Penn Med, Dental Schools Practice Bias, Group Asserts

Philadelphia, March 10—A group of students from the University of Pennsylvania and the Joseph's Hospital School of Medicine, which is connected with the University, have appealed to the University president and to the faculty to take action to prevent discrimination in the universities' practices. The students say that they have been denied admission to the schools because of their race.

Is it not an unusual procedure to dedicate songs, books, monuments, etc., to childishness? It is not only possible, but it is hoped, that some of you students who are still around to read it in the future will be able to find the time to appreciate this essay. The obvious conclusion is that the Interfraternity Council have fallen short of the group's avowed purpose. First, let us be the first to object. And second, quite a bit more important, is the matter of the two fraternities which mailed information to prospective rushers. The penalties meted out to the offenders were ridiculously reminiscent of early penal legislation, in which the list of crimes punishable by death was well over 200. Whether the members of the Disciplinary Committee acted from other than honorariously motives is open to question. The spirit of free contact which pervades the present Rushing Code is in some way eroded by the one under consideration. If it allows unlimited contact between freshmen and fraternity men, even on campus, it violates the exception of fraternities and the freshman's room. It would seem clearer that the appreciation of mailing information is even more ridiculous. This marks a beginning of a trend back to the old-fashioned system, let us be the first to object. And we will continue to object as long as such childishness persists.

Business Is Brewing

The result is a cheery, brighter atmosphere in which to save money. The training moment which has long been a concern to many of the dollars, which is well known to everyone, does certainly deserve a lot of credit for answer. Students are extending their knowledge of publicity in promoting this student group which, however, is running high as to whether the Interfraternity Council's business done by this student group which, to give them credit for the amount of publicity given them, which incidently, is not in accordance with IPD policy, cannot help but go in their favor. If they are not acquainted and the previous decision is maintained, they will no doubt enjoy a position close enough to the kings of publicity in the eyes of the many freshmen who don't know what to make of the matter in the first place.

The do's and don'ts. This morning in ivy auditorium about seven hundred prospective rushers will assemble to be entertained in coming two weeks of rush- ing. Many will be saved to learn and teach them that the problem of fraternity life is a very desirable part of undergraduate life at Pennsylvania. Officers will agree that fraternity business is usually the business done by this student group which, however, is running high as to whether the Interfraternity Council's business done by this student group which, to give them credit for the amount of publicity given them, which incidently, is not in accordance with IPD policy, cannot help but go in their favor. If they are not acquainted and the previous decision is maintained, they will no doubt enjoy a position close enough to the kings of publicity in the eyes of the many freshmen who don't know what to make of the matter in the first place.

Speculation is running high as to whether the IP Fraternity Chairman will set the pace for the orientation meeting today in Irvine. He has been seen chasing across the Delaware River Bridge at a high rate of speed by several top fraternity men, among them the popular student leader. Seems that even the printed notice which was to be out early Wednesday morning were a bit late. Even so last week to ITV we noticed the familiar picture of Irvine Auditorium had been taken from the wall of one of the student dorms and was desperately in need of repair. We wonder if this could have been a result of the recent conned to announce in all building. Perhaps the deliberate shade of light put out twice, while in a house of Irvine. Some people are still wondering what is to be announced on Founder's Day, the popular head of the Interfraternity and the Undergraduate Councils was overlooked. We wonder too,

Dave McGinnis asks:

Does Du Pont Have Summer Jobs for College Students?

C. David McGinnis will receive his B.S. degree in chemical engineering from the University of Texas in June 1977. Currently, he's a senior at the University of Texas and a member of the Delta Upsilon and Phi Eta Sigma fraternities at Texas.

Ivar Lundgaard answers:

Yes, Dave, the Du Pont Company regularly employs students of science and engineering in its Summer Technical Training Program. The chief purpose is to provide good technical training under industrial conditions. And we learn about the students while they learn about us.

Students selected for the program after campus interviews include candidates for the B.S., M.S., and Ph.D. degrees. Assignments are related to their academic interests.

Last summer 470 students from 98 institutions participated in the program. In this way, you can do your job and get to permanent employment after graduation.

In addition, many other students are hired directly by the Company and are used during vacation periods of our regular employees. For this "vacation relief" work, students are likely to be vacated; however, these students also gain valuable insights into the practice, and many acquire experience related to their fields of study.

Altogether, about 350 college students, from both technical and non technical fields and at all levels of education, were involved in this experience this summer. As you can readily see, Dave, that the Du Pont Company attaches a lot of importance to summer jobs for college students.

Storm Halts I-F Keglers; Goebel Has High Game
A 220 game by Ed Goebel of Alpha Chi Rho and an act of nature were the most interesting features of the Interfraternity Bowling League this week.

Nature was the storm which caused the lights to go out at William Penn bowling alleys before the conclusion of the second game of the season.

The games will be continued this afternoon. The standings in the Monday Red League are: Alpha Chi
Epstein Phi out ahead with a 14-2 record, with Epstein Phi and Beta Theta Pi tied for sec-cond with 11-3-1 stakes. Phi Kappa Phi is in fourth place with a 9-7 record.

Season's High Game
The high game of the season by Goebel was scored Tuesday when his team, Alpha Chi Rho, took two out of three games from Sigma Chi and remained in second place with a 16-4 record. Phi Alpha remains in the first place with a 11-1-1 slate.
Pennsylvania's basketball season will culminate in the annual Pennsylvania-Syracuse game. The game will be played in Philadelphia on Saturday, March 11.

The game will be a preview of the Pennsylvania-Syracuse series, which will be played on February 28 in Philadelphia. The Pennsylvania-Syracuse series is the most prestigious basketball series in the country, and it is a tradition for the two teams to play each other at least once a year.

The Pennsylvania-Syracuse game will be held at the Palestra, the main gymnasium of the University of Pennsylvania. The gymnasium has a capacity of 10,000 spectators and is located on the campus of the University of Pennsylvania.

The Pennsylvania-Syracuse game will be a hard-fought battle between two of the best basketball teams in the country. The game will be a must-see event for basketball fans, and it is a great way to end the season.

In summary, the Pennsylvania-Syracuse game is a must-see event for basketball fans, and it is a great way to end the season. The game will be played on Saturday, March 11, at the Palestra, the main gymnasium of the University of Pennsylvania.

requirements can really be that good.

A final point, an indictment which this writer considers to be a paradox: It seems that the fraternity system is tied to the individuality of the student. But if fraternity men get the important positions on campus, then, as this writer sees it, the fraternity is "out of it." In almost all respects this is false. The average fraternity man wants a campus, as well as the independent man about campus is the one who gets somewhere because he wants to and has the capability.
