The World Series Play Ball! by Joseph Corriere

Although the smell of fall is fresh in our nostrils, and the cheer of the baseball still rings in our ears, let us turn our thoughts to something which is definitely connected with winter. The World Series, a fall classic starting any way back when, is in the order of the day. Probably not very suited to the fireplace and comfort of the hearth, it is worth mentioning the World Series for its importance and historical situations.

THE LITTLE SAVER

Among America's great savers, George T. Coffee is a legend. One day, George discovered that by going to sleep with his shoe on, he could save a full 80 seconds dressing in the morning. Multiplying this by 365 days—gave him over 6 hours saved per year. Then, multiplying this by 8 years—gave him 48 hours—or two full days saved! George was giddy. "Think of it," he mused. "Two full days saved to do anything . . . read, sleep or go to Europe!"

Another time, George passed a store that advertised: "Save $50 When You Buy These #100 Suit!" George immediately saw the fantastic opportunity . . . realizing that he could save $100 by not buying any of these suits. Thus, once, he proceeded not to buy ten suits and rolled up a tidy $1,000 in a few seconds. However, the best saving George ever did by far—when he happened on the Van Houten Vantage Suit. Vantage is a shirt, you don't have to iron . . . so you save on laundry bills. Wash it—hang it up to dry—that's all. "So what," you say, "aren't there other shirts that can do the same thing?" "Melba," we say, "but Vantage is a cotton shirt—with all of nature's natural softness, personality and comfort. And it only costs 85!"

Men—grab a pencil in your fly. Figure out your laundry bill for shirts for a year. Then figure out the price for your Vantage shirts. You'll find that Vantage shirts actually pay for themselves in the laundry bills you save! Live you at the bank.

P.S. You can also save yourself the trouble of searching for best collar-stays. For Vantage shirts have Collarite woven in—stays which can't get out, keep the collar neat, always.
