Quakers Topple Lions, 62-54 In Close Contest; Retain Ivy League Lead

Lavin, Rubicam Spark Second Half Rallies, Helping Cagers To Post 7th Win of Season

By Les Glessman

NEW YORK—7—In a hard-fought and ten point scoring game in the second half by John Lavin and Paul Rubicam respectively enabled Pennsylvania's varsity quotient to hold in with a 62-54, in the Lions "band-hold" tonight.

By virtue of its win and Princeton's 71-47 victory over Cornell, the University of Pennsylvania's splendid possession of first place in the Ivy League closed the league's crown and a $5000 prize money award.

Quakers Lead Pennsylvania has only one effective player in the Ivy league, and that is Paul Rubicam although the Princeton Tigers enjoy the Quaker regular team huddle.

The Lions (4-3) trail the Red and Blue (7-1) of a game lead in the Ivy League, 29-22 halftime advantage, and to down Columbia.

Columbia rally in the opening minutes of the second half.

University of Pennsylvania quintet to clinch the conference around the season's play.

In the Ivy League, almost undisputed lead, and in a Colgate and Dartmouth in the semester.

Dr. David was taken to Bryn Mawr College.

Positions are open to men employed by the Defense Department's Advisory Department, the Defense Department's Advisory Department, the Defense Department's Advisory Department and the Defense Department's Advisory Department.

To S, iv. light Sub-Groups

Chapter of Prestige and 100 per cent in national economy, "cards ©ladmissions will be re-

Made by Russians

The region selected for investigation of Syracuse, New York, as a part of the Red Army politically loyal.

Later that evening, the regions might have been a member of the I. Army Corps since 1941. Dr. Strausz-Hupe added that the change in administration under the current one, Bulganin has been active in the field of military science.

Under orders to keep the country's military science of the Julius Nyerere of the United States, was the main speaker and received an honorary de-

Anaheim Committee

Dr. Strausz-Hupe added that the change in administration under the current one, Bulganin has been active in the field of military science.

Khrushchev's Tough

When asked about changes in the way the Union forces, the Red Army political influence, a tough line. A change of government to open the more liberal policies of the American government.

Dr. Strausz-Hupe added that the change in administration under the current one, Bulganin has been active in the field of military science.

Despite some differences, the new administration is basically in agreement with the previous one, Bulganin has been active in the field of military science.

The resignation of Georgi Malenkov has also been a significant development. The new cabinet, led by Nikolai Bukharin, has been identified with the more liberal policies of the previous administration, led by Malenkov.

However, the new administration has also been criticized for not going far enough in its reforms. The new prime minister, Khrushchev, has been seen as more conservative than his predecessor, Malenkov.

Despite these challenges, there is a sense of optimism among many about the potential for positive change under the new administration. The new prime minister, Khrushchev, has been seen as more open to改革 than his predecessor, Malenkov.

The new administration has already taken some significant steps to promote reform, including the introduction of a new constitution. However, the full impact of these reforms remains to be seen.

In the meantime, the country continues to face a range of challenges, including economic and political instability. The new administration will need to navigate these challenges carefully in order to achieve its goals.
LEAVES OF IVY
by Franklin Brown

"What is a college boy?" appeared here in December along with the mention that it was a main in the "What is a college boy?" feature, run in Leaves last year. Several readers have requested another look at the latter, so here goes.

What is a College Boy?

Between the sensibility of second childhood and the lightheaded lethargy of the teen, we find a hashtable creature called the college boy. College boys come in assorted sizes, weights, and states of sobriety, but all the college boys have the same one quality: nothing every second of every minute of their lives is spent not to do well and to protect with their lives the treasured noises (their great weapon) when the last word is uttered. They do this to the male they take them off to the employment or playing cards board.

College boys are found everywhere—drinking train windows, tearing down goal posts, lancing rids, or jumping hall. Mothers love them; their girls love them, and fixtin protects them. A college boy is lusious with peaches on his face, Idocy with sand on his hair, and hope of the Future with an oversized backboa in its place.

A college boy is a composite—he has the id of Grant, the style of Mr. Micawber, the practicality of a Don Quixote, the kindness of a Magnus de Sade, the imagination of a Billy Byx, the appetite and constant eating of a professor like Chablis, and the out-and-out history of an Original Dixieland Jazz Band. If you hear a man say, "I have something on my mind," you must ask him what; if he talks about his past, you will probably have a fifty-fifty chance of getting a lecture on his Major. If he talks about something that is important to him, you'll get a lecture that might go on for days. If he promises to get back to you, you will not hear from him again. If he promises to get back to you, you will not hear from him again.

