Penn Hooper Defeats Nittany Lions, 85-79; 2 Men Total 61 Points

Sturgis and Bayne Score 22 Each, Leach 17; State's Home Winning Streak Broken After 45 by Howard Baum

STATE COLLEGE, PA., March 2—Barry Leach, Bob Sturgis and Joe Bayne combined for 61 points to help the Quakers break Penn State's 45 game winning streak at home, as Pennsylvania handed the Nittany Lions an 85-79 loss before 6,000 in Recreation Hall tonight.

The Quakers thus became the first team to turn back the Nittany Lions this season and since Caliguire turned the trick back in January.

Leach became the fourth Penn Stater to score 20 or more points in his college career, after Bill Bostick in 1952, Howard Baum in 1951, and John Herbst last year. Forward's goal, a jump-shot, on a two-on-one fast break for the last 1 point, led, 61-50.

The loss of the Lions ended one of its finest of games to date, against Big Ten foes.

The Quakers will meet tomorrow night in the last of its remaining home games, including the University of Maryland.

Denny Arndt, 21 points, 19 rebounds, also starred for the Quakers. He had 10 of his points in the first half, while six minutes and 36 seconds of the game were played.

The loss of Arndt ended any chance of the Lions winning the National Hockey Invitational.

State Led At Half

The visitors, after building a five-point lead (47-42) at intermission, never had any lead in the second period. The nearest that the Nittany Lions came during the game was three points, 49-46. In the opening 10 minutes, 8,886 fans were present.

Kansas City, playing one of its usual five offensive games, never had any points in the opening 10 minutes and although he finished the game with 45 points, he could not have been considered a threat to win.

Joe Runci, 21 points, 19 rebounds, for the Quakers, was his second highest point total. He was the only player with 10 or more rebounds. He had 10 points in the first half, the latter setting a new career record.

The home five kept its lead until until Flinders led the Red and Blue in front, 10-9, on a foul shot.

During the next four minutes, the lead changed hands on four occasions, until Flinders' one-pointer gave the Pennsylvanians a lead that they never relinquished.

OPENED: Congrats to all thirty-eight on opening day! You girls are looking great! Now that the hectic season is over, we can get on with the work and enjoy ourselves. They’re as good as their press clippings say they are. The new girls have the look of the autumn. The new pledge classes were fitted with everything they needed for their new status.

Happenings were too numerous to mention. As in previous years, the members of the Delta Phi Epsilon officers were on time and ready to go. The officers were on time and ready to go. The officers were on time and ready to go. Meanwhile, the new girls were being fitted with everything they needed for their new status.

Letter To The Editor

Editor, Daily Pennsylvanian:

Some complaints have been lodged concerning the use of local merchants in delivering packages. It is true that some merchants have been neglecting their responsibilities, but it appears that the responsibility and the position of the Daily Pennsylvanian is not directly involved.

The Dorrery Office is obliged to deliver United States mail, protected by the stamp of the United States Post Office, to the various offices and residences of students, and to extend to the students living in the Dorrery Office the service of receiving and delivering telephone messages, hand delivered mail, and notices of a number of special activities sponsored by the University or by groups of students.

Unfortunately, the February freshman is in such a hurry to get the letter that it is easy to overlook the need of courteous attention from the Dorrery Office.

I know that the invitations were taken from the right boxes and put into the mail room and the people at the desk simply did not have time to put these invitations into the box, because they arrived on Tuesday to advertise a smorgasbord on Wednesday, sometimes, they practically advertised themselves as a kind of informal baggage checking service. Needed, of course, on all college campuses, it is service that needs to be well done.

It must be remembered that the Dorrery Office is not an office of the University, but it contributes to the welfare of the student body, especially in the case of local merchants.

During rushing, we found out somewhere, it seems to us, that local merchants are not at the front of the line, or perhaps we should say that it is a very busy line.

February traditionally starts the new and heralds in the new semesters of the scholastic year. It is also a month of sniffles and Illnesses. It is a time of one’s undergraduate career. February, however, assumes added significance because of the first of one’s classes which accept freshmen as members.

Penn Retains Feb. Admissions Policy

No different from any of the other colleges in the league, Penn’s acceptance procedures of February freshmen were adopted by the University, and are the result of specific provisions made in certain regulations of the Intercollegiate League schools included. Pennsylvania had adopted it in the belief that the February freshman could be better than a summer freshman, and that they would be of higher quality. The faculty of the University of Pennsylvania is one of the few remaining American universities which has adopted the February freshman policy.

NEW COIN TYPEWRITER INSTALLED IN LIBRARY OLD STACK BASEMENT

A coin typewriter has been recently installed in the basement of the old stack of the library according to Walter W. Wright, assistant librarian.

The typewriter, installed as a pilot project, will be used by students, staff, and the general public. The University reserves 18% of the proceeds resulting from the operation of the instrument. The remaining 82% go to the Oregon Corporation of Los Angeles, California.

The single typewriter is fabricated by the Adler Company of Germany. It has the same general features of an American-made typewriter but is heavier. The Adler has a larger platen, seven keys which are raised and lowered, and an alignment tab. It is, however, built more sturdily than an ordinary typewriter, because it must undergo use by the public.

The University saw a need for a minicoin typewriter when many students asked to use the library's office typewriters. To those in the library who are members of the Phi Delta Kappa, membership to the office typewriters will be added. So far, Wright claims, student use of the Adler typewriter has been increasing.
