University Forms Committee for Event; Talk To Be Televised Throughout State

Democratic presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson will speak at the Palestra tomorrow night from 9:30 to 10 as part of his campaign to win the November election.

The Young Democrats club, David Schra- ger, announced that the Students for Stevenson group at the University will distribute free tickets for the event at the Houston Hall Information Desk. The presidential nominee, whose talk will be televised statewide from the Palestra, will arrive at International Airport at 2:30 p.m. From there he will attend a news conference in Chicago immediately before going to the University where he will outline a speech at City Hall Friday night.

Following his trip to Chicago, Stevenson plans to spend the next day in the Tri-State Area before driving to New York to be in the Lincoln Memorial services for Dr. Martin Luther King.

All permit holders for parking permits and who are entitled to have them renewed must have their cards inspected, Dr. George Hersch, chairman of the parking committee, announced recently. The committee, whose task is to award parking permits to employees who have permits for the length of the school year, will be available at the alleys between 8 and 10 a.m. today.

The committee has scheduled an open house for employees who wish to have their parking permits renewed or who wish to apply for the first time. The open house will be in the Student Center from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. today.

Pennsylvania also figured in the 1940 Roosevelt-Wallis battle. At the annual meeting of 45 Roosevelt leaders in Michigan, Mitchell J. Cooper, vice-president of the Roosevelt-Wallis club, stated that Pennsylvania was a key state in the final settlement. The campaign that year was centered in Pennsylvania. SPORTS CAR CLUB

Speed Unlimited

By Sanford Jacobs

The University of Pennsylvania Sports Car Association (U.P.S.C.A.) created last spring, has established rapid prominence as a campus organization. The common conception of a car association is that of an individual driving a motorized kiddie car at 10 mph. The U.P.S.C.A. is anything but such a thing. It is serious in its efforts to bring about useful and practical results for the organization. The question is: Is it possible to make a successful motor association without a car? The number of members at present is near 150, which is large. It is made up of foreign or sports car owners and all members of the university. Displays of car construction, the club is open to men and women undergraduates, graduate, and faculty. The interest of the group is distributed and includes car societies and sports cars and to hold competition amongst all students who have cars. Rally Testing Device