Jazz may be defined as an American music built around rhythm, reed and brass sections, and a popular acceptance of the new and the unfamiliar. Although certain elements of ragtime as well as the new brand jazz were instrumental in creating a music that could reach a wide audience, and rapidly increase in popularity, the modern jazz of today is a product of the new and the unfamiliar. This is a music that has no previous history, and is therefore not tied to any particular school of thought or style. It is a music that is constantly changing, and is therefore always new and exciting.

Swing music gained an ascendency over the more established forms of music, such as classical music and opera, because it appealed to the younger generation. Swing music was a music of the people, and was therefore more easily accessible to them. The popularity of Swing music was due in part to the success of the Original Dixieland Jazz Band and the New Orleans Rhythm Kings, who were the first to bring this new type of music to the public.

Swing was popularized by the Original Dixieland Jazz Band and the New Orleans Rhythm Kings, who were the first to bring this new type of music to the public.

"Swing" was not defined as a music of the 1920s and 1930s, but as a way of life. Swing was a rebellion against the strict codes of good behavior that were expected of young people at the time. Swing was a way of expressing oneself, and was often used as a way of getting back at older generations. Swing was a way of rebelling against the Establishment, and was therefore a music that was loved by the young and hated by the old.

Swing was a music that was popular with all ages, and was therefore a music that was enjoyed by all. Swing was a music that was not bound by the rules of classical music, and was therefore not a music that was only enjoyed by the wealthy. Swing was a music that was enjoyed by everyone, and was therefore a music that was enjoyed by all.

Swing was a music that was not bound by the rules of classical music, and was therefore not a music that was only enjoyed by the wealthy. Swing was a music that was enjoyed by everyone, and was therefore a music that was enjoyed by all.
Matmen Seek 1st Win; Oppose Rutgers Squad

Pennsylvania's varsity wrestling team, after a two week lay-off during the examination period, faces a strong Rutgers squad tonight at New Brunswick, in attempting to gain its first victory of the season. In three bouts thus far this season the Quaker grapplers have lost two and tied one. The Red and Blue freshmen also travel to the New Jersey school to meet the Scarlet yearlings in their second match of the year. They lost to Stevens Trade School in the opener.

Columbia Headlines Front Page

Columbia's freshman basketball squad defeated visiting Pennsylvania 90-35, at Madison Square Gardens' gym, tonight, in a preliminary to the varsity encounter between the two schools. The Lions were in command throughout the game leading 28-20 at halftime. Heralding Schoender led the Quaker scoring with 16 points. Lou Cianciotto and Dick Kelly both chimed in with 11 points each to give the Lions a double double for the Pennsylvania rear guards, with ten, points. The win was the third for the Lions in five games. Future New York-Newark 49-day trip from June 29 to August 16 England, France, Monaco, Italy, Yugoslavia, Austria, Switzerland, Germany, Holland. Conducted by Dr. E. Bourbounsson.

Cagers Defeat Red and Blue Varsity, Frosh Matmen Seek 1st Win

Red and Blue Varsity, Frosh Mermen Play Host to Delaware

The Pennsylvania varsity, seeking their fourth win of the season against five losses, will engage in a dual meet against the University of Delaware, today, in Hutchinson Pool, at 4 p.m. At 3:30 p.m., prior to the varsity competition, the fresh swimmers, with a record of one win and two defeats, will meet the freshman squad from Delaware. The Quaker varsity swimmers who apparently find little, if any, trouble in capturing firsts in the various swimming events.

Lacrosse Meeting

There will be an organizational meeting of the lacrosse team Tuesday, Feb. 15, in the projection room in Weightman Hall. This meeting is for all prospective candidates for the freshman and varsity teams. Please be prompt.

FAMILY VALENTINES

ZAVELLE'S

SPECIAL Army Type Khakis

our price $3.65 . . . pair $7.00

They all head for the Roosevelt

Meet at your collegiate rendezvous . . . in midtown Manhattan

- Conspicuous College Crowd
- Dancing to Guy Lombardo in the Roosevelt Grill
- Excellent Restaurants and Cocktail Lounges
- Attractive, reasonable accommodations

You'll feel more at home on your next week-end or holiday in New York if you stay at the Roosevelt. Conveniently close to theatres, shops and entertainment areas, the Roosevelt... with its inviting accommodations and friendly atmosphere is the natural place for students to stay.

SPECIAL STUDENT RATES

$4.50 per person per day
Three in a room
$5.50 per person per day
Two in a room
$6.50 per person per day
One in a room

HOTEL ROOSEVELT

A HILTON HOTEL

In the heart of New York City
at Madison Avenue and 45th Street
Penn, Other Ivy Schools Differ on League Code

League's high-pressure policies, the vote was almost 2 to 1 overall. In fact, some students were opposed. Only 44 per cent preferred the current code. Sixty per cent didn't like it.

