Influence of Einstein on World

Voiced by Former Colleagues

Dr. Peter G. Bergman and Dr. Edward C. Condon reviewed the accomplishments of Albert Einstein and their effects on the world last night at a program in the Physical Science Building of the University.

The association of science, the effect of science on the community, and the effect of the community on science were also discussed by the speakers.

Dr. Bergman spoke on Einstein's contributions to science and the far-reaching effects that science has on the world. He also discussed the impact of science on the community. It was shown how Einstein's work has been accepted as basic knowledge.

Dr. Condon discussed the relationship of the Institute for Advanced Study to Einstein and the community. Dr. Condon was formerly director of the Institute and is now a professor of physics at the University.

The program was held under the auspices of the Deanship of the College of Arts and Sciences and the Branch of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Concepts Discussed

Bergman explained Einstein's attitude toward people making a stand in his lecture. He quoted Einstein who said that "there is no evidence that the use of force is necessary in the world's development."

He also discussed the idea that "the use of force is not the way to solve problems in the world."

Einstein's ideas on the use of force and his attitude toward people making a stand were discussed by Dr. Condon.

Don't they know how to say good morning?... A political science professor who has taught both high school as well as college courses summarized the difference between high school and college students. Here is what he said: "When you walk into a high school class and say 'good morning', the students reply 'good morning'. But when you walk into a college class and say 'good morning', the students write it down."

The Daily Tarble reports that one former university student came up with a method of cheating that has been going on for some time. He was being delinquent in his letters home. After a long silence, he finally wrote and explained: "Check one... I am not enrolled at the University of North Carolina... I am... I am not finding out... "

Shades of the Highball... A poll of Smith girls made by the Amherst student body showed that 12.5 per cent prefer Amherst, and 9.1 per cent prefer Smith. The young ladies of the Midtown row cobble-stoned streets. From the white-fronted tavern to the Taj Mahal-like Art Museum looming ahead. Contrast? Probably the most effective income-reducer of the distribution of wealth. Is one drives in over the newly re-named Franklin Parkway with the Taj Mahal-like Art Museum looming ahead. Contrast? Probably the most effective income-reducer of the distribution of wealth.

It was an everyday occurrence for the Alma Brown. The prize letter howled: "We have been ready to get them down on paper. They ask for instruction, at two or three or four in the morning when we are all ready to turn over and go to bed."

By the way, it's one thing to say 'we don't mean we're only one of us. We mean we're not doing it, we're not doing it, we're not doing it. It's what they call the editorial page."

But why use "we"?... We don't know. It's something to do with the decline of personal journalism. Anyway, you are welcome."

 Didn't he write about Julie Gibson? Didn't he write the Penn Players' fes- tivity? Didn't he write a poem once, too? Yes, did he. Didn't he write Hamlet? No, no, that was Shakespeare. He didn't write a novel, then? Well, no. But he will.
440-Yard Relay Team Places Fifth at Quantico

"Penn has an excellent chance of winning the 440-yard relay event in the 62nd Annual Penn Relays, April 27 and 28," said track coach Ken Osterby after yesterday's meet, in which the Quakers placed fifth in the first Marine Corps Schools Relays at Quantico, Va., last weekend.

Dobert's enthusiasm stems from the fact that despite the absence of Ted Indresano, 440-yard relay team of Al Kli, Irv Dull, Dave Lieberman and Bob Leibapood placed second to Mordre at home in Penna., and wound up fifth in the final won by Morgan Bm.

Gray Pole Valets

Penn also had teams entered in the 400-yard relay and the distance-marry event, while the 880-v was entered, being the only number entered in the pole valets.

Gray jumped 10' 8" to finish in an eight-way tie for fourth place, while Villanova's Dan Bragg, who set the Penn Relays record in this specialty last year, will be defending his crown on Franklin Field in the Carnival. Villani was anchored by Ron DeCicco, who was also very strong at the pole vault, and Mike Bonventre, who concentrated his pole vaulting effort on the LIIT, finishing 11th in the 440-yard relay with Ed Weasel.

Relays Finish Sixth

The Penn team of Ralph Flihn, Pat McFadden and Dave Lense also finished sixth in the 880-yard relay which was won by Maryland in 1:27.5. The Wolverines, who will compete in the Penn Relays to the record in this specialty last year, will be defending his crown on Franklin Field in the Carnival. Villani was anchored by Ron DeCicco, who was also very strong at the pole vault, and Mike Bonventre, who concentrated his pole vaulting effort on the LIIT, finishing 11th in the 440-yard relay with Ed Weasel.

Yale Trounces Penn Stickmen in Opening Tilt

The results of Pennsylvania's first varsity lacrosse encounter were as weak as the playing surface, which was muddy in the first period, and was slippery in the second period, and in the third period, and was slippery in the fourth period. The Quakers were defeated by Yale, which fielded the Eastern Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association's best team, in the first period, and were defeated by Yale in the second period, and in the third period, and were defeated by Yale in the fourth period.

Yale, which fields essentially the same team which was placed first in this category in the Eastern Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association last year, and the Central Mercantile of the Quakers, which won their first game of the season, against Yale to-day, 17-9, Penn could manage only four shots against a strong Yale defense.

The Elia then counted the rest of the goals, scoring three goals in the second period, two in the third and three more in the final period, to blank the Quakers, 27-9. Yale could manage only four shots against a strong Yale defense.

Johnson Considers 1956 Tennis Outlook 'Not Too Bright;' Club Strong at Tail End

Although he has produced 24 winning seasons in 26 years, including 10 in a row, coach John Johnson has told his team that they must work hard to improve their game in order to win in 1956. He has already prepared the teams for the coming season with the hope of winning another title.

Johnson plans to use sophomore Ralph Schleif as the number one man, with seniors Ben Brown and Harold Schleif battling it out for the number two position. Jerry Flickman, and Johnson and Bob Budd will probably be the other three singles players. The Penn coach conceded that
