Glen Miller Orchestra
To Be Featured Band
At Ivy Ball in Sheraton
McKinely Directs Band in 'Miller Style';
Hey Day Exercises To Be Held May 17

The Glen Miller Orchestra under the direction of Ray McKinley will be the featured band at the Ivy Ball Friday, May 17, at the Sheraton Hotel, Richmond, Branson, and will be preceded by Hey Day ceremonies that day.

McKinley, a close friend and former associate of the late Glen Miller, will join the band when the ballroom leader lost his life in 1944 during World War II. Under McKinley's direction, the Miller Orchestra plays the Miller style which was made famous during the Miller band arrangements.

McKinley and Miller rode in Chicago during the early 1930's when both were beginning their musical careers. Shortly after, the two were together in the Benny Hoey's band, with Miller as arranger and McKinley as drummer.

Country's Leading Orchestra
Launched Here

Dr. Ben Bedell, who formed his own orchestra in 1933 in New York, the Glen Miller Orchestra was the inspiration. When Miller entered the Army in 1942 and the band was disbanded, Bedell continued his band's popularity continued.

Beginning his own orchestra with Will Adkins, a former Able Criner, he replaced Miller in August when Miller's band was disbanded. Bedell's usual materials were recordings of McKinley's arrangements.

After being discharged from the Army, McKinley formed a new band and had for its arrangements Eddie Kramer (now of the Stanuow Sinclaire) as assistant conductor. He has been touring with the group and in 1919 joined the group in Fort Worth, Texas, his home town.

Lend Own Band
McKinely at last returned to the University of Texas, 1944, "The Glen Miller Story," a musical story that has made the moment of many of Miller's recordings and appearances in the Glen Miller Orchestra and style.

As manager of the University of Texas, McKinley's contribution to the winning band and his close relationship with the band, has provided the University of Texas Band and the Glen Miller Orchestra and gained him the title of manager of the Glen Miller Orchestra.

During Hey Day ceremonies, which will precede the Ivy Ball, the student edition of the Austin Chronicle Band, Britt and Smoot will be presented. Another group that will include the dedication of the University of Texas Band, the announcement of the College of 1967, the top-placing record of the fall season and the laying of the Ivy Day Flag.

Over $250 Netted
By Purim Carnival,
Fogelman Declares

The Purim Carnival, which was held in the Union Building, Fort Hall, netted approximately $250. Robert Fogelman, president of the Purim Carnival committee, attributed the success of the carnival to the efforts of the members.

Miss Dorothy Meyer, the emcee, received the most votes as "Miss Most Wanted." Miss Meyer received $2.50 for her entry. The Purim Carnival committee planned the event to net $200. Members of the committee were Robert Fogelman, president; Robert Sisson, vice president; Robert Holm, treasurer; and Leroy Smith, secretary.

The Purim Carnival committee anticipated a profit of $200. The committee planned the event to net $200. Members of the committee were Robert Fogelman, president; Robert Sisson, vice president; Robert Holm, treasurer; and Leroy Smith, secretary.

The Purim Carnival, which was held in the Union Building, Fort Hall, netted approximately $250. Robert Fogelman, president of the Purim Carnival committee, attributed the success of the carnival to the efforts of the members.

Miss Dorothy Meyer, the emcee, received the most votes as "Miss Most Wanted." Miss Meyer received $2.50 for her entry. The Purim Carnival committee planned the event to net $200. Members of the committee were Robert Fogelman, president; Robert Sisson, vice president; Robert Holm, treasurer; and Leroy Smith, secretary.

The Purim Carnival committee anticipated a profit of $200. The committee planned the event to net $200. Members of the committee were Robert Fogelman, president; Robert Sisson, vice president; Robert Holm, treasurer; and Leroy Smith, secretary.
Populi of Napoli

by Warren Link

Napulians, at least at the tree in Naples, appear to have their lives with great gusto. It seems to them just as it did to the famous writer Stendhal, to be a complete change from the middle-European atmosphere. On it is it in Victor Hugo's "Toilers of the Sea".

Naples, from olden times, is one of the city's most appealing in the early morning. The town is busy with laborers, who are doing their daily work. In the south it is a very hot day, and the Napulians are not used to it. But the morning is still quite cool. People like to walk about in the streets, and enjoy their coffee in the cafes. One of the most popular places is the "Gold of Naples".

"Gold of Naples"

"The Barberino" lives in the house of the "Gold of Naples". He has been an hotel owner for over 50 years, and he has been a successful man. He is now 82 years old, and he still works hard. The barberino is a very kind man, and he always helps his customers. He is one of the most popular men in Naples. He is called "Gold of Naples" because he has a gold store in his house.

