Board Not To Be Paid Unless Meals Improve, Coeds State in Petition

Meeting Called for Today by Gisborne; Situation Will Be Discussed, Reviewed

In a petition submitted to Dr. Albia K. Hottle, dean of women, the women residents of Sergant Hall stated that they will not pay their board until meals are improved.

The petition, signed by 127 women, also calls for either improved food or a split room and board system. This would enable students to have a free meal in Sergant Hall and eating elsewhere.

A meeting has been called for 4 p.m. today by Gene D. Gisborne, vice president for student affairs, for discussion of the situation. Complaints and answers to the petition will be published in today's Daily Pennsylvanian.

Attention the meeting will be able to submit questions to the president.

Dr. John E. Moore, business vice-president, and Harry C. Evenson, manager of University Distributing Service, said that a new food plan will be discussed with the board.

Acquiasons Answered

Gisborne also said that some kind of compromise can be worked out between students and the University.

The petition was answered by the Daily Pennsylvanian regarding a general discussion of the situation. The food committee will be questioned by the board at its next meeting.

Dr. John E. Moore, business vice-president, and Harry C. Evenson, manager of University Distributing Service, said that a new food plan will be discussed with the board.

The major consideration in settling for the petition is whether the petition is due to individual or group demands. It is important to establish a free environment of choice between eating habits.

The petition was answered by the Daily Pennsylvanian regarding a general discussion of the situation. The food committee will be questioned by the board at its next meeting.

Dr. John E. Moore, business vice-president, and Harry C. Evenson, manager of University Distributing Service, said that a new food plan will be discussed with the board.

The major consideration in settling for the petition is whether the petition is due to individual or group demands. It is important to establish a free environment of choice between eating habits.

The petition was answered by the Daily Pennsylvanian regarding a general discussion of the situation. The food committee will be questioned by the board at its next meeting.

Dr. John E. Moore, business vice-president, and Harry C. Evenson, manager of University Distributing Service, said that a new food plan will be discussed with the board.

The major consideration in settling for the petition is whether the petition is due to individual or group demands. It is important to establish a free environment of choice between eating habits.

The petition was answered by the Daily Pennsylvanian regarding a general discussion of the situation. The food committee will be questioned by the board at its next meeting.

Dr. John E. Moore, business vice-president, and Harry C. Evenson, manager of University Distributing Service, said that a new food plan will be discussed with the board.

The major consideration in settling for the petition is whether the petition is due to individual or group demands. It is important to establish a free environment of choice between eating habits.

The petition was answered by the Daily Pennsylvanian regarding a general discussion of the situation. The food committee will be questioned by the board at its next meeting.

Dr. John E. Moore, business vice-president, and Harry C. Evenson, manager of University Distributing Service, said that a new food plan will be discussed with the board.

The major consideration in settling for the petition is whether the petition is due to individual or group demands. It is important to establish a free environment of choice between eating habits.

The petition was answered by the Daily Pennsylvanian regarding a general discussion of the situation. The food committee will be questioned by the board at its next meeting.

Dr. John E. Moore, business vice-president, and Harry C. Evenson, manager of University Distributing Service, said that a new food plan will be discussed with the board.

The major consideration in settling for the petition is whether the petition is due to individual or group demands. It is important to establish a free environment of choice between eating habits.

The petition was answered by the Daily Pennsylvanian regarding a general discussion of the situation. The food committee will be questioned by the board at its next meeting.

Dr. John E. Moore, business vice-president, and Harry C. Evenson, manager of University Distributing Service, said that a new food plan will be discussed with the board.

The major consideration in settling for the petition is whether the petition is due to individual or group demands. It is important to establish a free environment of choice between eating habits.

The petition was answered by the Daily Pennsylvanian regarding a general discussion of the situation. The food committee will be questioned by the board at its next meeting.

Dr. John E. Moore, business vice-president, and Harry C. Evenson, manager of University Distributing Service, said that a new food plan will be discussed with the board.

The major consideration in settling for the petition is whether the petition is due to individual or group demands. It is important to establish a free environment of choice between eating habits.

The petition was answered by the Daily Pennsylvanian regarding a general discussion of the situation. The food committee will be questioned by the board at its next meeting.

Dr. John E. Moore, business vice-president, and Harry C. Evenson, manager of University Distributing Service, said that a new food plan will be discussed with the board.

The major consideration in settling for the petition is whether the petition is due to individual or group demands. It is important to establish a free environment of choice between eating habits.

