Free Record Photos Scheduled This Week

All seniors who failed to have their photograph taken for the 1940 Record may do so Wednesday or Friday of this week at the Fawcett Studio on the top floor of the Franklin Society Building, 2443 Woodland Ave., between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. Although the Record's photography contract with Fawcett Studios has expired, the three day extension period was granted by the Studio in order that each senior would have one final chance to have his picture included in the yearbook, announced John Dugan, Record editor.

Blake cites Danger of Fighting Communism With Americanism

"One of the dangers that Christianity is facing today is that it is using the philosophy of American nationalism in its fight against Communism," said Dr. Eugene C. Blake, president of the National Council of Churches, in his address to students at the University Museum yesterday.

"I feel it is the blood of Christ that should cleanse the world, and not the spirit of American nationalism which is killing the red blood of the Christina Revolution," Dr. Blake added.
