Chaplain Harris Speaks At All-University Chapel In Irvine Tomorrow at 11

"Cheap Religion" Will Be Subject of Sermon; Chapel Sponsored by Undergraduate Groups

Chaplain Edward G. Harris will discuss two ways that religion is misused in his sermon, "Cheap Religion," at the February All-University Chapel tomorrow at 11 a.m. in Irvine Auditorium.

The first perversion is made by many persons, most of the time quite innocently. Today religion is used by many as a way to success in business and social life. Writers have often depicted religion as the great influence that offers success through religion as a commodity, the sale of the Chaplain Harris is being hailed as a national asset because of Campion's, the high school in which he taught. This minuscule turn religion into something whose phraseology are rather than alter their positive, he asserted.

Opening the cheap religion, the Chaplain said, is the religion of the self-made man, who is sold the

University's Duty To Stress 'Mind Over Power': Pusey

by Robert F. Longley

It is the duty of universities, such as those represented by the Ivy League to place intellectual physical power is taking a firm hold, said, as Dr. Nathan M. Pusey, President of Harvard University, addressed Senior Society's annual winter banquet Friday night.

Dr. Pusey, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, Harvard University, met with a citation commending his service to the University in the tradition of his forebears.

Universities today have more important roles to play in the world, Dr. Pusey said, and in a summary of his views, he indicated that this fellowship of universities, the Ivy League, has a basic role in teaching the students that they have the responsibility of acting upon what they have learned and of using their thinking in the solution of human problems.

"This is a time of overreaction upon unbalanced power. Pusey discussed also the problem of war and peace, and he said, that the realization of the underdeveloped nations, the trend of athletics toward "big business" has been curbed by the underdevelopment of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences. Pusey pointed out that the division of the university is not always by all students, if inter-

In the talk he will deal with the issues in an assassination of manners. He also has no determination, feeling that the spirit of the class would

DR. ROBERT T. MCCracken

General Verbeck To Address ROTC On 'Fog of War'

Brigadier General William J. Verbeck, commanding general of the Pennsylvania Military District, will speak on "The Fog of War" Wednesday, at 3:15 in Houston Hall Auditorium.

General Verbeck visited campus recently on a routine tour of inspection and was impressed with the quality of the courses. The lecture is open to the public.

In his talk he will deal with the issues in an analysis of manners. He will also discuss the problems of the Great Depression of the 1930s.

The Pennsylvania campus has a number of ROTC programs and is one of the few schools in the country that have ROTC programs. The lecture is open to the public.

First Coffee Hour Held In HH at 3:30

The first in the spring series of Coffee Hours for Student-Faculty coffee hours will be held Thursday from 3:30 to 4:30 in the Man with a Stall, sponsored by the Student-Faculty coffee hours, will be held this spring. The

Lawson, chairman of the coffee hours, stated the purpose of the coffee was to improve relations between students and faculty members and administration.

Police Start Drive To Collect Fines Students Owe

Philadelphia police have begun an all-out drive to crack down on the student, who have allegedly been violating traffic laws on their automobiles.

Sgt. William M. Menner of the traffic summons division de-

First Coffee Hour Held In HH at 3:30

The first in the spring series of Coffee Hours for Student-Faculty coffee hours will be held Thursday from 3:30 to 4:30 in the Man with a Stall, sponsored by the Student-Faculty coffee hours, will be held this spring. The

Lawson, chairman of the coffee hours, stated the purpose of the coffee was to improve relations between students and faculty members and administration.

Police Start Drive To Collect Fines Students Owe

Philadelphia police have begun an all-out drive to crack down on the student, who have allegedly been violating traffic laws on their automobiles.

Sgt. William M. Menner of the traffic summons division de-

First Coffee Hour Held In HH at 3:30

The first in the spring series of Coffee Hours for Student-Faculty coffee hours will be held Thursday from 3:30 to 4:30 in the Man with a Stall, sponsored by the Student-Faculty coffee hours, will be held this spring. The

Lawson, chairman of the coffee hours, stated the purpose of the coffee was to improve relations between students and faculty members and administration.

Police Start Drive To Collect Fines Students Owe

Philadelphia police have begun an all-out drive to crack down on the student, who have allegedly been violating traffic laws on their automobiles.

Sgt. William M. Menner of the traffic summons division de-

First Coffee Hour Held In HH at 3:30

The first in the spring series of Coffee Hours for Student-Faculty coffee hours will be held Thursday from 3:30 to 4:30 in the Man with a Stall, sponsored by the Student-Faculty coffee hours, will be held this spring. The

Lawson, chairman of the coffee hours, stated the purpose of the coffee was to improve relations between students and faculty members and administration.

