MEMBERS OF FIRST ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION TO RECEIVE VARIETY AWARDS AT "P" DINNER

In recognition of their services fifty years ago, two of the original members of the First Athletic Association of the University were honored last evening by the members of the association. The awards were presented by the officers of the Association, to W. T. Andrews, 76, and W. R. Phillips, 78. The ceremonies were held in the Pennsylvanian, and the dinner was the first ever held by the association in celebration of its golden anniversary.

The proceeds of the dinner will be used to provide funds for the purchase of equipment for the first athletic association.

Penn State's shelf may seem a

Forty-Forty, Lackawanna, Lewis and Matthews, all first-time freshmen, are ranged in basketball. As a result, the catch is having difficulty in finding enough players to warm up the firsts.

Whatever the situation may be in other departments of the game, it appears that the slip will be well formed in the sec-field. With Captain Traupman, Thomas and Deutsch from last year's squad, we have some experienced players.

This should be a banner year for Traupat, but it will be hard for him to be better record. He is a well-rounded player, a natural-born ballplayer, speed-
under the critics who have seen him play.

Now, Traupman, the Street non on the squad, makes an unmatchable lead-off man.
He is a patient hitter, seldom striking at a bad ball, and consequently often gets a base on balls. And with his speed, he is a dangerous man to have on base.

"Here's Traupman showing plenty of ability last year and is fighting hard for a spot on the 1927 crew. He is a hard hitter, and covers lots of ground in the center
field.

Another leading candidate is McNichol,
who started 301 for the Freshman last year. He is slickly, wears his glove so on the right hand, but lefts handed.

Other outfielders who are making strong side for positions on the team are Campbell, Bealaster and Paul Scott. Beal-aster is a lucky hand, batting left-handed and interchange between right-handed and first base. Campbell is well-built and not from the part side. Scott, the chunky second baseman, bats right handed.

"Eddie" McNichol, the fourth mem-

his early training in the game at Allegheny

The Penn Man About The Campus

Seeking a double-chinned white-haired junkie like me can be a challenge on the campus last week. Will do well to head for the Penn Tailoring Department of The Campus Shop. Where well-dressed college men usually fail to find the styles they prefer.

The Clinton-Tailoring Department is also a part of the Penn Tailoring Department. It is devoted exlusively to those who are new, smart, and correct.

THE C.A. PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION

In the coming of spring's banner of the Pennsylvanian there appeared an announcement of the newly-adapted method of the election of the president of the University Christian Association. This plan was chosen at a recent meeting of the cabinet, which is the governing body of the C.A.

The plan of the opening of the changes made in that which provides for the nomination of the candidates by the students themselves, instead of by the members of the governing board. This is intended to meet the field from which the nominally elected is chosen by casting the names to the group who should head, and the second is to limit the voters to those who should properly go to the polls as choice a man to head an undergraduate organization.

One of these measures is brilliantly for the better and we are sure that they will be productive of excellent results.

It is a matter of common knowledge that, at many times in the past, there has been a lack of interest in the political movements, and we welcome this plan of action which should do much to stimulate that manner.

1930—A WICKED SISTER

After having spent considerable time and energy in the changing of the face of the campus for the United Freshman Salute, which was held Wednesday night in Houston Hall, it must have been disappointing for the joining class officers and men to hear of the cancellation of the affair to save the misunderstanding of Holy Week, telling probably only in part that, for the turn for this year, the event was naturally. But that it is certainly not the representation of the Class of 1930, and it is evident that any semblance of a spirit of cooperation and that enthusiasm on the part of the dying year.

It is about time that the Freshmen reach in a full appreciation of their privileges and duties as undergraduates of Pennsylvania. The student body is sabotaged into大臣, according to the year in which each excep to graduate, and it is been found in the past that this arrangement produces less of satisfaction and amusement between classmates who are in the same undergraduate class, and whose views and interests are common.

These contacts are beneficial; the subject has been thoroughly doubted that the past year to outsiders, we are certain. But, in order that the full benefit of class organization may be derived, it is necessary that each class be organized into a well-defined, clearly-cut unit. And it is the duty of every unit of a class to do its part in making possible the maximum development of class pride and co-operation.

When we hear, as always speak with pride of their class, of Pennsylvanian, one believes that the class of 1930, for the sake of illustration, was the most outstanding class of Freshmen. We believe that this is the case. But who are the most outstanding class of Freshmen? It is certainly one of the most and most lasting parts of undergraduate life. And we see how to set this table is, and that the class of 1930, like any other undergraduate class whose week of events is determined by the leading tendencies of the time.

BRIEF SURROUNDING FEATURE SHOW:
The Stage and Screen Star—in Person
WANDA HAWLEY
In "SQUARINU THE CIRCLE"

THE STANLEY

B. F. Keith's production of "Sorrows of Satan" from the novel by Marie Corelli, will be shown the week of March 14th at the Stanley Theatre. It is regarded as a tremendous advance in the technique of the motion picture, and it has importance also in the fact, with Adolph Menjou in Satan, also members in leading roles Ricardo Cortez, Caro Dempster and Lya De Putti. The program will have a further outstanding attraction in Irving Aaronson's Commanders, an organization of entertainers especially produced in the latest style. There will be other offerings with the Stanley Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of William Harris, presenting some select overtures.

"Sorrows of Satan" tells the story of Lorder, thrown from Heaven with a promise of bliss within the gates of Paradise for each soul renouncing Miss Merced. Adaptation of the tale for the screen has provided a background of a modern city. Extravagant effects in lighting and in photography were attained. Curtis's comedy, spectacular and impressive drama are in the picture, and Menjou has a role that is said to give him on occasion quite an opportunity. The Stanley that Menjou presents is not a devil, but homes for a modern man of the world.

"Sorrows of Satan" was written thirty years ago. It is still a big seller in novels. Miss Corelli gave form to a new description in the book. She made it a political issue of society. Curtis who have everybody's heart, but about whose little was known. He moved in the highest set of society. But he is also a modern man of the world.

Everyone knows of the character and quality of Reed's clothing, but we want to strongly emphasize the fact that the prices are extremely moderate.

The Top Coats at $35.00 and $40.00 are made of good quality fabrics and well tailored; we challenge comparison with those shown in other houses at the same or even higher prices.

The Sack Suits at $40.00 and $45.00 are made of fine grade Un-finished Worsted and Worsted Cheviots in the new Spring models. The tailoring is of Reed's standard and in every way these suits are exceptionally fine for their very moderate prices.
