Wharton School Celebrates 75th Anniversary Saturday

Opening day ceremonies at the Wharton School’s 75th anniversary celebration will feature remarks on the state of the business economy. The major themes of the session, which will be on economic, political, labor relations, marketing, insurance, transportation, accounting, and accounting, will be the theme of the session since Joseph Wharton founded the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce, the first college business school, in 1891.

The first subject of the morning will be "The Consumer Deli Too?" Dr. Frank Parker, professor of statistics, will serve as chairman. Dr. Frank Parker, professor of statistics, will serve as chairman. The second subject of the session, "The Impact of the Talkathon on the Business Community," will be handled by Dr. Joseph M. Johnson, professor of insurance, of the afternoon session.

The "Coach of Week" award will be presented to Sebo, the coach who never gave up. Although he struggled in the beginning, his determination and hard work eventually led to success. The award is a testament to his粘性 and perseverance, and it serves as a reminder that hard work and dedication pay off in the end.
Freshman Celluloids

We, the BENG of 1935, with appropriate pride, present the Freshman Celluloids, a melodramatically interpreted, clutch box office, addressed ourselves to the BENG of 1939. This is the name that calmly and indignantly refused to be identified with the Freshman Celluloids, for the Freshman Celluloids is an entity to which we were not long before we discovered that these phenomena appeared to be new members of that sub-human species, known as the "September." Thereby, it became necessary to name ourselves, and we named ourselves, freshman. Thereafter, we named ourselves to all of those, whom latterly attended classes in the Freshman Celluloids, and we named ourselves, "September." To all of those, whom in the Freshman Celluloids, we named ourselves, "September." To all of those, whom in the Freshman Celluloids, we named ourselves, "September."

The weakness of your letters is evident; our Freshman Celluloids is an entity to which we were not long before we discovered that these phenomena appeared to be new members of that sub-human species, known as the "September." Thereby, it became necessary to name ourselves, and we named ourselves, freshman. Thereafter, we named ourselves to all of those, whom latterly attended classes in the Freshman Celluloids, and we named ourselves, "September." To all of those, whom in the Freshman Celluloids, we named ourselves, "September." To all of those, whom in the Freshman Celluloids, we named ourselves, "September."

Penn Must Be Alert To Beat Tiger Eleven

Emphasizing that Princeton has better team this year than it did last year when the Tigers won the Ivy League Championship, Tim Penn, Penn's doorkeeper, warned the Quakers that they will have to be especially alert and ready, to win an Homingway day.

Tennario pointed out that the Quakers, now a single-wing offen- der, but that it is not a typical single-winger. Princeton, on the other hand, will be in action much of the time and also has a tendency to float its right end to the left of the left end.

Park Eligible

The Tigers' shifting tactics make the right tackle an eligible passer.

According to Tennario, Tom Morris, who scored three times against Columbia, is faster than any back the Quakers have yet faced. Against Penn last year Morris scored the only touchdowns in the 7-6 Tiger win.

Smartest in East

Tennario called John Sheep, the Tiger quarterback, one of the smartest in the East. Sheep, besides having an accurate throw, is also a fine line backer.

In the Princeton line, Tennario stayed out tackles Mike Bowman, the Tiger captain, as one of the finest linemen in the country.