Police Start Drive To Collect Fines Students Owe

Philadelphia police have begun an all-out drive to crack down on the student, who have allegedly been violating traffic laws on their automobiles.

Sgt. William M. Menner of the traffic summons division de-

First Coffee Hour Held In HH at 3:30

The first in the spring series of Coffee Hours for Student-Faculty coffee hours will be held Thursday from 3:30 to 4:30 in the Man with a Stall, sponsored by the Student-Faculty coffee hours, will be held this spring. The

Lawson, chairman of the coffee hours, stated the purpose of the coffee was to improve relations between students and faculty members and administration.

Police Start Drive To Collect Fines Students Owe

Philadelphia police have begun an all-out drive to crack down on the student, who have allegedly been violating traffic laws on their automobiles.

Sgt. William M. Menner of the traffic summons division de-

First Coffee Hour Held In HH at 3:30

The first in the spring series of Coffee Hours for Student-Faculty coffee hours will be held Thursday from 3:30 to 4:30 in the Man with a Stall, sponsored by the Student-Faculty coffee hours, will be held this spring. The

Lawson, chairman of the coffee hours, stated the purpose of the coffee was to improve relations between students and faculty members and administration.

Police Start Drive To Collect Fines Students Owe

Philadelphia police have begun an all-out drive to crack down on the student, who have allegedly been violating traffic laws on their automobiles.

Sgt. William M. Menner of the traffic summons division de-

First Coffee Hour Held In HH at 3:30

The first in the spring series of Coffee Hours for Student-Faculty coffee hours will be held Thursday from 3:30 to 4:30 in the Man with a Stall, sponsored by the Student-Faculty coffee hours, will be held this spring. The

Lawson, chairman of the coffee hours, stated the purpose of the coffee was to improve relations between students and faculty members and administration.

Police Start Drive To Collect Fines Students Owe

Philadelphia police have begun an all-out drive to crack down on the student, who have allegedly been violating traffic laws on their automobiles.

Sgt. William M. Menner of the traffic summons division de-

First Coffee Hour Held In HH at 3:30

The first in the spring series of Coffee Hours for Student-Faculty coffee hours will be held Thursday from 3:30 to 4:30 in the Man with a Stall, sponsored by the Student-Faculty coffee hours, will be held this spring. The

Lawson, chairman of the coffee hours, stated the purpose of the coffee was to improve relations between students and faculty members and administration.

Police Start Drive To Collect Fines Students Owe

Philadelphia police have begun an all-out drive to crack down on the student, who have allegedly been violating traffic laws on their automobiles.

Sgt. William M. Menner of the traffic summons division de-

First Coffee Hour Held In HH at 3:30

The first in the spring series of Coffee Hours for Student-Faculty coffee hours will be held Thursday from 3:30 to 4:30 in the Man with a Stall, sponsored by the Student-Faculty coffee hours, will be held this spring. The

Lawson, chairman of the coffee hours, stated the purpose of the coffee was to improve relations between students and faculty members and administration.

Police Start Drive To Collect Fines Students Owe

Philadelphia police have begun an all-out drive to crack down on the student, who have allegedly been violating traffic laws on their automobiles.

Sgt. William M. Menner of the traffic summons division de-

First Coffee Hour Held In HH at 3:30

The first in the spring series of Coffee Hours for Student-Faculty coffee hours will be held Thursday from 3:30 to 4:30 in the Man with a Stall, sponsored by the Student-Faculty coffee hours, will be held this spring. The

Lawson, chairman of the coffee hours, stated the purpose of the coffee was to improve relations between students and faculty members and administration.

Police Start Drive To Collect Fines Students Owe

Philadelphia police have begun an all-out drive to crack down on the student, who have allegedly been violating traffic laws on their automobiles.

Sgt. William M. Menner of the traffic summons division de-

First Coffee Hour Held In HH at 3:30

The first in the spring series of Coffee Hours for Student-Faculty coffee hours will be held Thursday from 3:30 to 4:30 in the Man with a Stall, sponsored by the Student-Faculty coffee hours, will be held this spring. The

Lawson, chairman of the coffee hours, stated the purpose of the coffee was to improve relations between students and faculty members and administration.

Police Start Drive To Collect Fines Students Owe

Philadelphia police have begun an all-out drive to crack down on the student, who have allegedly been violating traffic laws on their automobiles.

