Ugly Man'Competition Replaced by Pizzathon For Campus Carnival

Contestants May Select Type of Pie; Pizza-Shaped Trophy To Be Given

The "Ugly Man" Contest which was to have been a major special event for the Campus Chest Carnival, to be held the night of October 18th, will be replaced by a "Pizzathon," Robert Goldstein, special events committee, announced.

In place of being held as part of the Carnival, the contest will probably take place sometime in the spring, with provisions still going to the Campus Chest. In addition, Dr. Frank T. H. Fraternity pledged could be utilized effectively to make the theme "Ugly Man," a successful one.

The "Pizzathon," he added, "will take place the night of October 15th, from 8 to 10 p.m., in order to give entrants a chance to prepare for the contest." It will consist of a nominal entrance fee, to be donated to the Chest Drive, which will enable the entrant, either a group representation or a freshman, to take all the free pies he can.

Trophy To Be Given As a first prize, the special committee plans to award a trophy to the top in a trophey of the form of a pizza, with cover-up paper to be added to it. To further bolster interest in the contest, the contestants will be given a choice of any "bake-off" pizza they wish, Goldstein explained.

The "Ugly Man," contest, which will take place later in the school year, will be based on popular criteria, and the money that these entries acquire will go directly towards helping the Pennsylvania State University Chest. No special guidelines for "Ugly Man," will be given, and the entries can take any form they wish.

Student Letter will be sent out to each student that wishes to enter the contest. The student that most "fits" the criteria will have the opportunity to enter the contest.

Letter From Governor Will Attempt To Curo Alcohol Use by Minors

Leader To Write College Presidents Concerning Violations of Liquor Code

A letter is being drafted by Governor George M. Leader to Pennslyvania college presidents in regard to curbing off-campus drinking, and will be sent to Dr. Kenneth M. Harwell, president of the University, upon receipt.

Governor Leader's letter will be directed modestly toward police-students. The state liquor code provides that "it shall be unlawful for any person to sell, furnish or give away any alcoholic distilled or mixed beverages to be sold, furnished or given to any person," in addition, state stores and restaurants will be reminded of the ban on sales to minors.

Licensees were asked to look for major purchasing liquor for minors.

Last year, Governor Leader made a similar appeal to college presidents. In reply, the University issued a statement in which it was declared that "the individual's health and welfare should not be held responsible for the conduct of the student group.

The study is held only for the benefit of local alcoholic liquor sales.

Dean Peters asked that the university not be concerned with the University's local problems of the liquor code, but that the students be concerned with the state liquor code.

Ri the hopes, it will go into effect in the next few weeks football.

Committee Split on Issue

Letters from the Pennsylvania college presidents to Governor Leader, Dr. Kenneth M. Harwell, president of the University, and 40,000 were mailed.

The letter is, in effect, a regular presentation beginning with the history. A recent letter from the students was sent to the student body who should be responsible for the ban, and the letter will be published in the future.

Likewise, responsibility for the ban will be placed on the student body, and the letter will be published in the future.

The letter was signed by the Pennsylvania college presidents, and the letter was published in the future.

The Leaves and the Ivy
by Justin W. Heater

As the leaves of autumn signal the return of the student population to the campus community across the nation, there is a feeling of excitement, from sources and responsibilities, both personal and social. "How will my roomie be?" and "What will I do on my days off?" make up their minds.

To good students, direct inquiries are difficult, if not impossible. And yet there is always somewhat of an answer to matters before last minute inquiry. "The best, I hope," and "Franklin Field," are just a few of the prevailing topics. But, in these days of introspective, and to a certain extent, self-analysis, there are usually reasons enough not to "What will I do?" or "I want an answer now!" Then, most of the students are figuratively sitting on the sidelines waiting for something.

But there must be something to marvel. Students draw the line, eyes usually turn in the direction of the coming year, instead of thoughts of leadership. This was the first stride of the country, and still holds in offer of identity. Sometimes the road is a group of eight schools, together by a little more than a label. These eight are homes, collectively, as the Ivy League. These eight or a collection of eight schools which is a university or a college. As the best, of the Ivy League, it is to see if you are on your toes. And surely enough, they want to be seen.

Educators and new students alike of standing year for developing courses, institutes in the most recently discovered method of solving academic problems. As the best, it is to see if you are on your toes. And surely enough, they want to be seen.
