Good City Government Is Subject of Discussion By Governors, Mavors

Gates, Wike To Participate in Debate, Daily Worker Editor’s Visit Protested

Penn Players Seek Two Undergraduates With Bagpipes To Play for ‘Brigadoon’

Euridice’ Presented one February 15

Pennsylvania Players, who must often claim a number of collegiate pros, are confronted with a rather unique situation in the presentation of ‘Brigadoon’—that of finding two undergraduates who own and play bagpipes.

The paper will not be part of the orchestra but will appear on stage with the chorus. Miss Kathleen Quin, director of Penn players, stated that anyone who has had experience with the instrument should contact the Players’ office at the earliest convenience.

Mr. Quin added that Bruce Montgomery, musical director for Brigadoon, is arranging tryout positions in the orchestra and that any undergraduate who would like an audition should have his roommate, address, and information concerning the type of instrument at the Pennsylvania Players’ office.

Rehearsals for Brigadoon began last week under the direction of Miss Quin and Montgomery. The leading roles are played by Peter J. Mosca, William F. Hoffman, and Vivian V. Langly and Karen E. Oster. Supporting players are Eloise Chances, Valerie Goodwin, Anthony Miller, Thomas Johnson, Eugene Hamilton, Walter Van Thiel, William Text, Donald K. Armour, and Carol St. Arth. Also featured will be a singing chorus of 27 and a dancing chorus of 26.

Penn Players To Play for ‘Brigadoon’

By Paul J. Spiegel

The Pennsylvania Players, who must often claim a number of collegiate pros, are confronted with a rather unique situation in the presentation of ‘Brigadoon’—that of finding two undergraduates who own and play bagpipes.

The paper will not be part of the orchestra but will appear on stage with the chorus. Miss Kathleen Quin, director of Penn players, stated that anyone who has had experience with the instrument should contact the Players’ office at the earliest convenience.

Miss Quin added that Bruce Montgomery, musical director for Brigadoon, is arranging tryout positions in the orchestra and that any undergraduate who would like an audition should have his roommate, address, and information concerning the type of instrument at the Pennsylvania Players’ office.

Rehearsals for Brigadoon began last week under the direction of Miss Quin and Montgomery. The leading roles are played by Peter J. Mosca, William F. Hoffman, and Vivian V. Langly and Karen E. Oster. Supporting players are Eloise Chances, Valerie Goodwin, Anthony Miller, Thomas Johnson, Eugene Hamilton, Walter Van Thiel, William Text, Donald K. Armour, and Carol St. Arth. Also featured will be a singing chorus of 27 and a dancing chorus of 26.

Gates, Wike To Participate in Debate, Daily Worker Editor’s Visit Protested

The Daily Worker, in removed from a patrol bond by the court, will be handled by Rufier Wike, assistant professor of political science.

Government Club

Sponsors Debate

by Raymond J. McIlmony

John Gates, editor of the Daily Worker, was invited by the Government Club to ‘have a future in the United States’ on February 4 with J. Rufier Wike, assistant professor of political science, the Daily Pennsylvania learned yesterday.

Thomas C. Glimmer, chief assistant to the U.S. attorney at New York, said the discussion would center on radicalism and is not allowed to leave Philadelphia, New York, with the permission of either the U.S. attorney’s office or the court which holds his bail. Glimmer commented that the permission would probably be granted if the visit is not against the best interests of the United States.

Glimmer continued that visits outside the district by Gates would be unconditionally authorized if good cause for it is shown. The fact that he has been invited by an official establishment to participate in a debate would be an acceptable cause, Glimmer said.

Active in YCL, Gates, who was convicted for contempt of the Smith Act of 1940, along with ten others in October, 1945, was active in the Young Communist League during the period, 1931-37. In 1933 he joined the Comìmunist party. After he worked for a while in Ohio as organizer for the league, he went on to become a political constitutional organizer. Returning to the United States, he became director of the Young Communist League.

After his discharge from the army, he was elected national director of the League. In 1956, he was elected chairman of the YCL.

Penn State President Dr. Wike was invited to participate in a debate on the constitutional position of the government by the officers of the Government Club.

A national convention is scheduled in the next few days at which a motion will be read to invite the party in America which has the closest connection with the party in the U.S. to bring the Daily Pennsylvania protest.

He continued that it would certainly give interesting to see what the results of the convention would be. It will probably affect the United States, he said. If it gives the Congress some leadership it might be received with favor by the public, which would probably change its name from a group of political party. It was decided at the next meeting of the Executive Board that the incident, which is the most important of the year, is on hand, and that the University will not be allowed to hold the incident.

January 18, 1957

FOUNDER’S DAY ISSUE

January 18, 1957

BUSINESS AND EDUCATION

FOUNDER’S DAY ISSUE

January 18, 1957

BUSINESS AND EDUCATION