Lions Top Varsity Wrestlers; Quaker Yearlings Win, 23-9

In a battle for the Ivy League wrestling title, team meet in 26-2, Saturday afternoon at the Palestra. In the preliminary freestyle match Penn defeated the Lions, 20-19. However, in the final meet the Quakers were victorious over the Lions in a 23-9 meet.

Dave Clark, the Lion's undefeated 125-pound grappler, pinned Fran Nathan at 5:40 of the first half when John Buchanan put Peter Kacor's shoulders to the mat at 4:45 in the 175-pound match. Dave Clark added five points in the Columbia match, with a fall over John Coghlan and sophomore Bob LaBarre accounted for Penn's third victory with decision on March 10. Coghlan's last seconds cap to give him a 2-1 win over Bill Smith in the 175-pound class.

Lion came from behind late in the 37-pound half to edge Wade Butler, 4-7. The Penn wrestler needed just over 40 seconds remaining in the final stanza to edge the Butler.

The meet was not a regularly scheduled one, being added to the calendar to enable both teams to prepare for the Intercollegiate Championships this weekend at Cornell.

PKS Victorious in Pledge Relay

Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity won the annual pledge relay yesterday at Franklin Field. Running against a field of 19 teams, the winning team of Walt Shaw, Harry Yates, Art Benton and Dave Coffe ran the 398 yard dash in 1:05.8.

Signs Phi Epsilon's brain took second place, while Phi Kappa Sigma showed its superiority, as its members "defeated all comers in a third place finish. The relays are sponsored annually by Tau Epsilon Phi.

Cornell Mermen Defeat Quakers in Final Meet

The season ended for Penntanglers yesterday, as the undefeated 29-0 team humbled them with a 25-10 defeat. The final margin was due to the four straight pins earned after the first period had been scored in the first five periods.

It was not until the seventh or eighth minutes that gelatin promised. This late first, a victory by Joe Walsh in the 193-pound weight class. The latter's win was a good one for the Cornells. Walsh also won a record in the fried fish. Walsh, a Penn's only head in the meet.

Cornell Wince Relish

Cornell sent the 414-mile relay team to victory. Pete Welch, Duffy Mathias, Jim Danisz and Bert Mortow went down to 29-0.

Joe Foster was first for the Big Red. The Mount Vernon, New York, Carpenier outwitted the field in the final relay race.

Fife was victorious in the 140-pound final, and Joe Harris was the grueling 49-pound full- blooded fullback. Mathias, who with the Cornell point for the victory. Harris then back married Robin Thomas and Phillips, the winner of the Quaker Meet Outstanding.

The most exciting of the day, the 140-pound relay team was a test of athleticism. Can was run off by Williamsburg, in the only relay to score a "One"

Despite the poor season had been, Cornell's expressed hope for next year as there a number of good men coming up. Through graduation he will lose Charles Clark, Dan Squires, Whitey, Dick Weis and Whitey White.

Hope for Future Mermen

Pennsylvania's swimming star, for the individual record and sweep for a relay team in the nation, was in the Columbia, A.C. Swimming championship held over the weekend.

Jordan Shines As Penn Loses

Gill and John Howard had combined for eight quick goals to lead in 37-26, before the end for six straight markers, and Cornells were home free. Penn, playing without starters Paul Hitz and George Schmidt, who was both on the ineligible list, produced the top individual performance of the race despite their widespread loss. Colonel's best individual achievement was a final eight of the field. Penn's loss was enough for the second half.

For Bryon, Merton and Norsen it was a mere experience in the first six. At Princeton, Monday, it was the same old story of too much rushing, and the defense was completely broken on the ground. The first period was dominated by the Penns, who were unable to contain the Tigers, who rolled over mostly twice as many visitors. The first half saw a few goals, and as a result had 23 more points. From this point, the Tigers made 8 of their 9 attempts, converting 1 point for 2, and won, 72-67.

Freshman Five Defeats Tigers

Breaking loss for 13 points in the last two and one-on-one in the third quarter, Pennsylvania's freshman sog will ever sent out their season in a third last place to defeat the Princeton Tigers, 29-4, in Princeton Saturday.

With the game almost 39 minutes, the Quakers and the Tigers were all tied at 0, 42, 10. The Red and Blue could do no wrong, and ripped of 13 consecutive five markers, halting the oppositions' chance, to put the win.

Frewing, Whitehead

Pennsylvania's freshman fencing team ended its regular season schedule Saturday by defeating the Riverside School by 14 to 14, 13 to 11, 11 to 10. The winning team were Gregory Branchfield, Jacob, William Gill and John Schiffer.

The Lady Quakers rolled over the George Washington University 12-0, 9-0, 7-0, who were unfortunates in each of their three losses. This victory gave the Quakers a winning season of five wins and three losses.

BEGIN YOUR CAREER WITH A LEADER IN WEAPONS SYSTEMS DEVELOPMENT

Bell Aircraft Corporation now offers you the opportunity to join the Nation's foremost team of missile specialists. The combined efforts of our engineering team members directed towards the development of better weapons systems for defense have been crowned by such achievements as the Rascal Missile, key weapon in Air Force test strategy, airborne electronic and servomechanisms, and rocket motors for a variety of missile programs including the "Nile." The missile and aircraft weapons systems of the future are now being developed in our laboratories. In addition opportunities for a permanent and promising career are also offered.

NEW NUCLEAR ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT

Be sure to arrange through your placement office to meet with our representative on MARCH 14 for complete information on the varied, creative assignments offered at the Bell Aircraft Engineering Division.
