Title of Miss University Given to Miss Denner In 1957 Record Contest

CW Freshman Chosen From 5 Finalists In Campus Preferential Balloting Mon.

A fifteen-year-old brunette freshman in the College for Women was elected Miss University of Pennsylvania for 1957, yesterday afternoon.

Miss Denner was given her "crowning"—a bouquet of long-stemmed American Beauty roses—by Michael Gordon, editor-in-chief of the Record, shortly after 4 p.m. yesterday. In winning her title, she amassed more than 2,500 points out of a possible 5,000, based on preferential balloting by 2,900 members of the University, today.

Miss Denner was chosen from five finalists. The other four, the Record reports, were: Pamela Joan Burghart, Lynn Greenich and Nancy Prater, from the queen's court. They received scores naming the queen.

A resident of Peter Dormitory, Miss Denner intends to major in political science. Her father, an attorney, is an executive in the Franklin National Bank.

Miss Denner graduated from the High School for Girls in New York City. For her father, an attorney, is an executive in the Franklin National Bank.

Special Issue of D.P. Published This Week

A special Founder's Day issue of the Daily Pennsylvanian will be published in the Daily Pennsylvanian "Business and Education."

This year for the first time, the Founder's Day issue will be published in full, rather than as a section.

The issue will cover the 176th anniversary of the founding of the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce, Class of 1842.

Miss Denner is president of the Board of Directors of the Delta Phi Epsilon fraternity, and is a member of the Secretary's Committee of the Business Student's Council, Class of 1951. The School is hosting for the Record.

In Individual Nature, Politics Would Be Izing

Pennsylvania after her selection, Miss Denner pledged to devote herself to her election. "I didn't think the queen would like children, wanted to work with them after graduation."

She enthusiastically refused to comment about school politics, but admitted that her election had made her "very happy."

Freshman Directory Will Be Sold Wed.

The Catalogue, working in cooperation with Freshman class, will be on sale today at the Student Union lobby, during the director, an announcement editor of the directory, said.

Copies will be on sale at Rushon Hall, College Hall, Dietrich Hall, Man's Lunchette, A.J. Penn dormitory, and the Student Union. The Directory will also be available through dormitory advisors. President Rotter, Director, will be on sale through the Inter-Fraternity Council.

Govemor Leader To Speak At Midyear Commencemcnt

Dr. Harnwell To Confer Degree on Jones;
333 Students To Graduate In Ceremonies

The Honorable George M. Leader, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, will be the main speaker at mid- year commencement, February 13th, in the Laura Dickson Auditorium, at which time 333 men and women will receive degrees.

Dr. Gaylord P. Harnwell, president of the University, will confer two honorary degrees. Governor Leader will preside at the degree ceremonies and laws will also be conferred upon the Honorable Charles A. Jones, chief justice of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Jones is a graduate of Williams College and Dickinson College Law School.

Pennsylvania Supreme Court

The Governor's office has reported that the University will be attended by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania for the University's 1957 commencement.

Revisioj Attempts To Be Made By Penn Students

Limiting Director

Penn Students will consult its Advisory Board tomorrow on the advisability of seeking a constitutional amendment limiting the admis- sionary power of the directors, Miss Kathleen Quinn.

The meeting, which will be held at 10:45 p.m. in the Franklin Room, high school, will be upon to the members of the Pennsylvania Play- off as well as to the September Advisory Board. The special open meeting was called upon the Penn Students Club, last, yesterday.

The university will be issued several major changes in the present constitution, and the administrative power of Penn Students would be reduced. Several committee members were selected by the Board of Directors of the University.

In case of a tie between the two, the majority would be referred to the Advisory Board. The amendment board also for the election of the Advisory Board by the members of the Club, the following vote, rather than by the Board of Governors.

While curtailing the power of the director, it would still give him complete authority over the internal nature pertaining to the students, in the form of "the constitution." This would mean that he would not be able to change the constitution or the election of all members.

This change would not give him complete authority over the students, in the form of "the constitution." This would mean that he would not be able to change the constitution or the election of all members.

If the Faculty Advisory Board were to vote tomorrow that the amendment be considered, they would be brought up as a formal amendment to the constitution at the next meeting of the Pennsylvania Play- off Club.

Had the amendment been considered, they would be brought up as a formal amendment to the constitution at the next meeting of the Pennsylvania Play- off Club.

They are on the train.

Cut to Rita.

Cut to Jack.

Jack: Don't worry. I think the plane will do something about it.

Rita: Why, don't you think the food's bad?

