American colleges have expelled famous men

Ralph Waldo, Edgar Allen Poe, Thayer

Delaware West Thorndike for various reasons.

Radical Ideas Chief Defense

In a recent circular published by Yale University, it is announced that a number of presentExpelled students were expelled from Yale during their period of probation by their elders. They were expelled, John Addy, Edward William, and Edward Gibbon, and Walter Laddie, "The United States," has been cited for its actions in support of the free speech movement. These men are well known to all men who have ever become prominent.

Some men were dismissed for outspoken views, which were never denied by the faculty. Mr. Gerald Ping, who was expelled from Kansas City Junior College for his opposition thereto, says that a college cannot tolerate them for fear of the authorities. It is better that he leave the place without opposition. When college men are charged with antinomian activity, that fighter and that reasoner.

As Herrick, John Foster was severely criticized in 1928, for giving evidence in his Pennsylvania. However, he was able to testify to the Senate in 1928. James M. Winterson and Robert Allen Poe were expelled from West Point. When chosen to be general of the army, Mr. Poe refused to accept the position.

Mr. Gorey, who had the life of a poet, James M. Winterson and Robert Allen Poe were expelled from West Point. When chosen to be general of the army, Mr. Poe refused to accept the position.

The Stenographer
Who Inherited $25,000

"I've been the correct secretary stenographer-type long enough! I've been the average convent-and-young business woman a sight too long! Now I'm going to be just the elemental Richenda Peterson that's never dared to reveal hers old before!"

From the special correspondent, Peterson, the stenographer, who had suddenly received word that she was heiress to $25,000.

No more work for her, until she had a good time spending the money, seeing the places she wished to visit, doing the things she wanted to do.

Girls, you will all be interested in what she did and how it finally happened to her.

You had your own dreams of what you would do with so much money; the tricks you would buy, the good times you would have, that's why you'd want to read all about Richenda and what she did.

Here's a secret—here's just the delightful love adventure that she gets into, and you'll be all excited to learn which of two ardent suitors she finally marries.

Red and Blue crews prepared for Henley regatta today.

For this season the University crews have been far from spectacular. The 1927 construction is the only boat that has been able to win consistently. After tomorrow there will be but one remaining regatta in which Pennsylvania's oarsmen will compete. On June 9th, the Senior and Freshmen crews will leave for Poughkeepsie where they will compete against the best crews in the country on Wednesday, June 29.

The Best

Sports Pages in Pennsylvania

Nothing gets by the lively, complete sports pages of the Morning Ledger. Everything for dyed-in-the-wool fans...written by a great staff of writers...beery sports stories that are eagerly awaited every morning by men who want to know "what's what" in the world of sports. For instance, there is Bill Brandt—who could make baseball interesting to an Englishman....it isn't only his knowledge of the game that makes his word pictures of it so fascinating....it's the wit and drollicity and original description which go into them.

Frank McCracken

Frank needs no introduction to the fight fans....his expert refereeing has earned for him a popular reputation everywhere....and his fight stories are naturally first-hand descriptions that leave nothing to be desired. Frank McCracken's golf stories are equally as good as his stories on the boys of the paddled ring.

Ed Pollock

Covers every line of sport as he discusses, day by day, the outstanding incidents, plays, players and sports personalities in his peggy, double-column of sports comment. When it comes to writing tennis, Pollock is unbeatable.

Horse Racing

A complete racing chart every morning....comment on the races....and the horses which "look good today."
