Bordogna To Assume New Position at Drill Today; Doran Is Appointed New Lieutenant Commander

Midshipman Joseph Bordogna has been appointed Midshipman Captain of the University's NROTC Battalion and will assume his new responsibilities at Drill today at Decorator Hall, as will other new midshipman officers.

A senior in the Moore School, Bordogna is president of the Moore School Council and Tau Beta Pi, national engineering society.

Midshipman Edwin Doran, who was appointed as a midshipman last summer, has been named to the rank of Lieutenant Commander and will be a junior in the Midshipman Ensign program at the University of Pennsylvania. He will be a member of the Kappa Epsilon fraternity. Both Doran and Bordogna were promoted during the Fall semester.

Dr. David Doringer, educator, astronomer, and author, will be a keynote speaker at a meeting of the University's Astronomy Club at 4 p.m. in the Main Auditorium. Dr. Doringer is a member of the Space Association and the American Astronomical Society.

The main theme of Dr. Doringer's speech will be on the existence of a true alphabet, at least from the Semitic point of view. The review concludes that the book is a comprehensive, well-conceived, and readable work chiefly archaeological and historical, fields in which he excels.

The book concentrates on a review of the assorted kinds of writing produced by the human race; hieroglyphics, ideograms, syllabaries, and all the variations of the alphabet. It is illustrated with examples of every variation and its evolution.

Apo backs Project for Student Health

Alpha Phi Omega, a national service fraternity, will highlight the week's activities of the Student Health Service with a series of events.

The purpose of this party was to introduce the judges to the competition. A free-lance writer by the name of R. E. Haddad, who was born in 1910 in the State of Maine, was one of the judges.

The keynote speaker at the event was Dr. George Haddad, professor of history at the University of Syria, and author of a new book on the history of the Middle East.

Dr. Haddad said that the first goal of the party was to bring together students and faculty in a casual setting.

In his address, he spoke about the importance of the Middle East and its role in today's world.

"Although the influence of the West on the Middle East has been significant," Dr. Haddad said, "the region remains complex and challenging."

"The future of the Middle East is uncertain," he continued. "The region is rich in resources, but also fraught with conflict."

Dr. Haddad also spoke about the importance of understanding the region and its complex history.

"The Middle East is a region of great importance," he said. "It is a region of great diversity, and its history is full of twists and turns."

Dr. Haddad ended his address by thanking the audience for attending the event.

"I hope that you all enjoyed the evening," he said. "I hope that we all learned something and had a great time."

"Carousel" Company Features Talented, Experienced Actors

by A. Rosenste& and A. C. Pariente

The magnetic personality of Billy Big-agogue, the male lead in the Pennsylvania

Newspaper, is played by Robert Ragaini. The role of Billy Biggagogue is a character who reveals a great deal of in the story with outward kindness in his and who does not present his true self until the very end of the production. In addition to his activity with the Players, Ragaini also plays the part of the Beng Pingo.

Harriet Miller As "Julee"

In the production of "Carousel," Harriet

Miller brings a wealth of experiences in musical production. A recent transfer from Bryn Mawr College, she has appeared in the "Red Mill," "Nanook Maciella," and "the Fortune Teller" before coming to Pennsylvania. The part of Julee, a woman, sympathetic and charming 18-year-old, who refuses to yield in her belief in

Amy Kurz As "Carrie"

Any Kurz, sophomore in the College for Women and member of Alpha Chi Omega, plays the role of Carrie in her first college musical. In addition to her activity with the Players, she is active in the A Cappella Choir, the Glee Club, and the Choral Society. When she is not appearing on stage, Kurz is a member of the Penn Women's Association, and a member of the Campus Glee Club.

Stuart Bardin As "Mr. Snow"

Another excellent performance was given by Stuart Bardin, a graduating senior. Stuart has been active in the Penn Players for four years, and he has been a member of several other campus groups. Bardin's role is that of a New Englander portrayed in "Carousel." Lemuel Schofield portrays

Mr. Snow, the part of Mr. Snow in this production.

Cricket Team Holds Practice

The cricket club, which recently gained University sanction, has been holding practice for the past three weeks at River Pilot B in preparation for the start of the season.

At the present time only three games have been definitely scheduled—Lower Merion Cricket Club Association and Cornell. The latter defeated the Quakers last season. Athletics department officials are currently in the process of working out arrangements with other universities to increase the size of the schedule to at least seven matches.

Balt vows to return; one club will be eliminated, who are interested, to come out for the club. Experienced players are desired, but it is not a prerequisite.

There is strong competition for all positions on the starting eleven with the exception of cricketers, who are selected by coach and captain of the club, Dan Breen.

George Mungo, Director of Physical Education, will serve as faculty advisor to the cricket club, and will have a similar position last year.

Managerial Board

There will be a meeting of the manager board tonight at seven in the Franklin Society Room.

Wrestling

There will be a combined meeting of the freshman and the junior wrestling teams tonight at seven in the Franklin Society Room.

I-M Track Postponed

The annual spring athletic event, the I-M track meet, originally scheduled for tomorrow at 4 p.m. on Franklin Field, has been postponed due to heavy rain.

Sports Weekend

The semi-final playoffs of the Inter-Fraternity Bowling League began today, as Theta Chi and Tau Epsilon Phi won their games to enter the I-F finals.

Theta Chi, led by Vern Schmuck, who scored 201, 191, and 157 for a 549 series and Tori Mort et al., who rolled 168, 160, 215—543, defeated Alpha Epsilon Pi 4-0.

Gary Bierman headed Tau Epsilon Phi with 234, 211, and 157 in a 592-444 victory over Kappa Xi. TEP was first in the regular season standings in the Blue League with a 4-0 record, 2-3 of the best compiled since I-F competition began.

The White League and Blue League have also completed their regular season play and will start semi-final competition this week.

The top four teams in the White League, Pi Lambda Phi, Phi Rappah Phlata, Beta Sigma Kho, and Phi Gamma Delta will meet to determine which two will enter the playoff finals, as will Lambda Chi Alpha, Delta Upsilon, Beta Theta Phi, and Phi Alpha in the Blue League.

The winner of the final playoff series will be determined by a round robin tournament comprising the six top teams in the league. Two teams from each of the three divisions, as selected by the semi-final playoffs, will make up the final round. The winner will be declared Inter-Fraternity Champion and will be held at present by Tau Epsilon Phi.

15 Penn Students Attend Government Conference

In the spring of this year, 15 students representing 11 colleges and universities in Pennsylvania are visiting Washington, D.C., as the result of a program sponsored by the Pennsylvania Student Assembly.

Among the students were 15 Pennsylvania students.

The students formed several committees and will work on the full agenda in the interest of the group. The work will be guided by a bill to mobilize the Pennsylvania Student Assembly in Pennsylvania.
