All Fraternities To Participate In Blood Drive

All fraternities will be asked to participate in the blood drive today. The drive will be held at the Health Center beginning at 9:00 a.m. The drive will continue until 2:00 p.m.

Registration Will Take Place Preceding Mid-Year Exams

Revision Made by Committee of Deans In Response to Request of DP Editorial

Registration for the spring term of the present school year will take place immediately before the mid-year exams in January instead of afterwards as in previous years, announced James E. Newpher, chairman of the committee.

Newpher said that the calendar change was made by the Committee of Deans in response to an editorial requesting the revision which appeared in The Daily Pennsylvanian.

In accordance with the revised calendar, regular registration will be held Saturday, January 10 and Monday through Wednesday, January 21 to 23.

Classes After Exams Examinations will begin Thursday, January 14 and will run until Saturday, January 23. Course changes will begin again the following Monday.

The editorial pointed out that this system would give students an opportunity to thoroughly prepare for examinations. In the past, exams started the first day after the close of classes. It was felt that the majority of students were not able to prepare adequately for this first exam.

Calendar Revised

The calendar for 1965-66 has been revised in accordance with the decision to hold registration before rather than after, exam.

Newpher said that the time is needed to aid in the distribution of the individual student's information.

The Daily Pennsylvanian for its part, is most interested in the matter.

Coordination Needed

Newpher said that it is hoped that the student body will cooperate with the College in order to make this innovation a success.

The college is seeking a change in the school year which will be effective as of next fall.

Balderson Says 'Tight Money' Needed To Continue Prosperity

Our present policy of "tight money" must be continued in order to preserve the current state of prosperity, Dr. C. C. Balderson said in a talk on "The Purchasing Power of the Dollar," delivered in connection with the 75th anniversary of the Wharton School.

Dr. Balderson, vice-chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and former dean of the Wharton School, attempted to explain why the present policy of restricting credit is being followed, and how it affects the college. He attempted to present policies to the purchase of goods and in the flow of the current prosperity and recession.

In our current economic situation, the demand for money is greater than supply, said the economist. There are several committees, including the Board of Governors, the Federal Reserve Board and the Smaller Banks, that have been set up to meet the situation.

In response to the question of the dollar, Dr. Balderson said that "it is a good element to have a dollar that is not as important as it was a couple of years ago. The dollar is now available in the foreign exchange market, and in addition there is a great upward movement in the value of the dollar."

"Money is being controlled in the sense that it will remain available for essential needs, and in addition there will be a great increase in the value of the dollar."

Balderson said that the economic situation is being controlled in an attempt to create a large demand for money, and that it is the only way to make sure that money will not cause credit rate to rise too rapidly.
'Very Special Baby'-- Touching Drama

by Gerald A. Hirschhorn

"A VERY SPECIAL BABY," a new play by Robert Alan Aurthur, opens at the DeSagulier, directed by Martin Ritt, setting the stage for the upcoming season of the Negro Theatre for Two. The play, which is based on the author's own experiences, is a touching drama about the relationship between a father and his baby, who is born with a birth defect. The play is set in the present day and explores the acceptance and love of the baby despite his disability.

The story focuses on the relationship between Robert, a young man with a baby that is different from others, and his family. The play highlights the importance of love and acceptance, and it challenges societal norms and stereotypes about people with disabilities.

The play is directed and written by Robert Alan Aurthur, who is also the author of "Bart/oot Bny." The play is performed by a cast of actors who bring the story to life, including actors who are friends of the author. The play is a touching reminder of the power of love and acceptance and the importance of creating a world where everyone is valued and respected.

The play is performed at the DeSagulier Theatre, located at 1610 Waburton St. in Chicago. The play is part of the Negro Theatre for Two season, and it is scheduled to run from April 13 to 20.

The play is directed by Martin Ritt, who is also the author of "Bart/oot Bny." The play is performed by a cast of actors who bring the story to life, including actors who are friends of the author. The play is a touching reminder of the power of love and acceptance and the importance of creating a world where everyone is valued and respected.

