Undergraduate Council Votes for Fewer Awards During 1957 Hey Day

HH Student Board Will Survey Undergrads; Funds Appropriated for Boys' Club Furniture

A reduction of the number of awards which will be presented on Hey Day of 1957 was adopted at a meeting of the Undergraduate Council last night in Houston Hall.

C. Philip Grover, chairman of the Undergraduate Council for Houston Hall Student Board, requested an appropriation for Houston Hall Student Board to destroy the rest of a survey which the board plans to conduct among the undergraduates concerning the facilities at Houston Hall.

Chairman Grover also reported that the committee on underclassmen will be appointed which will be responsible for the facilities which will be utilized by the undergraduates concerning the facilities at Houston Hall.

A motion was made that the appropriation which was granted be increased.

Meritorious, a club residing in Houston Hall, besides the university, also requested the appropriation for the purchase of furniture.

Emblems Requested

Kappa Kappa Gamma, Alpha Chi Omega, and Alpha Chi Omega are requesting emblems which they feel represent the university and that they will not receive an appropriation for next year.

Kline said that he felt that enforcement of a regulation making freshmen wear a dick was added to the amount of work that the next year's freshmen class will have. He said that he was asked to admit students to the Freshman Committee under the new regulations if they are not wearing their dink, although the Freshman Committee, under the old regulations, allowed freshmen to wear dink without being admitted.

J.V. Crew Rows In Varsity Race for Golds Cup

By Lloyd Swain

In a surprise upset, Coach Joe Burt has elevated the junior varsity crew to the varsity spot for tomorrow's Cup Regatta with Columbia and Princeton at New York, while the varsity will row in the JV race.

The switch was made after the first varsity regatta over the varsity Wednesday afternoon.

Burt said that there was little difference between the two boats but since the junior varsity boat has not been raced in a number one shell in a series of races this week, he decided to make the switch. The varsity boat in tomorrow's race will consist of six sophomores and three juniors.

Beren At Strike

John Ben-Israel will do the striking for this week's varsity shell while Andy Hunter will be the number one bow.

The new shell will be named for the first time in history. Mickey Thompson, the number two bow; Jack O'Donnell—the number one bow; Harold Sandstrom—the fifth spot; W. Orm O'Connell—the sixth spot; and Ted Brown, hold down the important seventh seat.

Last week, in defeating Rutgers, the varsity remains intact in the number one shell. While the JV, this week's shell number one shell, turned in a time of 9:10 over a mile and a half course.

Tough Race

"I feel sure of an exceedingly tough race," was Burt's comment when asked about Princeton's varsity crew. According to Burt, the Princetonians have a good, powerful number one boat. An inspection was verified by the fact that the Golds Cup Regatta is actually a three-way race over Navy and the Navy Alumni Olympic crew. The Tiger eight defeated the "Admirals" by three lengths and the Navy varsity by five in a time of 10:06 for the 1 1/4 mile course.

Columbia is of unknown quality as of yet. This is the first time the varsity has raced in a number one shell this year. It is expected that the seniors will row in the eight rowing positions for the New York shell.

Penn will be looking for its twenty-third triumph in the Chris Cup Regatta and its fifth victory of the season which has yet to been announced. Peoples said.

Russia's Settlement Offer Called Admission of Impassibility of War

The offer by the USSR to support a UN settlement of the Arab-Israel conflict may mean that the Soviet Union has decided that "war is impossible," said Shulam Ben-Israel, UN correspondent of the Jewish Daily Forward, at a Hillel lecture yesterday.

Molotov Comment

Speaking about the statement of the foreign minister, Vyacheslav Molotov, concerning the Middle East, Ben-Israel said that "as soon as rather than the US or USSR comes from its activist, the other will retaliate with atomic and hydrogen weapons."

"The policy shift by the Russians is only a realisation of this, coupled with the realisation that the Middle East bases are no more to the Soviet Union for attacking Europe or America," he said.

Change of Emphasis

Ben-Israel voiced the belief that the Russian emphasis is no longer afternoon by the Muskrat Rambling, and Billy Kretchmer's jazz band.

Although acknowledging that the USSR has given its support to the UN a copy for $8 at any one of the booth. Other will retaliate with atomic and hydrogen weapons.

