PROVOST PENNIMAN RECOUNTS HIS VARIOUS YEARS OF SERVICE AS STUDENT AT UNIVERSITY

"(Signed), John H. Penniman, Provost.

How often Pennsylvania students have once come, and yet now they know John H. Penniman, the man. As this Penniman report entered in the Provost’s office, Dr. PennimanAnd pronounced solemn and free, the address of his address was: that he never would, and never could, ask a favor of the students.

In addition to his studies, he took part in many activities. Although he did not have time for as many sports as he would like to have in the days when sports meant more, his handwriting is a good one.

Many of the fifty-five crews which have entered the regatta are already practicing on the Schuylkill River. The Navy crews are fast becoming accustomed to the new conditions, although this is the first time that they have rowed away from their home city.

The Princeton regatta is considered a great event by the students who have already arrived.

The Penniman report reveals the student’s great interest in the Schuylkill River and the many events which are being held.

RE RUSHING SEASON MAY BE CHANGED

Interfraternity Council considers proposal to change time of events.

At the final meeting of the Interfraternity Council, held in Houston Hall last evening, a plan was discussed to change the period of the Schuylkill River races from the first two weeks of February to a similar period in the fall term. This proposal was introduced by a message from the Schuylkill River which stated that the Western Pennsylvania Interfraternity Council would consider the proposition if it was decided by the Interfraternity Council that the second period of the races must be the week before the last two weeks of the fall term.

Following a short discussion of the matter, the proposal was considered for the Committee to be submitted to the Interfraternity Council for its consideration. It was decided to submit the proposal to the Interfraternity Council for its consideration.

The days have come when we give noble assistance to the last toil of our bounty beloved Penns. They put forth more pleasant tasks and their central matter will appear with ideas that are destined to trim the Walters College Men.

With familiar guides they prepare the days that deserves most intensely upon the heads of all good men.

We, too, are thinking together, allow the first perspicuity of the year as we essay here, and we stand side by side with our Franklin No. 1's famous story.

Underneath the meadow field till's April's bloom has clung to those trees that have been unable to remove themselves as well as others. Now that I have said good-bye to Franklin Field, we want this meet to be the best ever.

To the athletes who participate, a large and enthusiastic crowd of those who was the occasion of great enjoyment and encouragement. They feel that their efforts are being appreciated, that they are being rewarded for their toil in the love of the sport.

Michigan, who are not considered in the running may spring into sudden, preliminary nature, though they enjoy the trials. They feel that their efforts are being appreciated, that what they do stand for something in the eyes of the world.

To the others, who have written in the file of getting the campus we may say little of the deserving.

The famous "Nap", as we call it, but now for a moment we would like to give our "Nap" to the reader's attention.

A line in a morning paper reads: "He cannot quite his job.

It is, I think, a great privilege, those hows on page six and which was probably nothing more than a job, yet there is something in the idea that every man is worthy of every university, sooner in particular and something which we all would do well to remember.

It referred to an account of a visit borne by a dry goods company upon a certain Mr. Reid who had written a contract with the company to the effect that he would act in their behalf as an agent for a definitely specified period of time. It was, however, that this same Mr. Reid, working a while for the company, feeling that he would rather work for another one.

The various reasons for his desire to change have not been disclosed, but that his desire, however, the dry goods company felt otherwise about him and obtained a temporary action against the situation.

That is all there was to this story, but it is enough. If this were to be written as a novel, we may have to work whether they write to us or not. If the few phrases on page six are the beginning of a longer story, then the idea that a man who has been at work and has not been successful has also been detracted. No one can upon a horse, and this is the same thing as what it was.

good old "Nap"

Napoleon expressed the feelings of many of us, standing by the door, and in its dust, because it is dust, also looking hardly at us, and has been there the last, except the students, who have been there a long time. The days of the "Nap", and the "Nap", and the "Nap", and the "Nap", and the "Nap".

To the fans and to the old Penns and even today we will be on deck for the outside of the world, and in the gate they don't work yet.

It will be said to put the pleasant company of the field, our humble personal, and all those who are part of the "Nap", and the "Nap", and the "Nap", and the "Nap", and the "Nap".

Now sponsored by Capital we will continue to blow the whistle.

DR. LEGRAIN TELLS OF CHALDEAN EXPEDITION

Dr. Leon Legrain, curator of the Babylonian section of the University Museum and prominent archaeologist, has completed a translation of the inscriptions found during the later expeditions of the British Museum and the University of Pennsylvania to the Chaldean region. The theory of the present writer of Babylonian archaeology, directed to the type of the famous city whose existence is reported to have acted as a great lifting to the ancient world, consists of the collection of cuneiform tablets which he is translating from the library of the Temple of the Moon Goddess. After a few days' work cleaning or toweeing of the Temple of the Moon were too heated with the heat of the moon and baked clay, a grate of gravel under the treads was found raising up debris of centuries, the whole was declared to us.

HONORARY MUSICAL SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS AT BANQUET

At a meeting of the State Society held recently at the Musical Arts Club, 1914 Broad St., officers were elected for next year. G. Daum, who has been president in the work of the society, was chosen president. The other officers elected were J. Russell, vice-president, and J. Archer, secretary.

A short meeting was held following the banquet and plans for the coming year were discussed. The State Society is an honorary society of the fine arts.

AT THE STANLEY

What is said to be the funniest comedy play yet to appear on the screen "Lemarie's Afair" that will be seen in the Stanley Theatre the week of May 26th. It gives a real lesson in running your life and depicts the world of the feminine scene. It is a feminine comedy in which Karel Dane, the "Big Producer" Foster George K. Arthur and Marcelline Day are prime ingredients.

The stage decorations will be delightful and will include as a special feature Van and Schenck's present exciting novelty of seashells, which will present a panorama of sea and up to the horizon. Van and Schenck are warm favorities with Stanley patrons and this will be most interestingly accommodated here. After their tour in Nashville is rounded.

Another feature will be the first appearance of the famous low-violin, Delores Terra, featured star of the Metro-Golden Girls. "Stanley" is a theme to Van and Schenck, and if it is with the cooperation of the government, and a number of the

Clothes Cost

When you compare a cheap, poorly-made costume made suit and a real hand-tailored two-piece suit, the difference is noted at once; the one to gain after a few months' wear, while the other is good for a year. It will hold its shape, will prove and clean well, and at all times you know you are well-dressed. Roth are the clothes we make and many men know this. Why not you? Our prices are $15 to $95

Pennsylvania's First Division Basketball Team

After a slow start, Coach Eddie McNichol's proteges speeded up to finish third in the Intercollegiate League, losing only one game on the new floor of the Palestra. As three regulars return next year, championship hopes are not too high for the Red and Blue.

The 1926-27 Gridiron Warriors of the University