The play is performed at the DeSagulier Theatre, located at 1610 Waburton St. in Chicago. The play is part of the Negro Theatre for Two season, and it is scheduled to run from April 13 to 20.

The play is directed by Martin Ritt, who is also the author of "Bart/oot Bny." The play is performed by a cast of actors who bring the story to life, including actors who are friends of the author. The play is a touching reminder of the power of love and acceptance and the importance of creating a world where everyone is valued and respected.

The play is performed at the DeSagulier Theatre, located at 1610 Waburton St. in Chicago. The play is part of the Negro Theatre for Two season, and it is scheduled to run from April 13 to 20.
Quaker JV Gridders Defeat Princeton As Clayton Stars

By Jack Lieberman

It was an historic afternoon today at windy McPhail Field and it was a good one for Princeton football. The J.V. scored 21-0 but chased the Princeton Tigers back to Princeton, New Jersey, as they mauled the Tigers by a 3-2 margin.

Chuck Clayton was the big guy on the gridiron today for Princeton's fine-four touchdowns. Put-put-put he clicked along the grid line with one minute to go as the fourth and final quarter.

Clayton is a sophomore from Philadelphia. He attended the Princeton Prep School where he played football, baseball and was a standout wrestler in the Intersc Klein League.

Princeton won the toss and elected to receive with Penn leading the south goal. The Tigers were on the kickoff four at the 25 yard line and threw a 25 yard punt on their own 25 yard line. But then their attack halted and their punts were formed like bricks.

Penn, however, found it impossible to pounce in this quarter either, as the Princeton defense held them to a 3-2 margin.

Tigers flounder through the second period Princeton, with a fourth down stop on the 1 yard line giving the ball to the 28 yard line and then their attack halted. Penn got a 1 yard pickup for a first down.

First Touchdown

Bretter Stuart ran up the middle for four yards, only to have a fumble recovered by Paul Rosen in the end zone on the 1 yard line.

Vince Kathy then proceeded to throw a 31 yard pass to a Princeton who got his kicks out of a little red hen.

Of course, that chicken laid golden eggs.

Now down at the bottom of the stalk lived our boy, Jackson. Our boy was low on loot and his mother...man, she wasn't making it at all. The feedbag was M. T.

So Jackson started thinking of a way to get loot fast: "How, said he to himself, "could I get that frantic chicken away from that character upstairs?" He looked around the hut for something to trade—How about an old piano roll? Mom's bifocals? Uncle Looey's plectrum banjo? 6.5 minutes!!! In the cistern was a six-can carton of Budweiser! So he gets the Bud and sashays up the stalk. Well, citizens, there's no use dragging this Budweiser pit out: The giant buys the Bud, gives Jackson the hen, mom's doing great and so will you if you're up to date. Get Budweiser, man...it's the world's favorite beer!

All cisterns...and brotherns, too, for that matter...should discover that there is a difference in beers. This Budweiser...if...is the most.

KING OF BEERS

ANHEUSER-BUSCH, INC. • ST. LOUIS • NEWARK • LOS ANGELES

Frosh Booters Open Against North Catholic

The freshmen soccer team in conjunction issues its 21st season against Northeast Catholic High School today at 3:30 p.m. at Brewster Field.

George Schall, new Penn coach, is very optimistic about the coming season. Schall is the first undergraduate coach the younglings have had in six years. He was a starter of the varsity soccer squad for three years and consequently his expertise has enjoyed.

Coach Mike Spier

Schall is very elated about the team spirit that has prevailed here. This team hasn't had an up and down feeling for starting berth. The starting position for center and they will not be assigned until time.

The younglings have tremendous height at all positions and sport a faster attack than last year's. The team is headed by Ray Schue, who was the most valuable high school player in New Jersey last year.

Schall Replaces Delaney

Schaub is replacing Joe DeLancy whose 1961 season was unfortunately six games. He has the hope to improve on last year's recent only by virtue of the fact that this year's team will compete in one tourney. Prior to last year, the first and final fresh last had no undefeated season in 1960.

