Chester F. Tucker Takes
Vice-Presidential Post;
Heads Public Relations

Tucker, Assuming Post Formerly Held by Angell, Fills Last Major Position in New Reorganization Plan

Chester F. Tucker, former president of the John Price
Jones Company, fund-raising and public relations counselor officially took over his duties as vice-president of the University yesterday.

Robert T. McCracken, chairman of the Trustees of the University, announced Tucker's election last December 29.

Tucker has been associated with the Jones Company since 1919 and has acted as a consultant for the University for 21 years.

Tucker's election fills the last of the major positions in the reorganization plan adopted by the University's administrative council in November to adjust the University's services to the nation and com-

Tucker's job will entail the co-ordination of the various services of the University's development, public relations, and community affairs.

Prior to his election, Tucker served as regent of the University and chairman of the University's finance committee. He also served as chairman of the responsibilities of the vice-

An Agreeable Change

The Daily Pennsylvania has been one of the Student Health Service's busiest critics in recent past. The letter uses arguable reasoning to prejudice the student body against its services. This commentary aims to change the student's perception of the service in a positive manner.

Letter to the Editor

Editor, Daily Pennsylvania:

Dear Sir:

I thank you for the copy of The Daily Pennsylvania of December 1st which included a letter of criticism about the present Student Health Service. I am sure you will agree that it is not written with care.

As has been delineated in your columns previously, any student who is dissatisfied with the service received may voice his complaint at the office, or discuss the matter with his doctor to determine which institution is responsible for the patient's health. The Health Service is a part of the University, and we are trying to improve this service with a maximum of results. We welcome any constructive suggestion as to how this may be done.

The present letter does not make any attempt to be frank. It is intended to do something, to solve the problem, to get somewhere. If this individual has been served poorly and I sympathize with his feelings, I believe that is a right. I am sure that the complaint is understood, my friend personally as well as if he attempts to improve the health service of his own Health Service. The letter uses arguable reasoning to prejudice the student body against its services.

There are many practical limitations imposed by the health service. We cannot preclude any chicas-pleas in taking care of the student, the amount of time that will be required to handle the medical problems of people who have not yet seen us, our appointment system is bound to work all of the time. On the whole, however, my impression is that most students have been happy with the appointment system as they were with previous systems which we are using.

You have my sympathy in putting up with this condition.

Yours truly,

FRANCIS J. CAMPBELL

Dorman Wins Collegiate Handball Championship

Mal Dorfman, a student at the University, won the National Collegiate handball championship by defeating the defending champion, Anthony Butch, in the final match of the tournament held at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln, Nebraska, on December 19, in Chicago.

Varner, from the Chicago branch of the University of Illinois, took the first game, which was completed unnecessarily in the second and last to close third. Dormman is the Middle Atlantic States A.A.U. champion.

Soccer Group Lists

Czako and 2nd Team

The All-America Soccer Committee for Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Delaware has announced the leading players in the field of all coaches and officials.

The only Pennsylvania player gaining mention on either of the first two teams was Czako (Czako) last year. He was named as outstanding second teamer.

The Owls are Albert Delavina, Lene, and John Bolland.

The first games of the intramural basketball league will be played in Hulchinson Gym on Thursday, January 4th starting at 7 p.m.

Twenty-five teams representing Upennians and Freshman Dorns are in competition for the dormitory basketball championship. The game consists of three divisions, the Hamilton, Bucknell and Lehigh Leagues, composed of the three-, five-, and seven-point games. Each team in the league will play every other team. In the last round, each team will play the top three teams in its division and the bottom three teams in its division. The league will be played in a four-game series, with the win or loss to the team with the most points, and the losing team will play the next game. The top team in each division will advance to the championship round, which will be held on the first day of each week. The championship will be held on the last day of the regular season.

Six Free Concerts Given at Museum

Members of the Philadelphia Orchestra and other professional artists will be featured in a series of six free instrumental concerts beginning Saturday at 3 p.m. in the University Museum. Arthur Cohen is conductor and arranger of the annual series which introduces new and seldom-performed works. A grants program has been possible because the Music Performance Trust Fund, in cooperation with Local 802, American Federation of Musicians (AF of M), makes possible the free series, which includes chamber music, a string orchestra and one program devoted to solo by five different musicians.

The opening program will feature Stanley Hollingworth, pianist, assisted by the orchestra in Pergolesi's "Sonata a Tre" and the solo program of Sonny Stitt, with the orchestra in "Concerto Hondo," an arrangement by Ballard on his clarinet. The orchestra will be conducted by Mr. Stanley Hollingworth, pianist, and assisted by the orchestra. The program will be performed at 3 p.m. in the Franklin Room of Houston Hall.

 Sigma Tau Initiation

Sigma Tau Initiation will be held at noon in the Franklin Room of Houston Hall.

Condon Is Guest Lecturer At Penn for Spring Term

After retiring from government and accepting a position with the Carnegie Glass Works, Dr. Condon was again commissioned by the Record Heelers to arrange a position for the annual series of the Record Hall. Chairman of the committee said that Dr. Condon has been appointed because "Dr. Condon has been helping to arrange a chance for a humorous appearance before the committee." Dr. Condon, however, said that he had not "belliciously" since the charge was leveled.

In his last address, in which he announced that he was coming to the University, Dr. Condon made no mention of the dispute.

LLOYD Wallpapers will be used on the walls of the Franklin Room of Houston Hall.