Italy. In the town of Naples, there is a beautiful fountain in the center of the square. It is called "The Fountain of Luna". It is made of marble and it is very beautiful. The fountain is surrounded by beautiful trees and flowers. The name of the fountain comes from the fact that it is located in the town of Luna. The fountain is very popular with the citizens of Naples.

"The Barberino" lives in the house of the "Gold of Naples". He has been an hotel owner for over 50 years, and he has been a successful man. He is now 82 years old, and he still works hard. The barberino is a very kind man, and he always helps his customers. He is one of the most popular men in Naples. He is called "Gold of Naples" because he has a gold store in his house.

"The Barberino" lives in the house of the "Gold of Naples". He has been an hotel owner for over 50 years, and he has been a successful man. He is now 82 years old, and he still works hard. The barberino is a very kind man, and he always helps his customers. He is one of the most popular men in Naples. He is called "Gold of Naples" because he has a gold store in his house.
Baseball Coach Prepares Penn for Villanova

Returning from a weekend trip to the Boston area, coach Joe McGuckin has his Penn team ready for the last of its weekend series against Villanova at Shibe Park.

The Quakers are 2-0 against the Wildcats this season, and coach said that Villanova is a team that his team always has to be ready for when they come to Philadelphia.

Schoolboy Meet 'Biggest, Best'

The 10th annual Prefect-Shield Track Meet, held on Franklin Field, featured some of the largest and best entries ever, according to members of the Quaker track meet, who described the entire affair.

Over 750 athletes competed in the contest, which was not without its share of broken bones and tires. The meet is the only one of its kind for high school runners in the area.

Penn coach Ken Doherty said that this year’s meet was better organized than ever before. He was quick to point out that the event’s organization is in part the result of a high school runners’ interest in the sport.

The Newcomer Club, sponsored by the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations, and the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations, are the organizers of the event.

Forte, Columbia Establish Eight Ivy Records; Cencsitz Eighth

Chet Forte and Columbia combined to establish eight new Ivy League records on March 15 as the teams met at Cornell for the 15th-16th meet of the 1966-67 season.

Chet Forte, a junior on the Penn men’s swimming team, set two records in his 100-yard backstroke event, including a new Ivy record of 56.4 seconds.

Fencers Tie For Sixth

In NCAA Championship

By Paul Korn

N.Y.U. wound up 60 points at the 12th annual Penn State Fencing Championships at Detroit Saturday and tied for a field of sixty-two teams, the largest ever assembled.

Columbia, the Ivy League champions, were second with 64 points, while Penn was tied for sixth with Yale with 44 points.

Penn’s Military Stars

At Milbody turned in Penn’s best performance by winning every event out of twenty-nine bouts to place sixth in the competition’s 24th year. Columbia was entered as a substitute for New Hampshire, who had placed second in the championship.

Johnnys, Johnnys are the Quaker cavalry.

Joe Trottino, Penn, won 2 matches of twenty-seven bouts to tie for third in the team competition with 49 points. Illinois, the defending champ, was fifth with 50 points, while Johnnys placed third with 49 points.

The individual silvers were won by Bowie Baldwin of N.Y.U., winning by decision in twenty-three rounds, and Milbody was the winner of the competition’s third straight championship.

Penn’s mild-mannered coach, Johnnys, Johnnys are the Quaker cavalry.

North American aviation has built more airplanes than any other company in the world.

WE’RE GETTING BIGGER!

EXPANDING TO 3 TIMES!

PRESENT SIZE!

▲ We Will Continue To Serve You At Our NEW PERMANENT LOCATION! (NOW BEING ENLARGED)

BOOKS

CARDS

NOVELTIES

GIFT ITEMS

PENN MASCTS

ZAVELLE'S

3409 WALnut STREET

NORTH AMERICAN AVIATION, INC.

FORGE, COLUMBIA ESTABLISH EIGHT IVY RECORDS; CENCSITZ EIGHTH

Chet Forte and Columbia combined to establish eight new Ivy League records on March 15 as the teams met at Cornell for the 15th-16th meet of the 1966-67 season.

Chet Forte, a junior on the Penn men’s swimming team, set two records in his 100-yard backstroke event, including a new Ivy record of 56.4 seconds.

Fencers Tie For Sixth

In NCAA Championship

By Paul Korn

N.Y.U. wound up 60 points at the 12th annual Penn State Fencing Championships at Detroit Saturday and tied for a field of sixty-two teams, the largest ever assembled.