Many members of last year's team have carried on this year's highly favorably this season. They have Howard Mohr, high scorer for the freshmen, Bob Doris, George Simmer, Peter Krucher, and kick-ten Doris Williams.

The younglings have a remaining schedule this year, and although only two games will be played at home the Class of 1960 must demonstrate its spirit by attending those contests at Stewart Field and backing the squad.

Quaker JV Soccermen Defeat Haverford, 5-0

Pennsylvania's J.V. soccer team successfully opened the season with a 6-5 victory over the Haverford J.V. at Brewster Field last Friday.

Under the very able direction of Coach Artie Bisso the Red and Blue rolled to victory with relative ease.

The Quakers completely dominated play from the opening whistle. A scoreless first quarter

Quaker JV footballers opened their season by defeating Haverford.

With the ball on the Haverford 38 yard line, in the third quarter, and after three minutes of play, Bob LaReche who raced 17 yards to make up the Quaker triumph.

Out the Princeton JV Mad.

In the first half, the hands of casual Bob LaRoach who raced 17 yard to make up the Quaker triumph.

With time running out and the Quakers in the lead, Layton punted to the 15 yard line. Laterback Jay Blue did the Unne and the Quakers in the lead.

The final tally

In the third quarter in. Mch in the third quarter, then fold with a hot that lamend the third quarter.

There once lived a crazy, mixed-up old giant. He lived at the top of a beanstalk and he got his kicks out of a little red hen.

Of course, that chicken laid golden eggs.

Now down at the bottom of the stalk lived our boy, Jackson.

Our boy was low on loot and his mother...man, she wasn't making it at all. The feedbag was M. T.

So Jackson started thinking of a way to get loot fast: "How, said he to himself, "could I get that frantic chicken away from that character upstairs?" He looked around the hut for something to trade—How about an old piano roll? Mom's bifocals?

Uncle Looey's plectrum banjo? Wait a minute!!! In the cistern was a six-can carton of Budweiser! So he gets the Bud and nasibys up the stalk. Well, citizens, there's no use dragging this Budweiser hit out: The giant buys the Bud, gives Jackson the hen, mom's doing great and so will you if you're up to date. Get Budweiser, man...it's the world's favorite beer!

All cisterns...and brotherns, too, for that matter...should discover that there is a difference in beers. This Budweiser...it is the result.

Budweiser

KING OF BEERS

ANHEUSER-BUSCH, INC. • ST. LOUIS • NEWARK • LOS ANGELES

STUDENTS! HAVE YOU CHECKED YOUR WARDOBE LATELY?

REPAIRS AND ALTERATIONS

BY CRAFTY CRAFTSMEN

AT

BARTON LAUNDRY

and

DRY CLEANERS

3717 Locust St.

There once lived a crazy, mixed-up old giant. He lived at the top of a beanstalk and he got his kicks out of a little red hen.

Of course, that chicken laid golden eggs.

Now down at the bottom of the stalk lived our boy, Jackson. Our boy was low on loot and his mother...man, she wasn't making it at all. The feedbag was M. T.

So Jackson started thinking of a way to get loot fast: "How, said he to himself, "could I get that frantic chicken away from that character upstairs?" He looked around the hut for something to trade—How about an old piano roll? Mom's bifocals?

Uncle Looey's plectrum banjo? Wait a minute!!! In the cistern was a six-can carton of Budweiser! So he gets the Bud and nasibys up the stalk. Well, citizens, there's no use dragging this Budweiser hit out: The giant buys the Bud, gives Jackson the hen, mom's doing great and so will you if you're up to date. Get Budweiser, man...it's the world's favorite beer!

All cisterns...and brotherns, too, for that matter...should discover that there is a difference in beers. This Budweiser...it is the result.

Budweiser

KING OF BEERS

ANHEUSER-BUSCH, INC. • ST. LOUIS • NEWARK • LOS ANGELES

STUDENTS! HAVE YOU CHECKED YOUR WARDOBE LATELY?

