1955 Record
Honors Harnwell

The 1955 Record, which is being distributed in Houston Hall today, has been dedicated to Dr. Gaston F. Harnwell, president of the University.

Dr. Gaston F. Harnwell, president of the University, is the dedicatee of the 1955 Record, which is being distributed today in the Bowel Room of Houston Hall.

The 1955 Record is the third volume of the yearbook. The book contains, according to James Wilson, business manager of the Record, "a prominent role in man's social life." It "contains, pictures according to Wilson, "a record of one year more than do words. The staff has placed special emphasis on the pictorial representation of campus life."

This year's Record contains 1,000 full-color pages, according to Wilson, "to portray the natural beauty of Pennsylvania's environment." He said that the Record staff had recognized that "the social scene in the modern stadium, athletics have occupied a prominent role in man's social activities," and so much space is devoted to Pennsylvania athletics.

Turning to the section of the Record dealing with extra-curricular activities, Wilson said, "Within the cover of the yearbook, the activities which are actually brought to life in such a way that the reader will certainly appreciate the place of importance this year."

The fraternity section of the Record, according to Wilson, "represents the finest fraternities, pictures so that the results typically classify the fraternal organizations."

Queen of Ball Chosen
Today at Cocktail Party

An all-campus event for this year will come to a climax tonight at the Ivy Ball to be held in the Broadwood Hotel from 10 p.m. to 3 a.m., with music provided by the orchestra of Les Elgart and Hal Simpson.

Beginning at 4 p.m., the annual Ball will be the announcement of the queen and her court, followed by a cocktail party this afternoon.

The Ball is the main event in the week of Senior Activities, which began Tuesday with the sale of tickets at the freshman office. The annual Masquerade Ball, which begins Tuesday at 7 p.m., will be followed by a concert and dance. The week will end with the all-campus Senior Dance on Thursday night in the ballroom of the Broadwood Hotel.

The queen of the ball will be chosen this afternoon at a cocktail party at the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity from 3:30 to 5:30. Judges for the affair are: Stella Betts, head football coach; Dr. William F. Harbeson, professor of English; Michael Diamant, assistant professor of geography; and Philip Eiken, instructor in insurance.

After being interviewed by the judges, the queen will be selected on the basis of the quality of her appearance, personality, and beauty.

Fellow classmates and friends, if Abraham Lincoln had lived during our time, he might have appeared here today, instead of a century ago. It is not impossible that he might have been to this campus in 1860 and directly involved in the great struggle that this nation was fighting. Today we are engaged in a struggle for survival which is a reprise of the struggle of those who fought that great battle.

The traditions of the University are an integral part of our history. They are the fabric which we are weaving and the symbols of our faith and ideals. The traditions of the University are a reflection of the ideals and aspirations of the people who have gone before us.

Fellow classmates, the time has come for us to capitalize on the opportunities available to the graduates of this University. The process of education does not cease with graduation, but continues as we face the world alone.

The Class of '57 offers its congratulations to the Senior Class.

Punch-line to the year's hottest power story—

Chevrolet "Turbo-Fire V8"!

This is the engine that's writing a whole new chapter in the book of automobile performance records. This is the engine that has stock car timers doing a "double take" at their stop-watches wherever experts gather to compare the abilities of the 1955 cars.

For example, in the recent NASCAR stock car competition at Daytona Beach, Florida, Chevrolet literally ran away from every other car in its class—and a raft of others besides. In the one-mile straightaway run for low-priced cars, the first two places—and six of the first ten—went to Chevrolets. And in acceleration runs from a standing start, against all comers, the Motoramic Chevrolet beat all other low-priced cars—and every high-priced car except one!

What's behind this blazing performance? A compact honey of a V8 that only the world's leading producer of valve-in-head engines can build. Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8"!

You're in charge of its 162 high-octane horsepower—or if you're looking for even more excitement, the new "Super Turbo-Fire V8" (optional at extra cost) puts 180 h.p. under your toe!

Pick the one you'd rather have fun with, then come in and get behind the wheel. You'll see why the Motoramic Chevrolet is showing its heels to everyone else on the road!