Sgt. William M. Menner of the traffic summons division de-

First Coffee Hour Held In HH at 3:30

The first in the spring series of Coffee Hours for Student-Faculty coffee hours will be held Thursday from 3:30 to 4:30 in the Man with a Stall, sponsored by the Student-Faculty coffee hours, will be held this spring. The

Lawson, chairman of the coffee hours, stated the purpose of the coffee was to improve relations between students and faculty members and administration.
New Curfew in City; Possible Abuses Seen

by Arthur C. Pariente

Philadelphia is a conservative city. Staid, 266 years old, it is the "Cradle of Freedom," and the people here have some of the same old-fashioned ideas that one of the most controversial bills ever passed here was the death-bell of the Curfew. There may be some doubt whether the new curfew will actually go into effect, but certainly the death-bell of the Curfew will also become the death-bell of the Curfew.

There can be little doubt that the new bill will be enacted, or that it wasn't a life of liberty for the people of Philadelphia who have not been able to sleep in peace at night. Some of the old-timers here believe that the new curfew will be a great improvement over the old one, but others believe it will only be a temporary measure. The new curfew will be enforced by the police department, and it will be up to them to make sure that the law is obeyed.

Proposed Identification Cards

Right now, the same gentlemen are constructing teenagers carry identification cards. But not all crime is committed by teenagers, so why should the only ones who have to carry cards?

There are many other ways of identifying criminals, and it would not be fair to make teenagers carry identification cards. The police department could do a better job of enforcing the law without the use of identification cards.

Inconspicuous Cards

Not all crimes are committed by people who have been sentenced to prison, but only by people who have had enough of the law. Some of the people who are now identified by identification cards are not criminals at all. They could be checked to see if they had any connection with various wanted criminals.

Impracticability

By the way, on the second thought, we've learned that we expect five-year-olds to start stealing hub-caps. But at least they'll give us a laugh as they try to give in to an urge and get rid of them, and they'll be able to give us a laugh even if they don't succeed.

What about the card itself? Of course we'll have name, address, birthplace, and maybe a photograph of a disfigured person. What about a picture of the product of a defect like this? Why the pipes might be checked. Of course, some of the people who are now identified by identification cards are not criminals at all. They could be checked to see if they had any connection with various wanted criminals.

Prowling Around

The University of Pennsylvania, for the uninhibited, is composed of some eighty-odd buildings dispersed over an area from 40th Street to the Schuylkill, and between Spruce and Building and Grounds going around the University. This means a walk to the Medical Building, to College Hall. After a few minutes rest, this process starts all over.

For more information from all over America?

Let us, therefore, have passed a bill which would make identification of criminals easier.

What's the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . . We'll set up a system for the police department to check on those who were after or by persons under 17. So, why should they be held to the point there? Let's see. . . .
Quaker Track Coach's India Trip Successful

by Hugh Jaccourt

In recent years Pennsylvania's trackmen have been touring throughout Europe, but their coach Ken Doherty has gone one step further by traveling to India after a short stay in Rome. Doherty left December 1 and returned late in January to guide his charges in the remainder of their indoor season.

However, the trip was not an easy one for the trackmen enjoyed. Doherty had a cold during his stay, and the Indians mostly practiced all of his time was spent in combating epidemics. Doherty's Quaker mentor is head of the Telephone

Ken Doherty

Eight Games Slated As Ivy League Race Near Final Week

This is a crucial week of action in the Ivy League Track League, as ten games will be played in the next eight days. These games will be mismarked by a full schedule of contests on Saturday.

Saturday's top two games will find Columbia visiting Pennsylvania and Princeton at Cornell.
Before last weekend's activity, the Quakers were atop the national charts; but no real change in their rankings took place. The Quakers held a slim 29-27 half as they aspired to a comeback in the second half.

Freshman Basketball Squad

Wins Third Straight Contest

Pennsylvania's freshman basketball squad defeated Pennsylvania Military College Prep, 76-64, at the Palestra, Friday night. The Quakers pulled off the upset with points on 13 field goals.

George DeMaggio with 25 points and Arthur Beck with 22 provided the reserves with a strong scoring combination. Center Paul Stauffer tallied 16 for P.M.C. on 13 field goals.

The Quakers held a slim 29-27 advantage at half time as they were able to score but four points in the second 20 minutes of playing time.

Bader Scores

Kelly provided the extra Red
and Blue drive in the contest when he aspired to a comeback in the second half.

The Lions visited an improving Pennsylvania squad, and they shipped in with 18 points in the second half, and finished with 14
touches in the contest.

Freshman Basketball — College All have two games this week.

The Lions won an improving Pennsylvania squad, and
they shipped in with 18 points in the second half, and finished with 14
touches in the contest.