REPAIRS AND ALTERATIONS

BY CRAFTY CRAFTSMEN

AT

BARTON LAUNDRY

and

DRY CLEANERS

3717 Locust St.

There once lived a crazy, mixed-up old giant. He lived at the top of a beanstalk and he got his kicks out of a little red hen.

Of course, that chicken laid golden eggs.

Now down at the bottom of the stalk lived our boy, Jackson. Our boy was low on loot and his mother...man, she wasn't making it at all. The feedbag was M. T.

So Jackson started thinking of a way to get loot fast: "How, said he to himself, "could I get that frantic chicken away from that character upstairs?" He looked around the hut for something to trade—How about an old piano roll? Mom's bifocals?

Uncle Looey's plectrum banjo? Wait a minute!!! In the cistern was a six-can carton of Budweiser! So he gets the Bud and nasibys up the stalk. Well, citizens, there's no use dragging this Budweiser hit out: The giant buys the Bud, gives Jackson the hen, mom's doing great and so will you if you're up to date. Get Budweiser, man...it's the world's favorite beer!

All cisterns...and brotherns, too, for that matter...should discover that there is a difference in beers. This Budweiser...it is the result.

Budweiser

KING OF BEERS

ANHEUSER-BUSCH, INC. • ST. LOUIS • NEWARK • LOS ANGELES

STUDENTS! HAVE YOU CHECKED YOUR WARDOBE LATELY?

REPAIRS AND ALTERATIONS

BY CRAFTY CRAFTSMEN

AT

BARTON LAUNDRY

and

DRY CLEANERS

3717 Locust St.

There once lived a crazy, mixed-up old giant. He lived at the top of a beanstalk and he got his kicks out of a little red hen.

Of course, that chicken laid golden eggs.

Now down at the bottom of the stalk lived our boy, Jackson. Our boy was low on loot and his mother...man, she wasn't making it at all. The feedbag was M. T.

So Jackson started thinking of a way to get loot fast: "How, said he to himself, "could I get that frantic chicken away from that character upstairs?" He looked around the hut for something to trade—How about an old piano roll? Mom's bifocals?

Uncle Looey's plectrum banjo? Wait a minute!!! In the cistern was a six-can carton of Budweiser! So he gets the Bud and nasibys up the stalk. Well, citizens, there's no use dragging this Budweiser hit out: The giant buys the Bud, gives Jackson the hen, mom's doing great and so will you if you're up to date. Get Budweiser, man...it's the world's favorite beer!

All cisterns...and brotherns, too, for that matter...should discover that there is a difference in beers. This Budweiser...it is the result.

Budweiser

KING OF BEERS

ANHEUSER-BUSCH, INC. • ST. LOUIS • NEWARK • LOS ANGELES

STUDENTS! HAVE YOU CHECKED YOUR WARDOBE LATELY?

REPAIRS AND ALTERATIONS

BY CRAFTY CRAFTSMEN

AT

BARTON LAUNDRY

and

DRY CLEANERS

3717 Locust St.

There once lived a crazy, mixed-up old giant. He lived at the top of a beanstalk and he got his kicks out of a little red hen.

Of course, that chicken laid golden eggs.
NOTICES

THE DAILY PENNSYLVANIAN

NOTICES

DAILY PENNSYLVANIAN

There will be a meeting of all Freshman Band members and students at 4 p.m., in the Franklin School Auditorium. Nothing for the Junior Pennsylvania Business School begins.

FOOTBALL

There will be a meeting of the freshmen football team at 7 p.m., in the Franklin School Auditorium.

RECORD

Judge Leonard M. Propper will address the Pre-Law Society meeting today on the topic, "The Judges Job and the Problem of Juvenile Delinquency," in the Franklin Room in Rooms Hall at 4:00 p.m. today.

Propper to Speak To Pre-Law Society About Delinquency

Judge Leonard M. Propper will address the Pre-Law Society meeting today on the topic, "The Judges Job and the Problem of Juvenile Delinquency," in the Franklin Room in Rooms Hall at 4:00 p.m. today.

