COUNCIL APPROVES RECENT ELECTIONS

When Sports Management Recommendation was Scrapped by Athletic Body.

The meeting of the athletic council was held yesterday morning in the meeting room of the athletic director's office, where the members of the council approved the recommendation of the Sports Management Committee to scrap the recommendation for the creation of an athletic management board.

Among the many changes proposed by the committee was the recommendation to scrap the recommendation for the creation of an athletic management board. The committee had made this recommendation a year ago, but the athletic council, after careful study, decided that it was not in the best interests of the university to proceed with the creation of such a board.

The council also approved the recommendation of the committee to scrap the recommendation for the construction of a new athletic facilities building. The committee had made this recommendation a year ago, but the athletic council, after careful study, decided that it was not in the best interests of the university to proceed with the construction of such a building.

NEW EDITORIAL STAFF NAMED
BY LAW SCHOOL PUBLICATION

FOR THE PENNSYLVANIAN
THURSDAY, APRIL 21, 1927

At the editorial meetings held recently by the University of Pennsylvania Law Review, two members of the second year class were chosen editors of this publication for the coming year. These new men are David H. Frey, Editor-In-Chief, James A. Montgomery, Jr., Managing Editor; Edward B. West, News Editor; Clifford M. Bowlen, Case Editor; and Alonzo R. Chilberg, Book Editor.

Edward B. West, News Editor, and James A. Montgomery, Jr., Managing Editor, leave the position with great regret the members of the staff. West will confine his work to the legal section and contribute articles of law in the future, while Montgomery will continue his efforts for the highest average during the first month in the new position.

SECOND YEAR MEN VICTORS IN PENNIMAN BOWL LACROSSE
Playing the first game on a muddy field, the Men's Lacrosse Team was defeated by the Pennsylvania in the Pennsylvania Bowl competitions preceding afternoon, 24. The condition of the field made it necessary to shorten the playing to fifteen minutes each. Both teams were unequal to the first half but gained for Bowlen and Nix in the last ten minutes of play, won the game.

This game gives the second year men four victories in the Bowling season.

PROVOST ANNOUNCES NEW PATHOLOGY DEPARTMENT

Recent Addition to Scope of University's Work in Comparative Studies in Field of Disease

Dr. Ono Assumes Directorship

Following a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees, Prof. Penman announced the opening of a new department of pathology, a step which deals with deplorable conditions in organ and tissue. Dr. Ernest Ogle, director of the lab in the Henry Phipps Institute at the present time, will be in charge of the new department. He will be assisted by the assistant professor who has worked out from his position as director of the laboratories of the Philadelphia General Hospital in order to assume the duties of undergraduate teaching of pathology.

Dr. Herbert Fox was appointed professor of comparative pathology. He, too, ever, will continue his activities as director of the William Pepper Laboratory of Clinical Medicine in the University Hospital and his pathological studies at the Biological Station. Among the other members of the staff of the new department is Dr. Rudolph Luller, who was advanced from assistant professor to be associate professor of pathology. Dr. Joseph McNiff, Dr. Morton McCahill, Jr., Henry Moore, and Dr. Ira Brown, all of whom have had a good deal of experience in pathology work.

Dr. Penman expressed the opinion that the School of Medicine would be greatly benefited by the coordination of the work of undergraduate teaching and research which is carried on in the various departments. "Since Dr. Ogle," he said, "will continue his liaison with the Phipps Institute, he will be able to utilize the very valuable resources of that institution as well as to bring those working there into closer contact with those working on the University campus in teaching and research and as students.

First lecture in its series. Harvard and Yale were tied for first place in the major having four championships. Between they they won half of the contests against. Both and Navy were tied with each the other. Two other winners were Army, Penn State, Lehigh and Cornell, each of which won one championship.

WHAT IS IT TOASTED?

Your Throat Protection

Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—"the finest cigarettes you ever smoked. They are kind to your throat.

Why? All because they are made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process in treating the tobacco.

COUNCIL ELECTIONS

With elections for the administrative officers of the Upper Council being held in six schools of the University, there is no provision in the student constitution to "pick one and pull a representative vote" again in our time. From year to year the editorial writers have given voice to the old adage in this column that, if the situation should not call for the moral leader, a call for caution is in order.

Be it known to all the students of 1927, ever deeply interested in the welfare of others, are giving two five-day leaves: the week in a foreign country, and the week in the United States, the beauty of the movement is visible now and a few days' rest, members of the various boards of the University.

Consider the broad powers which the Council possesses, and it will exercise with such success in the past, in your candidate endowed with the common qualities of the independent, the ambitious, the successful, that proper emphasis is placed on the personal qualifications, and not on political expedience, election candidates will not be necessary.

STILL HIGHER EDUCATION

The problem of education is gradually becoming the subject of greater student interest; if we are to judge by the increasing size of the student associations, and the number of articles and editorials discussed in the press, inquiring in earnest at present. Perhaps, because the student is becoming logical and realizes the problem in our world concerns him; perhaps because in the future he has been assured, the University students in his moment of serious thought is asking more of the University.

"In education going—now here?" The Pennsylvanians, in a discussion of the increased number of college students, and the consequent overcrowding of universities, have been in the habit of discussing the student body, using the word "it." In all questions of policy, its authority is executive; where rules and regulations are concerned, it has control. It possesses the huge majority of the student body, and where the case requires a decision, the Council will call for its decision.

From this division, the only one to appeal to it the University.

FINALS (ugh) ... then Commencement (ah) ... and summer just ahead! Vacation days... soaking up sunshine at the beach ... evenings spent with that chic blonde you met at the homecoming game ... a smart car ... your own personal car—an Erskine Six Custom Coupe.

Undergraduate America's new car—the Erskine Six—miles out in front of the rest. Dietrich, without a peer among custom body carrothers, designed it; moulded its lines, endowed it with Continental sophistication. Trim as a silken ankle... inside, room no end for two ... rumble seat behind built just for a double date. High hat in everything but price.

And can it do its stuff? Yes, sir, and how... slips through jumbled traffic with the ease of an inspired eel... hangs onto the road at sixty like a co-ed at her first fort... climbs up a ski slide in high... handles, wheels around and pulls up like a polo pony.

Summer is beckoning—so is "The Little Aristocrat"—a real companion for vacation days.

The Erskine Six Custom Coupe, as illustrated, sells for $6,000, complete with front and rear bumpers and innumerable guest comforts.
