Students' Parents May Attend Classes;    Program To Include President's Dinner

The parents of undergraduate sophomore men have been invited by the University to observe campus life on "Parents Days," November 8, 9 and 10. The invitation was extended by President John N. Peters, who will be present throughout the three days. Robert L. Davis, dean of men, announced yesterday.

The purpose of "Parents Days" is to give the parents of undergraduate sophomore men a better idea of what happens on campus, with particular emphasis on the part that parents can play in their sons' lives. The program, therefore, will cover the following points: a description of the University; an explanation of what parents can do to help their sons; a tour of the campus; and a chance for parents to meet the President and to mingle with students and faculty members.

The program will begin Friday afternoon, November 8, at the Memorial Hall, where President Peters will address the parents. The program will continue on Saturday, November 9, at the Franklin Field, where a special all-sports rally will be held. The day will be spent on the campus, and the parents will have an opportunity to see the various activities of the students.

On Sunday, November 10, the parents will be taken on a tour of the campus, and they will have an opportunity to see the various activities of the students. The tour will include visits to the various departments of the University, as well as to the residence halls and the dormitories. The parents will also have an opportunity to meet the faculty members and to talk to them about their sons' education.

The parents of undergraduate sophomore men are requested to make arrangements for their stay on campus at their own expense. They will be provided with transportation and accommodations. The University will also provide them with a special dinner on Friday evening and a special breakfast on Saturday morning. PENN PENNED

A Rude Awakening

by Justin W. Heathter

Last weekend, much of the population throughout the country was terrorized by news accounts suggesting to the people of the United States that the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (USSR) had launched man's first nuclear warhead. For the first time since Pearl Harbor, the American population had been threatened.

The general consensus of the people was that these stories were exaggerated, and if they were true, they might not be the world's end. Many of those living in the United States are still living in the technological world that they live in, and the only way to do so is to be a socialist.

Penn Eleven Abandons Single Wing for Tigers

Pennsylvania's newly installed single wing offense was demonstrated at Franklin Field last Saturday, when the Quakers were defeated by the Ivy League championship 18-3. The single wing is an old-fashioned offensive formation that involves running the ball from one sideline to the other in an attempt to gain yardage. Penn's move to the single wing was in an attempt to improve their scoring chances, but the strategy was not effective against the stronger defense of the Tigers.

Spiked Shoe Offers Dardik Talk in HH

The Spiked Shoe Club will hold a meeting for all interested in track and field on Friday at 7:30 in room 150 of McFarland Hall. John Dardik, president of that organization, will give a brief talk on the origin of high jump in athletics. He will also discuss the technique of the high jump, focusing on the mechanics of the leap and the importance of proper technique.

Musick Leads Grid Statistics

Paul M. Musick, Pennsylvania's No. 2 halfback, has been the driving force behind the Quakers' offense, gaining over 100 yards in each of the last two games. His performance has been crucial to the team's success, and he continues to be a reliable weapon for the Pennsylvania offense.