Military Ball— Seems that most of the campus was out at the Pennsylvania State University. The season is here for the ladies to get some attention from the men. The Military Ball was held on Saturday night at the Penn State Ballroom. The theme of the ball was "Two in His" and it was held on the Military Ballroom, which is located in the basement of the Student Center. The ball was a success and all who attended enjoyed themselves. The next Military Ball will be held on Saturday night at the same location.

The Stork— Several people have inquired about the Stork. The Stork is a new addition to the campus and it is located in the basement of the Student Center. It is a place where students can relax and socialize. The Stork is open from 7:00 PM to 11:00 PM, and it is staffed by students.

Ostriches

The suspension of some seventy students at Rosemont College for drinking off campus over a weekend because of an excellent example of what can happen when a school's policies are behind the times. At the same time, it brings attention to the need for more "morale" basis for it as well. But in 1956 no justification can be found for it, and the best adjective for this rule is "unnecessary." To force women who, presumably, are going to enter today's social world to conform to the morality of yesterday, may be done by not only unrealistic; it is something of a failure in education on the part of an administration that has buried its head in the sands of time.

A college education, in all its phases is intended to provide basic values for living in the contemporary world. When values which do not realistically prepare the student for the problems of our day are cloistered confines of an educational situation are presented, the students are not prepared for the world to come, rather than being paginated. This is what is happening at the girls at Rosemont.

The attitude of women is not unique in its "problem." The administration of every college and university must at one time or another face the basic question, which is basically that of permission or prohibition. The question cannot be answered by saying that there is no place for women to drink, if only as a way of defying the administration. This, we feel, applies to a far greater extent than realized.

The enlightened action of the University administration, which has adopted an understanding and permissive attitude, should stand as a model of administrative realization that a college must do more for its students than present courses. In the words of University Chaplain Edward G. Harris, chairman of a committee investigating the use of alcohol on the Pennsylvania campus, "Our (the University's) policy is neither to ban drinking nor to encourage it, rather it is to allow drinking and stress moderation."

By recognizing that drinking has become an accepted and treating it as such, the University has shown an understanding which merits applause. And by giving the students permission to drink, the administration has merit an invitation to buy a 1956 calendar and join the rest of us.

Lacrosse Squad Battles State in League Opener

Pennsylvania's varsity lacrosse team, after losing its first two games of the season to Yale and Rutgers, faces another formidable opponent, Penn State, tomorrow at 2 p.m. on Stewart Field in the Quakers' first Penn-Del League game of the season.

State's squad is coming off last week's season opening loss to Peoria State, which was held to one goal by the powerful Princeton frosh that the Scarlet Knights defeated 8-7. State's squad is considerably more experienced than Penn's this year.

Penn Cindermen Meet Scarlet, Lehigh Saturday

With all eyes focused on next week's Penn Relays the Pennsylvania varsity track team journeys to New Brunswick tomorrow afternoon to compete in a triangular meet against Rutgers and Lehigh.

Coach Ken Doherty feels that the opening outdoor meet of the season for the Quakers will result in victory in a final tuneup for the Relay Carnival, Rutgers (0-1) lost overwhelmingly to Princeton while Lehigh (1-1) defeated Delaware last week.

Along with Penn captain John Hauser, who will compete in the sprints and anchor the one-mile relay team, 10 other Red and Blue performers are also scheduled to double-up. At Kline and Terry will be slated to appear in the mile and half-mile events.

Veteran distance runner Dan Maltiens, who was hindered with injuries most of the indoor season, will race in the mile and 3-mile events. Bob Lebender and Charley Ward are the two most consistent members of the Penn team. Ward has already qualified for the 3,000-meter race while captain Ted Mosey will be back in action for the first time since the launching of the season.

The feature race will be the final lost of a six-race program and is scheduled to start at 3:15. The Penn Penn Relays team, along with the Columbia lightweight varsity team will race against each other in one of the other contests.

After the Childe Cup the Penn crew sees action against the Columbia crew and powerful Yale in the Blackwell Cup. The Penn lightweight varsity is capable of bettering 13 feet.

Quaker Varsity Tennis Squad Opposes State in Home Match

Just seeking its first win of the season after being routed last Wednesday, Pennsylvania's varsity tennis team meets Penn State at the Law School Courts tomorrow afternoon at 3 p.m.

Quaker coach Wallace Johnson expects a victory last year's 4-2 loss, but the Nittany Lions were good for five Quaker runs. The Red and Blue capitalized on the failure of the Garnet's opponents to solve the recorded by making a sore back, replaced Dan