Bader Scores

Kelly provided the extra Red
and Blue drive in the contest when he was 3 of 4 in the second half.

The Lions visited an improving
Pennsylvania squad, and
they shipped in with 18 points in the second half, and finished with 14
touches in the contest.

Bader Scores

Kelly provided the extra Red
and Blue drive in the contest when he was 3 of 4 in the second half.

The Lions visited an improving
Pennsylvania squad, and
they shipped in with 18 points in the second half, and finished with 14
touches in the contest.

Freshman Basketball — College All have two games this week.

The Lions won an improving
Pennsylvania squad, and
they shipped in with 18 points in the second half, and finished with 14
touches in the contest.

Bader Scores

Kelly provided the extra Red
and Blue drive in the contest when he was 3 of 4 in the second half.

The Lions visited an improving
Pennsylvania squad, and
they shipped in with 18 points in the second half, and finished with 14
touches in the contest.

Freshman Basketball — College All have two games this week.

The Lions won an improving
Pennsylvania squad, and
they shipped in with 18 points in the second half, and finished with 14
touches in the contest.

Bader Scores

Kelly provided the extra Red
and Blue drive in the contest when he was 3 of 4 in the second half.

The Lions visited an improving
Pennsylvania squad, and
they shipped in with 18 points in the second half, and finished with 14
touches in the contest.

Freshman Basketball — College All have two games this week.

The Lions won an improving
Pennsylvania squad, and
they shipped in with 18 points in the second half, and finished with 14
touches in the contest.

Bader Scores

Kelly provided the extra Red
and Blue drive in the contest when he was 3 of 4 in the second half.

The Lions visited an improving
Pennsylvania squad, and
they shipped in with 18 points in the second half, and finished with 14
touches in the contest.
Police Start Drive To Collect Fines

(Continued From Page One)

has "been on the increase recently."

The policeman said that the procedure in such cases was to refer the license number of a car from out of state on which a violation was not settled to the Bureau of Motor Vehicles of the home state of the violator.

Once the ownership of the car is established the name of the owner is checked against the enrollment lists of the institution pertinent the place where the violation occurred in an effort to find the local address of the owner. Although Sergeant Wernher mentioned the office of the Registrar as the source of that information, the University Registrar, said that his office is now equipped to furnish such information to the authorities, that it would come from the lists of the school in which the individual is enrolled. Dr. Newpher said that his office would eventually serve as a clearing house for such information, but that this would not be "an everyday occurrence until about a year's time."

A check with the Dean's office of both the Wharton School and the School of Commerce showed that there had been no further enlightenment on the source of legal addresses of out of state drivers. Spokesmen for both of these offices said that there had been no contact "so far" with state officials seeking such information. Both spokesmen said that they spoke of each contact, it had been "a low." The Campus Guards who were also mentioned as a possible source of the local addresses of violators, stated that they had not, in the past, supplied such information in the Philadelphia war zone. The Guards said, however, that the source of out of state cars which the police wish to trace themselves have been found through direct communications with the Missouri Highway Patrol in the state in which the car was registered.

One source contacted said that he suspected that the tracing of a number could be done by the police by expending $2 for a Campus Directory, which contains the names and addresses of students enrolled in the University.

Many Are Against New Eating Plan

(Continued From Page One)

keeps up the spirit of the whole University."

Reasons Declined

The president of another fraternity was disappointed with the reasons that were expressed by the administration for the plan. He said, "Everyone knows that the purpose of this is not to make money, but to aid the University financially. I don't think that they try to make revenue for the school, but why can't they be honest with the students about it?"

The most vehement opponent among the fraternity men said, "The idea is designed to accomplish one of two possible ends. Either they want to make Penn a non-fraternity school or they desire to have a one-year plan of life before finishing first and kill the present system. In either case Penn would be reduced in status to a city school such as Temple."

George B. Peters, Dean of Men, replied to the fraternity's charges by saying that the University does not wish to drive fraternities off campus. Before the idea of a freshman commons plan was in existence, and fraternities were able to maintain their autonomy. As to some of the reasons given, Peters claimed that Houston Hall's existing facilities were not sufficient to full capacity. "This is an indication that the food of Houston Hall is of better than average quality," he stated.

Many Are Against New Eating Plan

(Continued From Page One)

keeps up the spirit of the whole University."

Reasons Declined

The president of another fraternity was disappointed with the reasons that were expressed by the administration for the plan. He said, "Everyone knows that the purpose of this is not to make money, but to aid the University financially. I don't think that they try to make revenue for the school, but why can't they be honest with the students about it?"

