Curator of University Museum Doubts Whether Recent Excavations Are Very Ancient

ARCHAEOLOGISTS DIFFER ON DATE

American archeological circles have heard a word of definite material in the discovery recently of an ancient tablet that led to excavations disclosing the remains of peculiar buildings near Ysance, France. Some archeologists believe, however, that Western civilization preceded that of the east by about 2000 years.

Dr. Louis Leclerc, an archeologist of our own city, has been called at the choice of students of archeology who are endeavoring to prove that Western civilization is of much older age than the East. He has a plaque of the tablet and has made a careful study of the inscriptions on it.

The figure used in representation of animals, he says, appears to be of early Greek or Phoenician origin, and his opinion that the oldest tablet could be as early as 3000 B.C. and it may be of an even more ancient date in future.

Michael I. Rostovtzeff, professor of ancient history and classical archeology at Yale University, declared at New Haven that if the age of excavated remains near Ysance was to be accepted, the question of the cultural independence of the West and the priority of the currents to date would be about 2000 years, as compared with the East.

Dr. Leclerc does not think that this will be proved. Though he admits that some very ancient discoveries have been made, he believes that there are cases, like earlier findings, which will be found to be of a more recent date than the propositions of Western civilization are willing to admit at present.

Dr. Leclerc recently returned from the East, where he accompanied the expedition of the University Museum. He has been engaged in this work as the curator of the Museum.

ART ASSOCIATION PLANS
RESEARCH ON OLD SPAIN

Plans have been formulated for the establishment of a Spanish research committee of the College Art Association to encourage and guide research in Spanish art and archaeology and initiate an extensive series of authoritative publications dealing with these lines. According to Professor John Napier of New York University, and President of the association, the plan is similar to that of the American Foundation which has been made for some time with the East, but the funds will be devoted to scholars and students and the books which they will require.

Archeologists have been made for the plan to go into immediate effect with Professor W. K. Cook, Regents Professor of the College Art Association, at the head. Mr. Cook is a member of the Faculty of Fine Arts at New York University and university taught in that department at Harvard University where he was graduated. For the past few years he has been spending a considerable part of his time on art and has published much literature on his own researches in Spanish art.

Three centers have been chosen for the work in Spain, Madrid, Cordoba, and Valencia, each of which is rich in art and archaeology of old Spain. More than 200 photographs in the periodical journals have been brought together during the past year by Dr. Cook and by the late Professor Charles C. Merkey of Princeton University. In the largest and most important collection of scholarly material ever assembled. The work is primarily intended for students who have already taken their general examinations for doctoral degrees and wish to do original research for their thesis.

Happy New Year and all that stuff. Don't you know. We knew you are just tickled to pieces to get back to the dear old routines of classes, dates, designing uniforms, gym-work, alarm clocks, more or less cold fraternity houses, etc. We all missed you, too, our homes were rather bare of the usual hustle and bustle of the Unexplored Village (not New Jersey) we stayed away and, in turn, were tickled to pieces to get back again for the vacation.

At the Palestra on Saturday it would have been more comfortable if they had opened the skylight to let out the noxious reverberations. In a stadium enclosed by steel barriers, we are aware, we are saved by a few minutes of preparation, for example, as is given when a class discovers that the god isn't there today.

PENN. PENNSYLVANIA TOSSEI WIN THREE VICTORIES

Defeat St. Joseph's, Rochester and Penn State Military College in Holiday Tour.

LOSE TO FAST SYRACUSE TEAM

During the holidays Pennsylvania Basketball team played four contests three of which were fairly serious and one in a defeat. The Red and Blue were defeated St. Joseph's College, University of Rochester and Penn State Military College while they lost to Syracuse.

On December 18 St. Joseph's was conquered by a 52-30 score. The Crimson and Gray tigers scored a big rally in the final period which fell five points short. The crowd at half time was up to 15 in favor of the University quitter and until that time St. Joseph's was hardly in the game. A combination consisting of Captain Davenport and "Joe" Behalf, at forward, "Jingles" Chambers, at center, and "Monty" goldthwait and "Tomm" Magner at the guard positions, appeared to be the fastest five. "Monty" Chamber was the start of the evening scoring five field goals. This game was the last to be held in Wheatman Hall.

Coach Mainella's men journeyed to Syracuse on December 28 only to be defeated by the fast Orange team. This score stood at 21 to 16. "Vie" Hannon of Syracuse was the outstanding player of the game scoring seven goals from the field and four goals from the foul line. Roger Lindsay made six points by shooting two field goals and two foul points. For the Blue and White five Carmody made two field goals while Simon registered six foul points.