Jack: No, I think it's lousy. As a mat-ter of fact, I'm going to ask the steward to pick up that paper.

Rita: I'm glad you do. You're doing a wonderful job.

Jack: Well, I've never had such a nice flight before.

MUC Rita and Jack.

Rita: Oh, Jack, you're headed for disaster.
Of course, in his

Young engineer pioneers new ways to use x-ray

A new x-ray inspection system which international experts have termed an "excellent new introduction" has been developed at General Electric.

The system, which is capable of detecting and identifying flaws in materials, is based on the use of x-rays with a new type of x-ray tube.

The new tube, which is about twice as large as the conventional type, produces a more uniform beam of x-rays and is less susceptible to interference than the conventional type.

The system is used primarily for inspecting metal parts, but it can also be used for inspecting other materials such as plastic, glass, and ceramic. It is also being used for inspecting printed circuit boards and electronic components.

The system is currently being used at General Electric's Schenectady plant and is expected to be introduced at other plants in the near future.

Editor, Daily Pennsylvanian:

As a member of the Board of Governors of Penn Players, I want to congratulate the group on the performance of "The Crucible." I appreciate the hard work and dedication that went into making this production a success.

It is unfortunate that the play was not allowed to be performed at Penn because of the club's refusal to allow the production.

As a result of this decision, the group has lost the opportunity to showcase their talent and achievements.

I urge the administration to reconsider this decision and allow the production of "The Crucible." The group has demonstrated their commitment to excellence and should be given the chance to continue their success.

Sincerely,

John D. Smith
Tiger Fencers
Face Quakers
In League Duel

Princeton's varsity and freshmen fencing teams will provide the opposition for the first meet of the season, to be held at Whitman Gym this Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m.

Both matches are scheduled to begin at 2 p.m.

Earlier this week Princeton's varsity team defeated Rutgers by a score of 19-6 in the season's opener for the Orange and Black.

According to Tiger coach Stanley Steig, who is in his sixteenth season at the helm of the Princeton fencing team, "This is a rebuilding year for us." Last year's team won 5-0, but 11 was the most successful in the history of the school.

Although the Tigers will lose much individual skill at intercollegiate open champion Raymond Hess and others, this year's team could be a contender for Ivy League honors.

Last year's unaffiliated freshmen team should provide more than adequate help for the three returning veterans. Their leader is Frank Finnerty, foil, the president of the senior class, according to Steig, who won two out of three bouts against Rutgers.

The Tigers were second in the Easterns and fourth in the NCAA last year.

Princeton is their second league match of the season. The first and last was defeated by Yale, 16-11, at New Haven, last weekend. The Quakers will be out to avenge a 16-11 loss to Princeton last year.

The freshmen team won the first duel of the season at Girard College by a score of 16-10.
Penn Wrestlers Oppose Cadets; Frosch in Action

Pennsylvania's ranking and freshman wrestling teams return to action this weekend, as the Quakers square off against Princeton in the Palestra, opposing Ariez and the Missouri Valley's De Kalb University, respectively. The fresh schedule is marked for 12:00 and is to be followed by the varsity match.

In the varsity duals, plans to see Dick North at 118. Jacques Lavery will be in the 180-pound division, and Charles Bahn is expected to meet Brown. At 177, the Quakers will see Dennis Hasty, and Ken Fisher will once again face the 185-pound class for the Michelles.

Frosh in Action

Rushed Bistline started that Jim Kestler represented the Quakers in the 115-pound division. Co-captain Jay Goldbarg will be Penn's entry in the 125-pound class. Bob LaBonte is expected to fill the 175-pound class. Co-captain Ted Roberts faces the Cadets' heavyweight.

Last season Army defeated the Blue and Brown by a score of 25-9.

Upsurges Carpe

Frosh coach Robert Matti- tworth will send the yearlings (555) for the first time in DuPont's 110, The frosh will be facing their opening matches to the side of the College and going to the University's brand-new ash-cement gymnasium.

Freshmen swimmingcreateFrom

The meet will consist of 16 relays, 16 individual events, and two team events. The program starting lineup will consist of Kini and Van Nostrand. The 115 class and Allen Black are the Quakers' top swimmers. The Quakers will be the relaxer's

Third Sophomore

The frosh mermaids meet the seniors in the 100-yard relay. I. airy Cooke will again be entered in the 100 and 200 freestyle.

When The Luckies are gone, you've still got the memory of some great smoking. You've also got a taste better, cleaner, fresher, smoother. What is Luckies? A German chewing tobacco.

The frosh and sophomores and the Philadelphia teams will be facing the College and Elmer Hall.
