Traditional Penn Policy Toward Discrimination Described by Harnwell

President Pleased With New Student Interest In Discrimination, Rights of All Minorities

Dr. Gaylord P. Harnwell, President of the University, yesterday expressed his "delight in undergraduate interest in the problem of discrimination in the United States," he ventured that he saw the traditional policy of the University of Pennsylvania regarding the question.

In an interview with the Daily Pennsylvanian, Dr. Harnwell said that he was pleased to see the expression of interest among students on this subject. He added that he looked forward to the possibility of action by the University toward this end.

On "Discrimination in the Telephone Industry," Dr. Harnwell said that he had received a letter from the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission expressing the opinion that discrimination in the telephone industry was a problem that needed to be addressed.

He added that he was not aware of any specific acts of discrimination in the telephone industry, but that he was willing to look into the matter further.

On "Undergraduate Seats Vacant This Term," Dr. Harnwell said that the vacancies were due to the fact that some students had decided to take a year off from school.

He added that the University was working to fill the vacancies as soon as possible.

On "Economy Affects Design," Dr. Harnwell said that he was aware of the issue and that the University was doing its best to accommodate the situation.

He added that he was confident that the University would continue to provide quality education to its students.

On "Rhodes Scholarships Available for Oct. 13 Interviews," Dr. Harnwell said that he was pleased to see the interest in Rhodes Scholarships.

He added that he was looking forward to the interviews and hoped that the University would be able to attract the best students to its ranks.

On "Penn-Princeton Will Renew Rivalry in 46th Encounter," Dr. Harnwell said that he was looking forward to the upcoming football game.

He added that he was confident that the University would be able to perform well against its rival.

On "Trygve Lie Talks Before World Affairs Council," Dr. Harnwell said that he was pleased to see the interest in world affairs.

He added that he was looking forward to the talk and hoped that it would lead to further discussion and action.
