Pennsylvania UNIVERSITY TOSSERS DEFEAT V. M. I., DUKE, RICHMOND, GEORGETOWN, THE NORTH CAROLINA

With the University of Maryland game postponed, Pennsylvania received the visit of V. M. I., Duke, Richmond, Georgetown, and the North Carolinians; all of whom, except the latter, were defeated. The same order was carried out at the end of the last game with the exception that Washington, D.C., instead of Georgia Tech, took the last place. A number of the Pennsylvania team members were replaced by Knoblauch in the last game, which was played on the field of the city, on a successful game plan, a pulled ball into the crowd. Foster Speaker, "Hook" Walker, and John Stover were on the mound for the respective games.

THE CONQUEST OF THE SOUTH

While the majority of the undergraduates were no strangers to the Southern scenes during the Easter holiday season, Pennsylvania's Varsity baseball team swung out of town and into some of the unique spots of the country. With Maryland and University of Chicago close to hand, to come, and to see. This visit to our country's capital, the city where the world's treasures are housed, was an experience that would long be remembered. The team's visit to Washington, D.C., included a visit to the White House, a tour of the Smithsonian Institution, and a trip to the National Gallery of Art. The team also had the opportunity to see some of the city's famous landmarks, such as the Lincoln Memorial and the Washington Monument. The trip was a great success, and the team was able to experience all that the city had to offer.

PRAISEWORTHY PROJECT

In addition to their baseball exploits, the team also undertook a project to help the local community. They worked with a local charity to build a community center for children in need. This project not only allowed the team to give back to the community, but also provided an opportunity for the players to work together and develop teamwork skills.

In conclusion, the team's trip to Washington, D.C., was a great success. It was a wonderful opportunity to see the sights of the city, and to give back to the community. The team returned home with a sense of accomplishment and a greater appreciation for the history and culture of the United States.

DRAW RED AND BLUE ENTRIES

Charles McDougall and Murray Forbes, football stars, will make their final debut as javelin throwers in the carnival, where they will meet strong competition with Kreitz of Wisconsin, who placed second last year, and Northrup of Michigan, who took third. "Bill" Bower will be Pennsylvania's entry in the high jump in which he will compete with Anton Berg of Illinois, last year's winner. Bower has cleared the bar at more than six feet in practice. J. A. Stratton will be the Red and Blue entrant in the javelin and, after his two years of diligent practice, is expected by Coach Robertson to place among the leaders in this event.

FRESHMAN ORATOR ENTERS CONTEST

Pittsburgh College for Women, located in Pittsburgh, if successful at Albuquer- que, will enter the national semi-finals, with the opportunities of competing in the finals at Los Angeles June 23 and of winning part of the $5,000 in prizes.

This is the third year that the Better American Federation of California has sponsored the Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest. The federation hopes that the purpose has been to arouse interest in and respect for the Constitution of the United States.

UNIVERSITY TOSSELS DEFEAT FOUR INSTITUTIONS; TIE ONE

Frances Sanford, who alternated on the mound for Pennsylvania yielded nine hits. Thomas and Becker each got four safe drives. One of Thomas' fours was a triple, while Becker had a double among his collection.

After Preliminary games Saturday the Red and Blue nine resumed their heavy hit- ting, defeating the University of Rochester, 12-8. Tecumseh led the attack with a triple, a double, and two singles. Becker hit a three-bagger with the bases full, while Captain Tremper made a home run with two men on base.

Frances Sanford pitched the Pennsyl- vania basement to victory over Georgetown University Tuesday afternoon, keeping the losers' seven hit well-matched and framing seven men. Paul Hoffman moved the deciding runs with a homer in the fourth inning which brought in Captain Tremper.
