Kennedy Urges Reevaluation Of U. S. Foreign Aid Policies

Mass. Senator Cites Need for Change In Economic Redevelopment Programs

Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts called for a reevaluation of the approach to foreign policy in light of the current world situation.

The Senator spoke to an overflow crowd estimated at 2,000 who turned out to hear him. In his address the Senator urged that the United States adopt a new approach to foreign aid policies. He emphasized the need for change in economic redevelopment programs.

The speech was delivered at the annual Howard Crawford Memorial Lecture held in conjunction with the Wharton School Alumni Workshops program.

Kennedy stated that the present foreign aid policies were not working. He argued that the policies were not producing the desired results.

The Bailout's Pardon

Henry L. Price, Philadelphia

I am an educational administrator. The fact that Ralph I. T. Slough, chairman of the Pennsylvania Board of Education, has appointed a financial man to the position of auditor for the board is a pardon for the bailout of the state's educational system. The bailout was a criminal act, and the pardon is an attempt to cover it up.

Your truly,
Henry L. Price

The Alumni Speak

Where Lies the Blame?

By Bernard Schneyer

"Last year, all Penn students were 16 and lost their ability to vote this year. Forgetting his position, thirty-one years ago, Ralph I. T. Slough, the state auditor, put in the position of auditor for the board. The bailout was a criminal act, and the pardon is an attempt to cover it up."

Your truly,
Bernard Schneyer

The PARTY WEEK END:
ITS CAUSE AND CURE

With the season of party weekends almost upon us, my mind is filled with thoughts of the young women of yesterday who sang us songs of "I Don't Care Where I'm Going" and "I'm As Free As A Bird" as they went on their way to the "Dive" for their Friday night party. This year, the young men are going to do the same thing. The girls will be singing "I'm As Free As A Bird" as they go to their party weekends. The young men will be singing "I Don't Care Where I'm Going" as they go to their party weekends.

To me, this is nothing more than a party weekend. They are going to have a lot of fun and they are going to enjoy themselves. They are going to do everything they want to do. They are going to do it for themselves. They are going to do it for themselves and they are going to enjoy themselves.

As a matter of fact, I think that this is the way it should be. I think that this is the way it should be for the young men and women of today. I think that this is the way it should be for the young men and women of tomorrow. I think that this is the way it should be for the young men and women of the future.

Your truly,
Max Schneyer

Job Facts from Du Pont

OPPORTUNITIES AT DU PONT CONTINUE TO GROW
FOR ALL KINDS OF ENGINEERS AND SCIENTISTS

WHERE DO YOU WANT TO WORK? by E. H. Cutt

Du Pont Representations

I wouldn't be entirely realistic if I said that you could choose your job location from Du Pont's 27 plants and 98 laboratories scattered over 26 states. But Du Pont does have jobs open in many of those locations, so there is a good chance that we may be able to match your pref-ermen and qualifications with available openings.

Right now, most of the Du Pont work is in the Mississippi, but we have plants in Texas, California, Ohio and Georgia. New plants are also under con-

bstruction in Kansas, Tennessee, Virginia and North Carolina. Perhaps one of these locations has the work you're looking for.

For a complete list of our plant locations, please write to me at E. J. Du Pont de Nemours & Co., Inc., 1983 B Nemours Building, Wilmington 98, Del.

te, Mike Phillips, will preside.

Du Pont Training Tailored to Individual

WHERE DO YOU WANT TO WORK?

Du Pont Training Tailored to Individual

Effective July 1, 1960, the Du Pont Company began tailoring its plant operation training to the individual. This move was made in response to the industrial demand for more skilled and better qualified workers. As Du Pont trains engineers and scientists, the training is designed to meet the needs of the individual.

Senator Kennedy Discusses U.S. Foreign Policy

"In the Middle East, the two most influential nations are not the Americans and the Israelis, but the British and the Egyptians," Senator John F. Kennedy said yesterday in his first major foreign policy address.

Kennedy, who is expected to run for the Democratic nomination, discussed the Middle East crisis with representatives from the United States and the Soviet Union.

"The crisis in the Middle East is not a minor one," he said. "It is a crisis of our time, and it is a crisis of our future."

The senator began by saying that the crisis is a result of the Cold War and that it is caused by the United States and the Soviet Union.

"We cannot ignore the fact that the United States and the Soviet Union are the two largest powers in the world," he said. "And we cannot ignore the fact that they have a history of conflict."

Kennedy said that the United States and the Soviet Union must work together to resolve the crisis.

"We must work together to find a solution," he said. "And we must work together to prevent a war."
