BISHOP E. H. HUGHES RE-OPENS ASBURY CHURCH AT TOMMOROW’S SERVICES

United Church Caravan to Deliver First Service at Campus Methodist—Episcopal Church

CHURCH IN EXISTENCE SINCE 1827

Indications Ears to Mark Completion of Extensive Remodeling and Extension Program

In addition to the Methodist Episcopal Church, which B. M. Bishop Edwin Holt began last year, the present church building, having held its present office for about a period of eighteen years, has been abandoned by the Methodists.

The first church is a graduate of the Union University, Iowa College, and Western College. In 1855, he became a priest and the same year became a member of a church in New York.

The second church was founded in 1925 by Dr. James A. May, who is now the pastor of the Delta Delta Delta Church in the same city. The third church was founded in 1904 by Dr. H. W. Wilson, who is now the pastor of the Delta Delta Delta Church in the same city.

While acknowledging that the Methodist Episcopal Church is the most important and the most successful of the three churches, it will be noted that there is a great disparity in the relative importance of the churches.

The Methodist Episcopal Church is the oldest and the most successful of the three churches. It has been in existence for about a period of eighteen years, and the number of its members has increased from 1,000 to 5,000.

The United Church, which has been in existence for about a period of eighteen years, has a membership of about 1,000.

The non-denominational church, which has been in existence for about a period of eighteen years, has a membership of about 500.

REDUCE PRICES FOR STUDENTS

Members of the Philadelphia La Scala Grand Opera Company have recently returned from their first trip to the city, which was given in New York last Saturday night. Although one of the greatest theaters in New York, has been long shut down for the production, many application for tickets were refused and it was found that the stage was entirely inadequate for the company which had been selected to take the trip.

In New York, Dr. Feld, who is in charge of this season's "La Scala," which was received very well by a varied audience.

The performance was selected by the management of the La Scala Grand Opera Company in order to provide a substitute for the production of "La Scala." The performance was given in the proscenium, and the audience was receptive to the opera, which was a great success.

The coaches and players expect it. Keep up your pep.

We are so constituted that when anyone promises us something on the condition that we are to refrain from doing something else, we just naturally kick over the traces.

Further pursuit of the Bennett News discloses the interesting information that the names of candidates have been chosen by the Senior class and are "To Be Made public Tomorrow." We suppose the seniors will "toss the dice" until they find one that fits.

On second thought, we might be mistaken about the grace of the materials. Nailsink or foundry might probably be more appropriate, with what colored hair, galoshes, purple stockinets, or overcoats.

It has been suggested that we give due publicity to the fact that there is only one person that can use his hat in a high wind, pursue and refute it without losing his dignity. Our vote, however, goes to the debonair individual who always disappears from a catchnet like a gentle swallow snatched from the ephemeral life and pays the bill without a struggle.

We mourn the sad fate of the student who grew as thin from eating at the campus restaurant that he fell through a hole in the performed seat of a chair and choked himself to death.

It seems that an Indian woman is being her husband before the marriage is completed. She used to be a victim of sleeping sickness. She has tried to awaken him every time she wanted to argue with him.

A West Pointer, we are told, has captured the fair Priscilla Keener. Himself henceforth America's famous singer. He told her to awaken him every time she wanted to argue with him.

There's a style to this last that has universal appeal.

No man-power

Four millions of the best man-power of Europe perished in the Napoléonic conquests. Military conquest is non-creative, while industry is always creative.

In the last ten years one American manufacturer—the General Electric Company—has created machines having a man-power forty times as great as that of all the lives lost in the Napoléonic wars.

In the years to come, when the college men and women of today are at the helm of industry and of the home, it will be realized more and more that human energy is too valuable to be wasted, and that electricity can do the work better at lower cost.
