Saltonstall Cites Lack of Interest by Industry in Gov't Operations

States Six Methods Of Serving Nation

A great problem facing the United States today is the lack of enthusiasm on the part of business and industry in the government's operation. Senator Saltonstall, senator from Massachusetts, said at the annual Hay Day ceremonies in Irvine Auditorium, Friday, June 21, that this is one of the facts that the present day form of government has affected more than any other aspect of life in business, as well as in the life of the country as a whole. It is important that the people take a greater interest in the government of the country and the Republican Party Senate whip.

Senator Saltonstall pointed out that there is no organized effort on the part of business and industry to show interest in the government. This is a result of the predominance of history, government, economics, and politics in the minds of the people.

Proposed Ways of Service

Secondly, he proposed that one method of increasing interest is to establish a professional group representing the interests of business and industry. There are other ways to take an interest in the government by direct participation, which is the front line of defense in any organization.

A third way suggested by the senator was participation in community activities. These are the specific activities in which the people are interested and participated in the affairs of government.

Civil War Changes

Present-day business and industry in the United States have also occurred in the world during the last 15 years. Senator Saltonstall stated that more and more men are interested in the United States to take the lead in the world.

Because of this, the people of the United States, possibly, cannot make quick, and sound decisions in the face of international events, he said.

Senator Saltonstall suggested that the United States, as a constitutional republic, would not think twice to make any moves, but will think twice to make any moves in this field.

Quaker Nine Trounced By Leopards Here, 12-2

Pennsylvania's varsity golf team emerged victorious over Leopards, 12-2, in a home match.

However, the Quaker backers of the blue-and-gold will not be delighting in the seat of Rutgers the day before to bring their season mark to 10-4. In this match the Quakers missed Frankie Pearson's contributions.

A combination of good Leopards' hitting and wind took the part of Han Quaker golfers pitched evenly for Friday Pennsylvania's only time in a contest played at Lafayette College. The first seven holes were halved.

The first Leopard outfit (12-6) was led by senior Neil Langhorne as he made birdies on the first and third fours. Jack Holter opened the contest by showing the first six or seven holes to be played with his pet microphone. As Cutler and an ace down the right field line moved Holter to the Leopards' baseball club while the Murray drove three balls on a pole across the center.

Leopards' lead on the bagging of three holes in the first four. Dick Arthurskam lowered a single into left to start the rally. Rookie Bakstok's base hit moved Archambault to second base, from where he scored on Cutler's second bagger of the four. Stanhope and Schunick both on left under Schunick's frequent right.

Hitsing Hailed

The Winnebago, limited to a mere five hits, were able to get to only one, while the Queakie's six-potter showed they only in the sixth inning. With only one, only seven, shortstop Rich Waddles waited耐心ly Hooch Ritterback popped a single to left, advancing Rich to third. A wild pitch moved Rich and sent Hooch five in second. Captain John Wynn's one-lapper accepted for the second run to score Hooch.

The one-sided contest was finally halted at the end of the eighth inning due to the increasing dark.

How to roll a box car Southern style

The rings this railroad's holding are Timken tapered roller bearings. Mourned, instead of ordinary friction bearings, on freight car axles, Timken bearings reduce friction so much you can actually roll the car by yourself.

Reducing friction to a minimum enables Timken bearings to eliminate the hot box problem. No. 1 cause of freight train delay. They roll the load instead of sliding it. And that's why the Southern Railroad has started to go "Roller Freight", with 4 of its freight cars on the "Roller Freight". And when all the "Roller Freight" cars have been replaced, the Southern will have 400 in service.

The Timken Company pioneered the use of roller bearings for freight cars. We're looking for young men to pioneer improvements like this with us, help find new places to reduce friction, speed up machinery. Men who want to grow with the world's largest manufacturer of tapered roller bearings. Men who will work hand-in-hand with the railroads, and with the people who make aircraft, automobiles, construction and farm machinery.

We think you might find profitable reading in our booklet, "Career Opportunities at the Timken Company," Drop us a card at The Timken Roller Bearing Company, Canton 6, Ohio.

TAPERED ROLLER BEARINGS

Timken bearings keep America on the road... and you keep going up when you go with the Timken Company.
