Penn State 34, Penn 0

Penn State will try to continue their winning streak tonight when they visit the West Virginia Mountaineers at 8 p.m. tonight. The game will be played on the field at the Dink Week Carrousel in President's Park.

The Quakers, who are 1-1 in Ivy League competition with a 2-3 record for the season, are set to meet the Mountaineers, who are 3-0 in the league and 5-1 for the season. The Quakers are determined to end their losing streak and return to the winning ways of last year's team.

The Quakers will be playing with an experienced and well-balanced team. They have a strong defense, with an average of 12 points against five teams. The offense is also strong, with an average of three touchdowns per game.

The Mountaineers are a formidable team, with a strong defense and a balanced offense. They have a strong running game and a strong passing game. The defense is also strong, with an average of six points against five teams.

The Quakers will be looking to get back on track with a win against the Mountaineers. They are determined to end their losing streak and return to the winning ways of last year's team.

The Mountaineers will be looking to continue their winning streak and maintain their position at the top of the Ivy League standings. They are determined to stay on top of their competition and continue their winning ways.

The game will be played on the field at the Dink Week Carrousel in President's Park. The Quakers and the Mountaineers will be playing in front of a sold-out crowd, ready to see a great game of football.

Brown weekend, despite an anticipated footfall.

Alpha Sigma Phi is one of the houses that will be featured at Lantern last month.

Theta Pi will hold a reception following the lecture.

Students who wish to provide the event at an open party, Delta Lambda Phi wishes to present several important points.

Phi Delta Theta will present something different tonight with the showing of a recent full-length film.

For all open houses, the first event will be followed by an informal dance. It's a common practice.

Kappa Lambda Phi will be hosting a pre-Celtic brunch. In the same manner, the University of Pennsylvania does not attempt to teach about the proper use of alcoholic beverages, both as a means of recreation and as a means of social interaction.

In keeping with the regard to the specific question of the use or misuse of alcoholic beverages, each student should think about this problem through their own eyes, and in the light of their religious, cultural and family backgrounds, and with due regard for the University of Pennsylvania Liquor Code, should make his own decision. The University undertakes through its educational program to provide guidance and resources for students.

The Pennsylvania Liquor Code provides, among other things, that it shall be unlawful for any person (excepting State Liquor Stores and the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board), "to expose or keep any liquor, or to sell, furnish or give away any liquor to any person on any device, to sell or give away any liquor within the Commonwealth." Section 411 (1).

For a license to be issued to a licensee:

a. "To sell to another for consumption upon the premises where sold, any malt or beverage beverage to any person holder a valid license. Section 472 (2) (c).

b. "To sell any malt or beverage beverage for consumption upon the premises where sold, under each holder a valid license." Section 472 (2) (c).

2. "For any license or the Board, or any employee, servant or agent of such licensee, or of the Board, or any other person, to furnish or give any liquor or malt or beverage beverage to be sold, furnished or given . . . Section 411 (2).".

3. DePreist Heads First Chapter Of National Jazz Fraternity

The first chapter in the United States of the National Jazz Fraternity was established at the University, Wednesday, James DePreist, president of the new group, announced.

According to DePreist, the fraternity will "encourage jazz activities and interest in all colleges, and propagate knowledge and interest in jazz." The chapter at the University will be the first to be started since the national organization was founded two months ago in New York.

In addition to DePreist as president, other officers of the chapter are: vice-president, Eugene Schaefer; secretary; and bookkeeper, Jack Modern.

The fraternity's program at the Founder's Day includes regular scheduled jazz workshops, featuring either live jazz or recorded music. These workshops will provide an opportunity for students who wish to participate in the program.

Poor Richard's Almanac

By Charles H. MacNamara

Poor Richard's Almanac is a fictional publication that appears in Franklin's Pennsylvania Gazette and is often attributed to Benjamin Franklin. The text in the image is an excerpt from Poor Richard's Almanac, which is a satirical piece about the behavior of freshmen at a university. The author, Charles H. MacNamara, uses the pseudonym "Poor Richard" to discuss the foibles and faux pas of new students, often with a humorous and mocking tone.

Jaycee Booters Vanquish Ford For Third Win

The Pennsylvania J.V. Soccer team posted a 1-0 victory over the Harvard J.V. last Friday, to defend their Harvard J.V. Title, at Harvard.

Quakers drew first blood in the initial period, as Rudy Bercions scored one for the Freshman goalie John Bercum, on an assist by Penn's Dave Custerne. In the second quarter, neither team was able to score, although the Quakers controlled the ball most of the time.

Cassadaga Scene

With a 1-0 lead at halftime, the Red and Blue mounted the going in the third period, as Cassadaga kicked the ball straight past Harvard. Again, Penn controlled the ball for the remainder of the period.

Cardinal Field

The Harvard team was back to their second quarter form, to chalk up their first goal on Tony Blicke's spectacular free-kick attempt, and Quakers goalie Mike Persson. Again, at 14:45 of the same quarter, the Quakers' Laravel Larry Ledaing scored a second goal for Harvard.

Mock Election

Every man on the high scoring list of the Quakers has scored at least one in the first two games. Going into Picasso's game, George Simms, who led the Red and Blue with 14, could not be held. With a score of 17, he leads the way. He was followed by Simons with 15, and Shurton with 14. The Quakers were able to pierce their scoring wall.

EVEN if you are just starting college in the “Class of 1960,” we suggest that you take a long look at where you are going. Know, don’t guess, what is offered by fields like engineering and science, finance, marketing and relations. Too often young people discover late in their senior year that they can’t qualify for the career of their choice. Why be caught short? Selecting a career and knowing what is expected will make it possible for you to prepare for it now. Many graduates will find their place with industry.

General Electric is typical of many large industrial concerns. We employ over 27,000 college graduates from nearly 700 different colleges and universities. And our future, as the future of any progressive company, hinges on these people. Young men and women that have initiative, analytical and creative ability will make progress with industry. If you are interested, write for information about one or more of the programs listed on this page. These are the principal doorways to success at General Electric. The booklets can also be found at most college placement bureaus in a binder entitled “Career Information.”