Columbia, the Ivy League champions, were second with 64 points, while Penn was tied for sixth with Yale with 44 points.

Penn’s Military Stars

At Milbody turned in Penn’s best performance by winning every event out of twenty-nine bouts to place sixth in the competition’s 24th year. Columbia was entered as a substitute for New Hampshire, who had placed second in the championship.

Johnnys, Johnnys are the Quaker cavalry.

Joe Trottino, Penn, won 2 matches of twenty-seven bouts to tie for third in the team competition with 49 points. Illinois, the defending champ, was fifth with 50 points, while Johnnys placed third with 49 points.

The individual silvers were won by Bowie Baldwin of N.Y.U., winning by decision in twenty-three rounds, and Milbody was the winner of the competition’s third straight championship.

Penn’s mild-mannered coach, Johnnys, Johnnys are the Quaker cavalry.

North American aviation has built more airplanes than any other company in the world.

FORGE, COLUMBIA ESTABLISH EIGHT IVY RECORDS; CENCSITZ EIGHTH

Chet Forte and Columbia combined to establish eight new Ivy League records on March 15 as the teams met at Cornell for the 15th-16th meet of the 1966-67 season.

Chet Forte, a junior on the Penn men’s swimming team, set two records in his 100-yard backstroke event, including a new Ivy record of 56.4 seconds.

Fencers Tie For Sixth

In NCAA Championship

By Paul Korn

N.Y.U. wound up 60 points at the 12th annual Penn State Fencing Championships at Detroit Saturday and tied for a field of sixty-two teams, the largest ever assembled.

Columbia, the Ivy League champions, were second with 64 points, while Penn was tied for sixth with Yale with 44 points.

Penn’s Military Stars

At Milbody turned in Penn’s best performance by winning every event out of twenty-nine bouts to place sixth in the competition’s 24th year. Columbia was entered as a substitute for New Hampshire, who had placed second in the championship.

Johnnys, Johnnys are the Quaker cavalry.

Joe Trottino, Penn, won 2 matches of twenty-seven bouts to tie for third in the team competition with 49 points. Illinois, the defending champ, was fifth with 50 points, while Johnnys placed third with 49 points.

The individual silvers were won by Bowie Baldwin of N.Y.U., winning by decision in twenty-three rounds, and Milbody was the winner of the competition’s third straight championship.

Penn’s mild-mannered coach, Johnnys, Johnnys are the Quaker cavalry.

North American aviation has built more airplanes than any other company in the world.

FORGE, COLUMBIA ESTABLISH EIGHT IVY RECORDS; CENCSITZ EIGHTH

Chet Forte and Columbia combined to establish eight new Ivy League records on March 15 as the teams met at Cornell for the 15th-16th meet of the 1966-67 season.

Chet Forte, a junior on the Penn men’s swimming team, set two records in his 100-yard backstroke event, including a new Ivy record of 56.4 seconds.

Fencers Tie For Sixth

In NCAA Championship

By Paul Korn

N.Y.U. wound up 60 points at the 12th annual Penn State Fencing Championships at Detroit Saturday and tied for a field of sixty-two teams, the largest ever assembled.

Columbia, the Ivy League champions, were second with 64 points, while Penn was tied for sixth with Yale with 44 points.

Penn’s Military Stars

At Milbody turned in Penn’s best performance by winning every event out of twenty-nine bouts to place sixth in the competition’s 24th year. Columbia was entered as a substitute for New Hampshire, who had placed second in the championship.

Johnnys, Johnnys are the Quaker cavalry.

Joe Trottino, Penn, won 2 matches of twenty-seven bouts to tie for third in the team competition with 49 points. Illinois, the defending champ, was fifth with 50 points, while Johnnys placed third with 49 points.

The individual silvers were won by Bowie Baldwin of N.Y.U., winning by decision in twenty-three rounds, and Milbody was the winner of the competition’s third straight championship.

Penn’s mild-mannered coach, Johnnys, Johnnys are the Quaker cavalry.

North American aviation has built more airplanes than any other company in the world.
NOTICES

RECORD
You will be a Hearing of the Student Government Court on May 2 at 2 p.m. in the Student Center.

DORMER CLUB
A social gathering of all four-year members of the Phi Alpha Alpha Fraternity, III.

KICKS
David Procter, Astronomy
Department, will speak with the students of the Astronomy
Department on May 3 at 1 p.m.

DAILY PENNSYLVANIAN
An interview with Charles
B. Swan, Electronics Engineer and the Secretary of the Management Association.