The petition was answered by the Daily Pennsylvanian regarding a general discussion of the situation. The food committee will be questioned by the board at its next meeting.

Dr. John E. Moore, business vice-president, and Harry C. Evenson, manager of University Distributing Service, said that a new food plan will be discussed with the board.

The major consideration in settling for the petition is whether the petition is due to individual or group demands. It is important to establish a free environment of choice between eating habits.

The petition was answered by the Daily Pennsylvanian regarding a general discussion of the situation. The food committee will be questioned by the board at its next meeting.

Dr. John E. Moore, business vice-president, and Harry C. Evenson, manager of University Distributing Service, said that a new food plan will be discussed with the board.

The major consideration in settling for the petition is whether the petition is due to individual or group demands. It is important to establish a free environment of choice between eating habits.

The petition was answered by the Daily Pennsylvanian regarding a general discussion of the situation. The food committee will be questioned by the board at its next meeting.

Dr. John E. Moore, business vice-president, and Harry C. Evenson, manager of University Distributing Service, said that a new food plan will be discussed with the board.

The major consideration in settling for the petition is whether the petition is due to individual or group demands. It is important to establish a free environment of choice between eating habits.

The petition was answered by the Daily Pennsylvanian regarding a general discussion of the situation. The food committee will be questioned by the board at its next meeting.

Dr. John E. Moore, business vice-president, and Harry C. Evenson, manager of University Distributing Service, said that a new food plan will be discussed with the board.

The major consideration in settling for the petition is whether the petition is due to individual or group demands. It is important to establish a free environment of choice between eating habits.

The petition was answered by the Daily Pennsylvanian regarding a general discussion of the situation. The food committee will be questioned by the board at its next meeting.

Dr. John E. Moore, business vice-president, and Harry C. Evenson, manager of University Distributing Service, said that a new food plan will be discussed with the board.

The major consideration in settling for the petition is whether the petition is due to individual or group demands. It is important to establish a free environment of choice between eating habits.

The petition was answered by the Daily Pennsylvanian regarding a general discussion of the situation. The food committee will be questioned by the board at its next meeting.

Dr. John E. Moore, business vice-president, and Harry C. Evenson, manager of University Distributing Service, said that a new food plan will be discussed with the board.

The major consideration in settling for the petition is whether the petition is due to individual or group demands. It is important to establish a free environment of choice between eating habits.

The petition was answered by the Daily Pennsylvanian regarding a general discussion of the situation. The food committee will be questioned by the board at its next meeting.

Dr. John E. Moore, business vice-president, and Harry C. Evenson, manager of University Distributing Service, said that a new food plan will be discussed with the board.

The major consideration in settling for the petition is whether the petition is due to individual or group demands. It is important to establish a free environment of choice between eating habits.
Letters to the Editor

Editor, The Daily Pennsylvanian:

I read in your earlier paper this week that students are getting ready to strike from a Pennies' performance of Mr. Arthur C. Parnou. I would like to know what were the true facts behind the strike from whose productive wisdom this decision came. Was it a true protest for the students' health, or was it a means of getting off the back of the administration? I am told that certain portions of Mr. Milliken's speech were not so favorable to the students. I would like to know why. Can I, as a student, say that my judgments are sufficiently keen, and my minds sufficiently to be unworthy of Mr. Milliken's criticisms? I think not. Let me remember that at the beginning of this term, Mr. Milliken said that he expected great things from the Congregation and the Congregation failed him. He expected great things during these past few years. Surely it is obvious that a great deal can be made. Can I, as a student, say that my judgments are sufficiently keen, and my minds sufficiently to be unworthy of Mr. Milliken's criticisms? I think not. Let me remember that at the beginning of this term, Mr. Milliken said that he expected great things from the Congregation and the Congregation failed him. He expected great things during these past few years. Surely it is obvious that a great deal can be made.

May I, as a student, say that my judgments are sufficiently keen, and my minds sufficiently to be unworthy of Mr. Milliken's criticisms? I think not. Let me remember that at the beginning of this term, Mr. Milliken said that he expected great things from the Congregation and the Congregation failed him. He expected great things during these past few years. Surely it is obvious that a great deal can be made.

Many students have said that Mr. Milliken is a man who believes in the importance of the university, and I would like to know if any of you agree with him on this. We are all students, and I think that we should support one another in this fight for our rights.

