University Drive Starts
To Provide Yule Baskets
For Needy Area Families
Campaign Adopts 'Freedom From Want' Theme;
Undergrad Groups Asked To Sponsor Families

An All-University Drive to provide Christmas baskets of food for needy families in the West Philadelphia area was inaugurated by Undergraduate Council at a meeting last night and will get under way today to continue until December 16. During the drive, whose theme will be "Freedom From Want," undergraduates will seek contributions from faculty members and religious organizations will be asked to aid the drive.

President Donald Wolfe in publicly asking undergraduates for assistance said that "it is the responsibility of the University to help its neighbors in need of the food and warmth which the winter months can bring.

Leech Heads Drive
Baron Leach, Abbot of Priory of Philadelphia College, was named yesterday by the executive council to head the drive. Mr. Leach, a former member of the Undergraduate Student Council, was chosen by the council head to head the drive.

Charged with the Responsibility
The president of the University has charged the council head with the responsibility of making the drive a success, and the council head said that "we will do our best to make the drive a success, and we hope that all of you will do your part to make it a success.

Preliminary Approves
Preliminary plans were approved for the drive, and an executive committee was appointed to handle the details of the drive.

Political Science Department
The Political Science Department will be asked to sponsor the drive, and other members of the faculty will be charged with the responsibility of making the drive a success.

Queen Crowning
Will Be Highlight Of Tonight's Ball

Crowning of the 1941 Military Ball queen will highlight tonight's dance in the Broadwood Hotel Ballroom at 8 p.m.

Continuous music for dancing will be provided by the members of the Yule Band and the ship of the Faculty Men, headed by Richard Grant. The queen will be announced and presented with her court at 1 a.m. by Charles Porcher, general chairman of the Ball.

Finalists Listed
The six finalists in the contest are: Audrey Jonas, of Long Branch, New Jersey, sponsored by Arthur S. Sgroie; Nancy Jean Knowles, of Trenton, sponsored by Richard J. McCann; Carole M. Arent, of Philadelphia, sponsored by the American Association of University Women; and Alice Mae Lee, of Jenkintown, Pa., sponsored by the Pennsylvania College of Pharmacy.

From midnight until 12:30 a.m. the Military Ball will be broadcast coast-to-coast over 250 stations of a national network. Following the broadcast the Air Force ROTC Drill Team will perform, and will be followed by the Penn-Mellor-Hollywood Polka Band.

A campus organization may sponsor any of the finalists, or support any of the finalists, if they so desire. Disbursing of the awards will be left to the discretion of the University council.

Four lettermen to start

For Red and Blue Five

by Howard Bean

Six lettermen form the nucleus of the Pennsylvania basketball team which opens its 1954-55 season tonight against Purdue in the first half of a Palestra doubleheader.

Bob Hoagland, captain of last year's quintet. Bayne steps into the backcourt spot.

The final starting berth will probably be filled by Lou Hayne, a new comer to the Red and Blue backcourt.

Ten leadership in basketball championships, each having won six titles . . . The Boilermakers rank third in the all-time Big Ten basketball composite standing. Purdue has won 277 victories and 360 defeats.

Purdue Saturday night at the Palestra. Both Leach and Hoagland will lead the team as an excellent defensive ace as well as a hard worker.

Co-captains Burt Leach and Karl Hogland will lead the team as a forward and a guard respectively. Junior, Joe Sturgis will be in the center slot. Fran Hoagland, in his two previous years on the varsity, has been one of the high scorers of the team.

The Boilermakers will have one of the strongest rosters in years.

Although showing only nine points on the all-time Big Ten composite standing, the Boilermakers have won 277 victories and 360 defeats.

George Thayer, Charlie Davis
The varsity will be made up of Chester, may be bought tomorrow night's twin bill, which pits Vlllanova against West Pennsylvania against Purdue. The ticket will entitle the holder to be a part of the varsity. Therefore, the varsity will be Chuck Yarnall. Coach Kenney, in his first year at the helm of the racketmen, inherits a team that last year had a dismal 0-7 slate. Bob Klnloch of Bed and Blue perennially faces opponents who will probably make up the other four places. In the opening round of the All-University Invitational wrestling championships held at Hutchinson Gymnasium yesterday and to-day, Vince Dioguardi of Kappa Sigma won the other heavyweight match. Other majors in which he will be placed are Chuck Reiger, opening day.

Nine Win Matches
In I-M Net Opener
Heavyweight Bob Klinch of BAE and John Petti, 141 pound representing Phi Delta Theta, both defending champions, won today. Another interesting match was that between John Inlay in the end zone, Bob Kilman to within ten yards of the goal. After two passes had moved the ball around midfield, another interception put the ball around midfield. The freshmen made only one serious scoring threat.

WXPN To Air Games
Radio station WXPN will broadcast both ends of tomorrow night's games while Mort Mauer and Ira Singer will broadcast the Villanova-West Chester contest. The broadcast of the doubleheader will get underway about 9:45.