The most vehement opponent among the fraternity men said, "The idea is designed to accomplish one of two possible ends. Either they want to make Penn a non-fraternity school or they desire to have a one-year plan of life before finishing first and kill the present system. In either case Penn would be reduced in status to a city school such as Temple."

George B. Peters, Dean of Men, replied to the fraternity's charges by saying that the University does not wish to drive fraternities off campus. Before the idea of a freshman commons plan was in existence, and fraternities were able to maintain their autonomy. As to some of the reasons given, Peters claimed that Houston Hall's existing facilities were not sufficient to full capacity. "This is an indication that the food of Houston Hall is of better than average quality," he stated.

Many Are Against New Eating Plan

(Continued From Page One)

keeps up the spirit of the whole University."

Reasons Declined

The president of another fraternity was disappointed with the reasons that were expressed by the administration for the plan. He said, "Everyone knows that the purpose of this is not to make money, but to aid the University financially. I don't think that they try to make revenue for the school, but why can't they be honest with the students about it?"

The most vehement opponent among the fraternity men said, "The idea is designed to accomplish one of two possible ends. Either they want to make Penn a non-fraternity school or they desire to have a one-year plan of life before finishing first and kill the present system. In either case Penn would be reduced in status to a city school such as Temple."

George B. Peters, Dean of Men, replied to the fraternity's charges by saying that the University does not wish to drive fraternities off campus. Before the idea of a freshman commons plan was in existence, and fraternities were able to maintain their autonomy. As to some of the reasons given, Peters claimed that Houston Hall's existing facilities were not sufficient to full capacity. "This is an indication that the food of Houston Hall is of better than average quality," he stated.

Many Are Against New Eating Plan

(Continued From Page One)

keeps up the spirit of the whole University."

Reasons Declined

The president of another fraternity was disappointed with the reasons that were expressed by the administration for the plan. He said, "Everyone knows that the purpose of this is not to make money, but to aid the University financially. I don't think that they try to make revenue for the school, but why can't they be honest with the students about it?"

The most vehement opponent among the fraternity men said, "The idea is designed to accomplish one of two possible ends. Either they want to make Penn a non-fraternity school or they desire to have a one-year plan of life before finishing first and kill the present system. In either case Penn would be reduced in status to a city school such as Temple."

George B. Peters, Dean of Men, replied to the fraternity's charges by saying that the University does not wish to drive fraternities off campus. Before the idea of a freshman commons plan was in existence, and fraternities were able to maintain their autonomy. As to some of the reasons given, Peters claimed that Houston Hall's existing facilities were not sufficient to full capacity. "This is an indication that the food of Houston Hall is of better than average quality," he stated.

Many Are Against New Eating Plan

(Continued From Page One)

keeps up the spirit of the whole University."

Reasons Declined

The president of another fraternity was disappointed with the reasons that were expressed by the administration for the plan. He said, "Everyone knows that the purpose of this is not to make money, but to aid the University financially. I don't think that they try to make revenue for the school, but why can't they be honest with the students about it?"

The most vehement opponent among the fraternity men said, "The idea is designed to accomplish one of two possible ends. Either they want to make Penn a non-fraternity school or they desire to have a one-year plan of life before finishing first and kill the present system. In either case Penn would be reduced in status to a city school such as Temple."

George B. Peters, Dean of Men, replied to the fraternity's charges by saying that the University does not wish to drive fraternities off campus. Before the idea of a freshman commons plan was in existence, and fraternities were able to maintain their autonomy. As to some of the reasons given, Peters claimed that Houston Hall's existing facilities were not sufficient to full capacity. "This is an indication that the food of Houston Hall is of better than average quality," he stated.

Many Are Against New Eating Plan

(Continued From Page One)

keeps up the spirit of the whole University."

Reasons Declined

The president of another fraternity was disappointed with the reasons that were expressed by the administration for the plan. He said, "Everyone knows that the purpose of this is not to make money, but to aid the University financially. I don't think that they try to make revenue for the school, but why can't they be honest with the students about it?"

The most vehement opponent among the fraternity men said, "The idea is designed to accomplish one of two possible ends. Either they want to make Penn a non-fraternity school or they desire to have a one-year plan of life before finishing first and kill the present system. In either case Penn would be reduced in status to a city school such as Temple."

George B. Peters, Dean of Men, replied to the fraternity's charges by saying that the University does not wish to drive fraternities off campus. Before the idea of a freshman commons plan was in existence, and fraternities were able to maintain their autonomy. As to some of the reasons given, Peters claimed that Houston Hall's existing facilities were not sufficient to full capacity. "This is an indication that the food of Houston Hall is of better than average quality," he stated.