Scotcs, Meredith, Jaffe, Millil in Starring Roles As M&W Selects Cast

Feature Combined Glee, Dance Groups

In Sixty-Ninth Annual Production

Theodore Scopes, Charles Meredith, Robert Jaffe and Arthur Millil will appear Wednesday afternoon in the 1956 annual production of the M&W Selects group, Robert Wishawker, director of M&W production, has announced.

Other members of the cast are Harry Powers, Eli Shubin, Charles Bertrand, Roger Bruce, and Ralph Stern.

Selection for the first time in M&W history, of a combined dance and glee chorus was also made. They are: David Campbell, Donald Curtis, Richard Gill, Roger Kran-worth, Stanford Fashions, Edward Falton, David Hackett, Charles Hilt, Edward Jones and Herbert Katz.

Others are: William L. Lech, Bruce Robles, Frank Rogers, Kid-win Salchbuck, Walter Sherblong, Alan Singerman, Howard Spergel, William Wilson, Joe Wurtzbach and Paul Zender.

Scopes will play "Bolero," the central figure of the production, while the parts of his girl friend, instructor and trainer's girl friend will be portrayed by Meredith and Millil, respectively.

"Bolero" is a story of a newspaper photographer who has become a boxer. Through a series of dramatic events, he is rescued by his pugilistic love, and turned into a hardened fighter more interested in money than in his girl friend "Gingerin.

Wishawker describes the role of the boxer as "that of a "society com-" guy and that of "Bolero" as a young chap trying to prove himself at the top of the boxing world."

The fifth production was written and directed by Scopes. It will open at the Kilgour Theatre Wednesday night, November 15. University night will be Thursday, the 16th. The show will play in Philadelphia until the 22nd. In Philadelphia have written the last two shows.

The M&W Selects is a well-known organization and has performed with great success in various cities. Their music, energy and high spirits have earned them a reputation as one of the finest groups in the country.

The University Symphony, conducted by Dr. Barson, will perform this show as a part of their annual concert series.

Concert in November

The major event for the coming year will be a Messiah-Schumann concert in November. Featuring concert will be the solo pianist now attending the University. Two other concerts will be presented, one in mid-winter, and one in the spring.

Independent concerts in conjunction with the University Symphony and the University Choral Society will be presented throughout the year. These concerts will be under the direction of Dr. Barson.

The program for these two principal performances this season will include Schumann's "Symphony No. 3," "Symphony in E-flat," and "Choral Scenes." The program for the University Symphony will include a concerto for orchestra and chorus.

Eisenberg said that the four concerts this season will be more serious action than ever before. Several shows this season will be presented in the series of "Friday Night at the Concert." These series will be given at the Kilgour Theatre.

Scopes has promised that the M&W Selects will continue to present concerts at a high level of excellence, and will continue to be one of the finest groups in the country for any university.

Philadelphia students saw look forward to a fine fall season in music and sports. Every weekend until Christmas should be active. It is the time of sports, music, and most of all, the search outside the walls of the university. The carefully planned events are set only to challenge and most of all to promote, not to profit, as the university is only for the students and for their benefit.

Thursday Asian is featuring a close-up party tonight, on Alpha Chi. There will be a tap, a dance, and a party. The event will be held in the Union at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

University schedules will carry the names of other events in the Union, including: Band with Larry, Saturday at 9 p.m., and the Band with Larry, Saturday at 8 p.m. The event will be held in the Union at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Saturday will be the beginning of a new football era at Pennsylvania. It will be an era of Ivy League competition in football. We will have the assurance that our competitors are faced with the same problems that we are, and have similar athletic policies. We hope and fully anticipate that this year we will be more successful and more stronger than last year's. We have a great many reasons to look forward to the coming season, and we are hopeful.

Penn Harriers Prepare For Opening Encounter

With the coming onset of the season just one week away, Penn athletics varsity cross-country squad is hard at work in preparation for the coming seven-meet campaign.

Coach Ken Doberty has his team practicing on Franklin Field as well as at Cabin Creek this year, which permits the harriers to get their "heat circuit" accomplished.

Doberty believes he has the makings of a fine group of distance runners, but does not expect the Quakers to be especially outstanding in cross-country. The explanation for this apparent paradox lies in the fact that Pennsylvania does not emphasize cross-country for the sake of the event itself, but rather with the purpose of getting the runners ready for the indoor track campaigns.

Quaker Eleven In First Game

Hoping out on the line will be the other returning starters, center Bill Assiff, a rugged 35-pounder who started the first six games last season.

He is joined by Parker Jacoby, who appeared as starting center on Thanksgiving Day against Cornell due to his speed, and Charles Gill, left end and in at the opposite end of the line from co-captain Charles Gill.

The tackle positions are taken by center Tony Caputo and Joe Fifth Day, both sophomores. Rounding out the line are guards, Frankie Dougherty and Pete Edis.

After Blair's had talked twice in the opening quarter last year the Quakers stalled the optioners for 56 minutes and 16 seconds before Bill Priez passed to Lou Kwalik for the first score.

Back to Penn! Penn at quarterback, who completed six of 10 for 121 yards, has won several times in the past.

"Blip" English, in his seventh season at the Navy helm, will lead a veteran line composed of end Paul North and Jack Faucett, tackle Joe Tidman, guards Dick DeLancey and Sam Valentine and center Dan Frakenfeld.

I-M Tourney Will Preview Tennis Picture

Pennsylvania's varsity tennis hopes for the next few years will be on preview beginning Monday at the Inter-College Tennis Tournament at Penn.

The tournament, which is run under the supervision of varsity tennis manager, will give fresh- men and sophomores alike, a chance to show what Penn tennis has in store for its top players in the tough EIL tennis league. Traditionally the top players in the tourney go on to become the top players on the Penn varsity and freshmen squads.

Any male undergraduate eligible to compete in the tourney including varsity letter-winners. Entries will be accepted until noon on Monday at the football office on the second floor of Franklin Hall.

No entry fee will be charged, but participants must supply their own tennis balls or buy balls at the store. Coach Johnson is hoping that the tourney will supply him with the depth that will pull the Penn tennis team out of the EIL cellar. Last year the team did not win a single match. The winning team was only Johnson's third in 27 years at Penn.

Last year freshman Rob Robbins won the tourney by defeating matching fresh, Howie Friedman, in the finals. Robbins, who played number one for the Penn team, had defeated Ralph Leavitt, the winner of the previous year's tournament, in the semi-finals. Leavitt is captain of this year's varsity. With Robbins and Leavitt, Coach Johnson should have a strong one-two punch.

The matches will be played starting Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The tourney will be run on a single elimination basis.

ARCHIE DODD

Reading the list of bad and blue harriers is Bruce Dodd, the only returning letterman. Dodd has been impressive thus far in practice, and it's not unusual that his ambitions binges on his performance.

Another expected standout is end Bob Maximino, but you are fast distance man.