Individual Penn
On this point, Edwin B. Faber, sports editor of "The Daily Pennsylvanian," notes: "This result may be surprising to some people, but to us around here it's a breath of fresh air. Around here, we have quite a decided student body opinion that this may reflect in later years.

Other comments
From Steve Halpert, of "The Brown Daily Herald": "No one felt Ivy rail the best, every one considering it inferior to other major leagues but still better than that played in many areas. No one at all felt that Ivy has too many regulations and many students that they had grown conditions and standards for desire for such prominence, feeling that there was no need for Ivy rail to be the best, that they were well satisfied with it in the way it was."

From James M. Wechsler, sports editor of "The Daily Dartmouth": Students like the feel of things. All the players are students and human beings who breaks at school and other places. At the same time, they'd like to see a winning team, and so are looking around for a solution.

From Charles Oggenumberger, sports editor of "The Yale Daily News": "On Question 4 we were accused of leading the question, but we were well satisfied with it in the way it was."

The Yales may have something there.

(Anon) "Standing with the other guys, but we want points and other miscellaneous violations returned."

Results Of Poll On Ivy Football
Question 3-Do you think Ivy League football will go down as the estimation of its adherents after the 1964 performances against non-league teams?

Brown 30
Columbia 27
Dartmouth 15
Harvard 10
Penn 13
Rutgers 9
Yale 7

Vote for 41 24 12 5 3 1 0

None poll 41 24 12 5 3 1 0

Shrink your birthday party open house
3817 spruce street
February 12
1-305 p.m.
dave brunck quartet
much casual beer dress

Don't be Timid...

Valentine's Day...

Be my Valentine...

All unsold birthday party open house

A P O  B O O K  M A R T
OPEN UNTIL FEB. 11 1-5 P.M.
Buy For Less—Sell For More
Payouts On Books Will Be Made February 15, 17, and 18
Location—Basement—Memorial Tower
A Service Project Of Alpha Phi Omega

Don't be Timid...

WHAT ARE YOU

stand up and be counted?

Deposit this slip at
Houston Hall Information Desk
Dormitory Office Desk

Penn, Other Ivy Schools Differ on League Code

League's high-pressure policies, the vote was almost 2 to 1 overall. In fact, some students were opposed. Only 44 per cent preferred the current code. Sixty per cent didn't like it.

Individual Penn
On this point, Edwin B. Faber, sports editor of "The Daily Pennsylvanian," notes: "This result may be surprising to some people, but to us around here it's a breath of fresh air. Around here, we have quite a decided student body opinion that this may reflect in later years.

Other comments
From Steve Halpert, of "The Brown Daily Herald": "No one felt Ivy rail the best, every one considering it inferior to other major leagues but still better than that played in many areas. No one at all felt that Ivy has too many regulations and many students that they had grown conditions and standards for desire for such prominence, feeling that there was no need for Ivy rail to be the best, that they were well satisfied with it in the way it was."

From James M. Wechsler, sports editor of "The Daily Dartmouth": Students like the feel of things. All the players are students and human beings who breaks at school and other places. At the same time, they'd like to see a winning team, and so are looking around for a solution.

From Charles Oggenumberger, sports editor of "The Yale Daily News": "On Question 4 we were accused of leading the question, but we were well satisfied with it in the way it was."

The Yales may have something there.

(Anon) "Standing with the other guys, but we want points and other miscellaneous violations returned."

Results Of Poll On Ivy Football
Question 3-Do you think Ivy League football will go down as the estimation of its adherents after the 1964 performances against non-league teams?

Brown 30
Columbia 27
Dartmouth 15
Harvard 10
Penn 13
Rutgers 9
Yale 7

Vote for 41 24 12 5 3 1 0

None poll 41 24 12 5 3 1 0

Shrink your birthday party open house
3817 spruce street
February 12
1-305 p.m.
dave brunck quartet
much casual beer dress

Don't be Timid...

Valentine's Day...

Be my Valentine...

All unsold birthday party open house

A P O  B O O K  M A R T
OPEN UNTIL FEB. 11 1-5 P.M.
Buy For Less—Sell For More
Payouts On Books Will Be Made February 15, 17, and 18
Location—Basement—Memorial Tower
A Service Project Of Alpha Phi Omega

Don't be Timid...

WHAT ARE YOU

stand up and be counted?

Deposit this slip at
Houston Hall Information Desk
Dormitory Office Desk