Honors Men In Review

Twenty-five years ago this June, Duncan S. Briggs, Lemuel A. Oeyer, J. B. Briggs and Lemuel A. Oeyer, Jr., the four seniors who were the men of the present year, much talked about. Topper on to the Hey Day festivities platform and record, Duncan S. Briggs and Lemuel A. Oeyer, Jr., were presented on Class Day, and the Spade from four senior members of the Undergraduate Council was awarded. These same awards a quarter of a century before.

Because it is a tradition at Pennsylvania, the men of twenty-five years ago to become the Hey Day honorary members of the Undergraduate Council, the title of junior and senior class, a member of Friars Hall, the Blue Key Society, and was a member of the Undergraduate Council, and a member of the Undergraduate Council. Oeyer has been a member of the Undergraduate Council, and was a member of the Undergraduate Council. Oeyer was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania.

The 1955 class, the same as it was in 1930, the only difference being the four seniors named above are present instead of reporting them this year.

But what has happened to these four men since they received the highest awards at the University? Undergraduate members of the class of 1930, many of whom they became, are present today as it was in 1930, the only difference being the four seniors named above are present instead of reporting them this year.

In a battle of champions Pennsylvania's sprint and John Haines will race tonight in the Los Angeles Coliseum Relays 100 yard dash.

The race marks a weekend for Haines, who Wednesday set two meet records and a Penn standard against Princeton and flew two "slower" men at :09.6 are.

Tennis Squad
Closes Season

Two weekend matches, one with an ELI opponent and the other with a non-league foe, will provide the Pennsylvania tennis team with its last chance to end the season above the .500 mark.

Frosh Nine Face Camden, Princeton Over Weekend

Pennsylvania's frosh baseball team has a full schedule this weekend, facing Camden High School this afternoon and the Princeton frosh, tomorrow, both at Murphy Field.

Frosh Duel Tiger Team

Concluding its season, the Princeton frosh, tomorrow, with Pete Brightman doing the pitching against Camden from afternoon. Princeton can be expected to put up a tough battle.
On Friday, September 7, 1951, we were greeted by President Charles L. Harwell, who was an education major at the time. Dr. Harwell has been chosen as new president of the university, and we can only hope that this will be the beginning of a new era for the campus, from an educational point of view.

Our main concern in life at this point was (1) scholastic endeavor of course; (2) football season. We knew that we would have to be patient, for about six weeks until the festivities would begin. One of the first events which was anticipated at the end of the semester was a football game. Karl Heagney, head coach of the D. P. team, had announced that a return toWyoming would be a fitting tribute to George Munger, who had more "friends" than Chuck Sebo, employed many novel ideas, including split T, split end, and we were well represented here at Penn.

Our ugly duckling would soon be in his last year as head football coach. On the field for us and the University as a whole Ken Baum was elected frosh president. Our first political campaign was waged soon after, and Pili, emerged victorious as our president.

It is unimportant whether or not the Lincoln Street residents were actually awakened one morning by the sound of pneumatic drills. We did wake up, however, and we found ourselves no longer a campus surrounded by a fence, but a university which was rapidly moving toward its full potential. The campus housed our ideals, dreams, and aspirations, and we were quite content with them.

In athletics, our principle achievement of the year was that of Bart Leach, who was finally awarded the University Man of the Year award. Bart, who scored many points for the D. P. team, had been a consistent performer throughout the season. He was a great leader and a great inspiration to his fellow students. Bart Leach is the type of person who will be remembered for years to come, not only for his athletic ability, but for his character and his dedication to his work. His contribution to the University will be remembered for a long time to come.

Another important event of the year was the opening of Dietrich Hall. This hall was a monument to the spirit of cooperation and the desire for excellence. It was a symbol of the progress that had been made in the past and the potential that lay ahead for the future. When Dietrich Hall opened its doors, it was a sign of the progress that had been made in the past and the potential that lay ahead for the future.

During the fall with our football season, we saw our beautiful cavernous jaws to receive us. In hopes that some day we would see our beautiful cavernous jaws to receive us another day. To the D. P. heeling transpired, the Importance of Which no one was cognizant at the time. To the D. P. heeling transpired, the Importance of Which no one was cognizant at the time.