Judge Propper was graduated from the University in 1933, and the Law School in 1936. He served as Deputy Attorney General of Pennsylvania from 1933 to 1941, and Assistant District Attorney of Philadelphia from 1942 to 1952. After serving an appointment as曼哈顿 Judge, he was appointed to serve in the Juvenile Court Division, exclusively.

Brennan Sworn In At Supreme Court

(Broadcast from page 1)

and four pages on the State Supreme Court.

After the September 20 appointment of President Eisenhower's selection, White House secretary James Hagerty said, "After looking over the recsions on juvenile delinquency.

charges of President Eisenhower's selection, White House secretary James Hagerty said, "After looking over the recorders, the only partial answer to the President's question has been to en-charge of President Eisenhower's selection, White House secretary James Hagerty said, "After looking over the rec-President Eisenhower's nomination. Arthur T. Vandermall of the New York Supreme Court submitted, the President was satisfied that Justice Brennan was the man he wanted."

After his graduation from law school, Justice Brennan specialized in labor law for a New Jersey law firm. He remained in the firm until 1962 when he served in the U. S. Army. He left the Army in 1964.

He returned to his law firm but continued to work for the Federal government. As Chief of the Labor Branch of the Industrial Personnel Division of the Justice Department in Washington he was awarded the Legion of Merit Award in 1949. In 1950 he was appointed to the New Jersey Superior Court by Governor DiMaggio. DiMaggio later selected Brennan for a state Superior Court vacancy in 1952. Later President Eisenhower, Governor DiMaggio was a Republican.

After President Eisenhower, Governor DiMaggio was a Republican.

Dr. Balderston Urges 'Tight Money' Policy

As Safeguard for Present Prosperity

(Continued from page 1)

Dr. Balderston stated that price controls and rationing up to only partial answer to the President's question has been to en-cause the rise to a point at which the money in order to achieve an orderly expansion of our economic resources.

The rise of the government in these policies, Dr. Balderston said, is to balance its budget and regulate the general monetary policies. The function of regulating the money policies has been assigned to the Federal Reserve System by Congress. The Federal Reserve System regulates the total supply of money, and can curtail it on his work "without fear of favor, from prosecution of political pressure on the one hand, or pri-

noted, the President, he must be able to counter every control that these controls are necessary to maintain

the rise to a point at which the money in order to achieve an orderly expansion of our economic resources.

The rise of the government in these policies, Dr. Balderston said, is to balance its budget and regulate the general monetary policies. The function of regulating the money policies has been assigned to the Federal Reserve System by Congress. The Federal Reserve System regulates the total supply of money, and can curtail it on his work "without fear of favor, from prosecution of political pressure on the one hand, or pri-

noted, the President, he must be able to counter every control that these controls are necessary to maintain

the rise to a point at which the money in order to achieve an orderly expansion of our economic resources.

The rise of the government in these policies, Dr. Balderston said, is to balance its budget and regulate the general monetary policies. The function of regulating the money policies has been assigned to the Federal Reserve System by Congress. The Federal Reserve System regulates the total supply of money, and can curtail it on his work "without fear of favor, from prosecution of political pressure on the one hand, or pri-

noted, the President, he must be able to counter every control that these controls are necessary to maintain

the rise to a point at which the money in order to achieve an orderly expansion of our economic resources.

The rise of the government in these policies, Dr. Balderston said, is to balance its budget and regulate the general monetary policies. The function of regulating the money policies has been assigned to the Federal Reserve System by Congress. The Federal Reserve System regulates the total supply of money, and can curtail it on his work "without fear of favor, from prosecution of political pressure on the one hand, or pri-

noted, the President, he must be able to counter every control that these controls are necessary to maintain

the rise to a point at which the money in order to achieve an orderly expansion of our economic resources.

