tourney, the games, with the exception of the women's events, will be played off on the courts of the various clubs.

Candidates will be met at Office of Athletic Council, Administration Bldg., 3 and 4.

GAMES ON VARSITY SCHEDULE

Basketball, one of the University's major sports, will have its initial practice sessions on the first day of November. In accordance with custom, the opening game will be played in the early part of the season, in order to be able to handle the team more easily when the squad reports for practice.

The opening game will be a hard one, and it is hoped that the group who turn out this year will be able to give a show that is worthy of the Penn State name.

The schedule this season will include matches with some of the finest in the country. Twenty-three matches have been arranged for the Varsity squad, none of which are expected to take place at the new gymnasium now under construction. Twenty-three matches have been arranged for the Varsity squad, none of which are expected to take place at the new gymnasium now under construction.

Beside the Varsity aggression, there will be all that goes on the field of play, and the introduction of a new assistant manager will be the chief event.

The annual fall basketball tournament will be played off at the University on the 15th of this month. This tournament will include each of the teams that took part in the fall tournament, and each team will have its own end of the tournament. The tournament will be played off in a final.

BIRD OF THE HOGS IS CROWNED

The Hog is the University's mascot, and in the fall tournament, the Hog will be crowned as the champion of the University. The Hog will be crowned as the champion of the University. The Hog will be crowned as the champion of the University.

SLOW PLAYERS REMAINED A HOG

This is a result of the slow play of the team, who were not able to make a pass at the Hog. The Hog remained and played off the play of the team.

The Hog was well pleased with the number of entries and started the game off with a view of making the tournament a success.

A Hog was also crowned as the champion of the University. The Hog was crowned as the champion of the University. The Hog was crowned as the champion of the University.

Evidently the loss of Captain Bond, Nicole, Buns and Donner of the 1929 forward line, is being keenly felt by Coach Stewart, of Pennsylvania's eleven. After losing to Creighton & C. last week, the Red and Blue made it two straight by losing to Mon réalité on River Field Saturday.

While Shaffer, Goodell, Lingard, Bevington, and Acting Captain Matthews, of the Jay Jays, really to step into the game in 1927, the prospects could be a good deal worse. The experience gained by the other seven members of the upper eleven should make them an excellent nucleus around which to build winning combination.

By the way, the Junior Varsity, with which the majority of these prospective candidates are playing, looks like a clever aggregation. Last week they administered a beating to the Lafayette College Varsity, while Saturday the jay was too hot for the young Germans. Cricket Club, Runnymede, by a 2-0 count.

Friday afternoon on River Field this same Reserve combination will tackle the Varsity eleven from Delaware College. The next day they will stack up against Mon realtà on the same site.

On Wednesday, in the opening game of the Freshman schedule, the Northeast High School eleven played rings around the yearlings and tailed nine goals to 0 for the first year team. It must not be remembered that this was the first time that the eleven Freshmen played together as a regular unit.

Acting Captain Goodell of the yearlings holds down the center halfback post on our team and is screening with the Jay Jays at right halfback. His prompt advent will add to win probability, and will make a good bid for the Varsity eleven in 1927.

It seems that every year a man comes from the Freshman eleven to the following continuation. Last year it was Miller, captain and center halfback of the 1929 team. He is now holding down the inside right post on the Varsity. The captain of 1927 was West, who is playing his second season at first team right half back.

It would be rather cold-blooded to omit his column without mentioning the fact that the University Fourth Team rose to great heights to defeat Germania C's second team by a one to nothing count. Campbell, at rover forward, is a Pennsylvanian.

Next Saturday the soccer classic of the 1928 season will be played on River Field when Penn State comes here to tackle the Red and Blue. Comparative reviews would lead us to believe that the Varsity will emerge victorious, because of the fact that while they defeated Albion, 4-2, the Nittany boilers lost to the railroad crew by the score of 3-2.

