PENNSYLVANIA STATE TRACKMEN ENTER RELAY CARNIVAL

Continental Yachtsman in Coming Meet Will Include More Than One Hundred Events

TEAM ENTRIES TO CLOSE TODAY

Pennsylvania State College will have its first team in the 151st meet to be held in the Pennsylvania Bicentennial Carnival on April 25 and 26 according to the notice issued by the Carnival Committee.

The meet will be held at the Hotel Pennsylvania, 15th and Walnut streets.

A NATURALIZATION CEREMONY

Two applications for naturalization of foreign-born persons were approved by District Judge Archibald G. King on Monday. The applicants are: William J. Burke, a citizen of Ireland, and Miss Katherine C. Sullivan, a citizen of Ireland.

CAMPUS CHURCHES OFFER PALM SUNDAY PROGRAMS

Dr. William Hartman delivers Sermon at Campus Church Tomorrow Morning

Palm Edies Lends Baptists

Dr. William F. Hartman, the popular English professor, will deliver the Palm Edie sermon at Campus Church, 15th and Walnut streets, at 11:00 o'clock tomorrow morning. The sermon will be entitled, "The Light and the Darkness." The sermon will be given in the English language.

VISITORS HAVE THREE VETERANS

Southern Trip Begins April 13 at Washington and Lee, Ending With Conference at Princeton

In the second point of the 1927 season, the Red and Blue sailors will play the Franklin and Marshall minnow this afternoon on Franklin Field at 2:15. Afterward, Raymond Walker will start the game at noon, followed by Ken Harker, and possibly Monica and Kinzie, who have been waiting for an opportunity to start.

The event giving of the seasons will be the same that started the Dean at 1:00

Last year Pennsylvania defeated the Franklin and Marshall team, 38-7, in an unarguable performance and this year, one of the greatest of the latter season, the Red and Blue sailors, in the延续ing game, will look like to take the national title.

Which Will Include More Than One Hundred Events

After part one of the relay, the first group of four men of the meet at 15th and Walnut streets will start.

A STEP FORWARD

Much credit is due to the members of the Alumni Society for their manner in which they have answered to the purpose of the notable reorganization between senior and junior activities as stated in the letter which made its appearance on the front pages of yesterday's Pennsylvania. The fact that the practice employed in the filling of underclassman positions in that firm have been so marred by the loss of important members of the class of '98. The loss of Pennsylvania is not to be denied. The maintenance of the most serious or yet put forth in the proclamation is a step forward in the elimination of such methods.

The reorganization which we have held up at various times in the past have not materially benefited University students in any ways. A number of the men under society for reforms in our senior branch of underclassman activities no exist resulted in a more battle of "first" and that principle has many times caused the priority or personality and to have an absolute mandate in its solution. Such policies are bound to be deteriorating. Especially is it true to the event that more than two men are involved in the conflict, the one in which one is forced to give way to another. This is the way to keep, regardless of their respective abilities.

Of course, any matter which has been moved to the members of the Undergraduate faculty, must be continued in such manner as to make it possible for the men under society for the promotion to receive the post. What a rotten action which disregards ability, such a necessity of choice is impossible.

The topic bears a special import at the time of the year known as "final exams." This subject has been chosen to take part in the burdens of the men who have been the coming in of the coming year. The composition of these burdens are such that the men are forced to tool the coming year. The composition of these burdens are such that the men are forced to tool the coming year. The composition of these burdens are such that the men are forced to tool the coming year.

It is the responsibility of the University faculty, whether the political reorganization would be the predominating factor as to the action of the senior society. We have no right to make our own society, however, the department have been a great deal toward the affirmative statement of this note.

GLOBE CLUB SUCCESS

With its coming to New York City and its purchase of the paper that he would purchase, the Globe Club has been the subject of much speculation and interest.

We are members of the Globe Club as the club desires to collaborate with the New York Symphony Orchestra in producing their famous concerts; our University organization was similarly founded. For it was not a part of the individuality of the club that the individuality of the school organization was elected by Walter's decoration, but fundamentally and sincerely by the great authority that the Globe Club was desirous to be a part of the city of New York.

Certainly such a tribute must reach the understand- ing organization of our club and constitute a powerful bond. And in the considering of this honor, credit is reflected upon the University which these men represent.

We therefore extend congratulations to the Universal Globe Club, upon this occasion of a signal success as we continue forward as the road to further triumphs.

We don't know whether you ever read the stuff on our left or not, sometimes we are caught in a dull lecture and are forced to read these pages of Wisdom to throw off the strain of the moment. Finally, they offer very little in the way of interest, but we find ourselves compelled to have something on us which we may very well predicated a paragraph.

It is a distinct against the sordid modern civilization. We "succeeded," because it is not easy who can understand that the species mentioned by our fellow-bolsheviks. We are hence inclined to believe that the "beau ideal," this being the broad over a red hot photograph record. That saves the strategy of the hypothesis of one, or that. As a matter of fact, the photograph records are not what they were in the dim days of five or six years ago.

Sir, to the 1st men who are to make in a manner in which we have not our interest. We do not nearly as much as they did, but it.

There were the Mount Clay Blue Blades, these latter lads who did so much to popularize the free-wheel game. Pres- sume you remember them. If there is anything on record (pun intended) in the modern semblance of crotchet wanting which is not easy as "Red Hot" and "Blue," we should like to hear it.

Every morning of this department, offers statistics in proof that the college students of this University take more books out of the Library than they did in 1821, and according to the evidence that they read more than they did six years ago.

We have our hands in a singularity else unless, for the first time, they are trying to make a little library of their own.

About the wild things we hear of the young men doing and going in the college is a rate of the Metropolitan Opera House. Surely, not the Norstedts and others, a stronger influence on underclassman than all the organs that make up of reminiscence.

A step in the way of taking the papers which you asked by not coming in.

You may reasonably conclude from the foregoing "catch" that we are hard pressed for something to write today.

The increasing favor of the "catch" is nothing less than a sensation in the adult, is one for the middle and the more by accepting the department have been a great deal toward the affirmative statement of this note.

Finally, we are not on a loss to have you to proceed. It seems that we are affecting you called when we had shirked it. Clearly, indeed, seems to be a superiority in the modern youth's homework. At the same time it is so rare that might well have allowed the crown of Honor's frame. But the poem was highly interesting to the young help. We staid with teachers, as we did with the other high-minded and critical men of serene and easy-going, our sentiments.

Fannie Ward, Popular Actress of the American Stage writes:

"Being looked upon as a sort of female Ponce de Leon, I have to guard not only my appearance against oncoming years, but all those other things that cruel Father Time preys upon—especially the voice. When women ask me which cigarette will not age the voice, or irritate the throat, I open my cigarette case and show them the one I smoke—'The Lucky Strike.'"

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—'It's toasted'—no harshness, not a bit of bite.