Honest Opinion

The Hungarian Spirit

by Joseph Corriere

In the past few weeks, Pennsylvania's fencing coach has been giving quite a lift to the team. He has been working with the students on the fencing activities, and it has been a real inspiration to see the students' enthusiasm.

The silver day we ventured into Haddonfield, New Jersey, and saw a match in the Matches with the possibility of having a few finals events. Indeed, it was that all the indications were positive on the activities, but we wanted to know what the information on the Hungarian and the sports figures who are coming to this country which has been already approved by the Hungarian government.

If you feel that the athletes were true symbols of the people of Hungary, then you must know that the people are being ripped off.

You are correct in the capacity now, but the only ones who are really in peace with the Hungarian government are those whose families are still, and we can see a sort of a future before them. We will leave it to be a lager in the Philadelphia area and have them continue their journey to his club, Belle Court.

First Hand Report

The Hungarian Spirit

by Joseph Corriere

In the past few weeks, Pennsylvania's fencing coach has been giving quite a lift to the team. He has been working with the students on the fencing activities, and it has been a real inspiration to see the students' enthusiasm.

The silver day we ventured into Haddonfield, New Jersey, and saw a match in the Matches with the possibility of having a few finals events. Indeed, it was that all the indications were positive on the activities, but we wanted to know what the information on the Hungarian and the sports figures who are coming to this country which has been already approved by the Hungarian government.

If you feel that the athletes were true symbols of the people of Hungary, then you must know that the people are being ripped off.

You are correct in the capacity now, but the only ones who are really in peace with the Hungarian government are those whose families are still, and we can see a sort of a future before them. We will leave it to be a lager in the Philadelphia area and have them continue their journey to his club, Belle Court.

First Hand Report

The Hungarian Spirit

by Joseph Corriere

In the past few weeks, Pennsylvania's fencing coach has been giving quite a lift to the team. He has been working with the students on the fencing activities, and it has been a real inspiration to see the students' enthusiasm.

The silver day we ventured into Haddonfield, New Jersey, and saw a match in the Matches with the possibility of having a few finals events. Indeed, it was that all the indications were positive on the activities, but we wanted to know what the information on the Hungarian and the sports figures who are coming to this country which has been already approved by the Hungarian government.

If you feel that the athletes were true symbols of the people of Hungary, then you must know that the people are being ripped off.

You are correct in the capacity now, but the only ones who are really in peace with the Hungarian government are those whose families are still, and we can see a sort of a future before them. We will leave it to be a lager in the Philadelphia area and have them continue their journey to his club, Belle Court.
Olympic Stars

Barry Swarát

Perm Grapplers Score
First Victory of Season

Pennsylvania's varsity wrestling team registered its first victory of the season yesterday with an impressive 2:28 win over Lafayette.

The score was 5:6 lead in the first half of the afternoon, but the Penn squad dug in and held on to get six matches in succession to clinch the match. The grapplers captured the match in the closing minutes, earning a 2:28 victory.

In the 170-pound division, Penn's Jim Kinsey scored a big win by pinning in the second period. The score was captured in the second round, and Penn's victory was secured in the match.

Frank Knipe nearest

Baseball Edict

Barring Scouts
Baseball Edict

The Daily Pennsylvanian

The Daily Pennsylvanian

Olympic Stars
Perform Here

Chow Vinic, world and Olympic heavyweightweight cham-

Sports page

Pennsylvania's varsity wrestling team registered its first victory of the season yesterday with an impressive 2:28 win over Lafayette.

The score was 5:6 lead in the first half of the afternoon, but the Penn squad dug in and held on to get six matches in succession to clinch the match. The grapplers captured the match in the closing minutes, earning a 2:28 victory.

In the 170-pound division, Penn's Jim Kinsey scored a big win by pinning in the second period. The score was captured in the second round, and Penn's victory was secured in the match.

Frank Knipe nearest

Baseball Edict

Barring Scouts

The Daily Pennsylvanian

The Daily Pennsylvanian

Olympic Stars
Perform Here

Chow Vinic, world and Olympic heavyweightweight cham-

Sports page

Pennsylvania's varsity wrestling team registered its first victory of the season yesterday with an impressive 2:28 win over Lafayette.

The score was 5:6 lead in the first half of the afternoon, but the Penn squad dug in and held on to get six matches in succession to clinch the match. The grapplers captured the match in the closing minutes, earning a 2:28 victory.

In the 170-pound division, Penn's Jim Kinsey scored a big win by pinning in the second period. The score was captured in the second round, and Penn's victory was secured in the match.