Coach Crowley Begins Work of Developing Capable Substitutes for Remaining Games

PLAY PENNSYLVANIA NOVEMBER 11

Head Coach Crowley Owning of College University declared that the defeat at the hands of Ohio State last Saturday was mainly due to the lack of substituted substitution and that he intended to rectify this mistake before the next three major games.

Consequently he is giving all members of the "B" and "C" teams a chance with the Varsity to show their worth. The latter position are also anticipating the powerful combinations the "Lions" are to meet and are preparing for them. Cornell will be the first of the three and will be played on Euler Field, October 26th, Pennsylvania at Philadelphia on November 5th and Runnymede at the Polo Grounds Thanksgiving day will finish the series.

E. F. Lambert, stroke of last year's championship Freshman Crew, is among those who have shown up best in recent practices. He has been playing center field, having more than the required speed and weighting as much as the average lineman. Adler, who has been the head of the George French, center, was placed in a guard position and showed that he should be considered for a Varsity berth.

The "A" team was given a light work out yesterday, which consisted mainly of oarsmanship, passing and signal drill. Starting today the oars are to point for the Cornell game and hard work is scheduled for the next two days. The Freshman team has been called into action for the remainder of the week and will encourage the varsity regularly.

The Council on Athletics has extended till Tuesday the period in which tickets can be bought for the special train to Illinois. The response to the sales of tickets for the special train has been good but far below expectations. There is charge at the Council on Athletics are still anxious to re- vise the names of any who plan to make the trip. However, the time is limited and those planning to do so should signify their intentions as soon as possible.

Pennsylvania must have a cheering section at the Illinois game. Not enough to make Hargrave Field a sea of blue and white, which will be inconceivable. The very fact that a special train of several hundred undergraduates is arrangeyng to come to Urbana to show the mid-west the kind of loyalty that Pennsylvania men have for their球队.

The Pennsylvania-Illinois game will be one of the biggest basketball battles of the year. Illinois has a great team and is doing everything possible to win. They have set their heart on winning the game and are working day and night with this end in view.

Pennsylvania can win its western foe. However, the team needs support. There will be hundreds of loyal alumni present but what is needed most of all is a group of those men who are to carry the Red and Blue Into the music of the game. GRIDIRON Gossip

Having proved his scoring power to the extent of staking up 146 points against 21 and M. J. Tumulty, Pennsylvania College and William's Pennsylvania take forward the truly matchless part of their season. Illinois, Penn State, Columbia and Cornell are four teams that make, with proper separation, and Lord Tumulty's men will have no real foe until Thanksgiving night.

The pugnacious fans were at their best last Saturday. How true up Yale's and after a flood victory over the Elks, Harvard triumphed fortunately, 36 to 12, and Lehigh held Princeton. A 7-0 decision won the game.

The world's greatest bent is in the ability of Midshipmen at the Naval Academy, to Russell Lloyd. This substitute and unlimited the sport of American games when he personally defeated Colgate, 15 to 7, in the last minute of play Saturday. Colgate was leading, 7 to 6, and was in position of the bell of a fall from Navy's gain, when his fullback fumbled as he was going over the line. Lloyd picked up the fumble, field and made 60 yards for the touchdown that put the Midshipmen in control of the play. The 200-pounder that must have been! Lloyd will play on Franklin Field next year when Navy visits Pennsylvania.

North Irene and Matthew, two of the century's college girls, accompanied their underclassmen north. Middlesex took a 5-0 fall out of Elizabeth's, Pennsylvania's next opponent, while Ephrata Black's "Five Males" forwarded their way to 8-0.

Over the last while line unimpaired. Just after the first quarter ended Bell dropped from the game, giving a new stamp of authority to the line. Fisher was the best of the backs, an important factor to the game.

Pennsylvania's offensive were interesting in both of the other two contests played Saturday. A goal in each half proved the necessary margin to the Red in a final goal of the game. Taking the ball hard from the middle of the field, he again cut for the Pennsylvania goal and met nothing but an empty word. Victory followed.