The rise of the government in these policies, Dr. Balderston said, is to balance its budget and regulate the general monetary policies. The function of regulating the money policies has been assigned to the Federal Reserve System by Congress. The Federal Reserve System regulates the total supply of money, and can curtail it on his work "without fear of favor, from prosecution of political pressure on the one hand, or pri-

noted, the President, he must be able to counter every control that these controls are necessary to maintain

the rise to a point at which the money in order to achieve an orderly expansion of our economic resources.

The rise of the government in these policies, Dr. Balderston said, is to balance its budget and regulate the general monetary policies. The function of regulating the money policies has been assigned to the Federal Reserve System by Congress. The Federal Reserve System regulates the total supply of money, and can curtail it on his work "without fear of favor, from prosecution of political pressure on the one hand, or pri-

noted, the President, he must be able to counter every control that these controls are necessary to maintain

the rise to a point at which the money in order to achieve an orderly expansion of our economic resources.

The rise of the government in these policies, Dr. Balderston said, is to balance its budget and regulate the general monetary policies. The function of regulating the money policies has been assigned to the Federal Reserve System by Congress. The Federal Reserve System regulates the total supply of money, and can curtail it on his work "without fear of favor, from prosecution of political pressure on the one hand, or pri-

noted, the President, he must be able to counter every control that these controls are necessary to maintain

the rise to a point at which the money in order to achieve an orderly expansion of our economic resources.

The rise of the government in these policies, Dr. Balderston said, is to balance its budget and regulate the general monetary policies. The function of regulating the money policies has been assigned to the Federal Reserve System by Congress. The Federal Reserve System regulates the total supply of money, and can curtail it on his work "without fear of favor, from prosecution of political pressure on the one hand, or pri-

noted, the President, he must be able to counter every control that these controls are necessary to maintain

the rise to a point at which the money in order to achieve an orderly expansion of our economic resources.

The rise of the government in these policies, Dr. Balderston said, is to balance its budget and regulate the general monetary policies. The function of regulating the money policies has been assigned to the Federal Reserve System by Congress. The Federal Reserve System regulates the total supply of money, and can curtail it on his work "without fear of favor, from prosecution of political pressure on the one hand, or pri-

noted, the President, he must be able to counter every control that these controls are necessary to maintain

the rise to a point at which the money in order to achieve an orderly expansion of our economic resources.

The rise of the government in these policies, Dr. Balderston said, is to balance its budget and regulate the general monetary policies. The function of regulating the money policies has been assigned to the Federal Reserve System by Congress. The Federal Reserve System regulates the total supply of money, and can curtail it on his work "without fear of favor, from prosecution of political pressure on the one hand, or pri-

noted, the President, he must be able to counter every control that these controls are necessary to maintain

the rise to a point at which the money in order to achieve an orderly expansion of our economic resources.

The rise of the government in these policies, Dr. Balderston said, is to balance its budget and regulate the general monetary policies. The function of regulating the money policies has been assigned to the Federal Reserve System by Congress. The Federal Reserve System regulates the total supply of money, and can curtail it on his work "without fear of favor, from prosecution of political pressure on the one hand, or pri-

noted, the President, he must be able to counter every control that these controls are necessary to maintain

the rise to a point at which the money in order to achieve an orderly expansion of our economic resources.

The rise of the government in these policies, Dr. Balderston said, is to balance its budget and regulate the general monetary policies. The function of regulating the money policies has been assigned to the Federal Reserve System by Congress. The Federal Reserve System regulates the total supply of money, and can curtail it on his work "without fear of favor, from prosecution of political pressure on the one hand, or pri-

noted, the President, he must be able to counter every control that these controls are necessary to maintain

the rise to a point at which the money in order to achieve an orderly expansion of our economic resources.

The rise of the government in these policies, Dr. Balderston said, is to balance its budget and regulate the general monetary policies. The function of regulating the money policies has been assigned to the Federal Reserve System by Congress. The Federal Reserve System regulates the total supply of money, and can curtail it on his work "without fear of favor, from prosecution of political pressure on the one hand, or pri-

noted, the President, he must be able to counter every control that these controls are necessary to maintain

the rise to a point at which the money in order to achieve an orderly expansion of our economic resources.