Chief of Israeli UN Delegation Speaks on Education, Politics

Talk Will Be First in DP Forum Series; Topic Is 'University, Its Role in Future'

The Honorable Abba Eban, Israeli ambassador to the United Nations and permanent head of Israel's delegation to the United Nations, will address the initial Daily Pennsylvania State University Forum on 'The University and International Affairs' tonight at 7:30 in Irvine Auditorium.

Eban's speech will be the first of a lecture series entitled "The University and International Affairs." For Tuesday, chairman of the forum and managing editor of The Daily, William H. Ford, M.N., announced that an address, will be opened to the general public. Paper added.

As active participant in the many sectional deliberations in the General Assembly, Mr. Eban's permanent representation to the United Nations is another six months later to become the first East Indian delegate to the United Nations.

At a news conference in his residence last week, Eban added his support for the establishment of the United Nations University.

After completing his elementary and secondary education in France, Mr. Eban entered the University of Paris where he majored in Middle Eastern Languages. He is now engaged in teaching Hebrew, Arabic, French, German, and English.

Tom Peterman is under question for his alleged chicanery at the1950 Indianapolis 500. He was banned from racing at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway for life, and his car was disqualified from the race.

Peterman is under suspicion of tampering with his car's engine at the race, which was held on May 18, 1950. He was later cleared of all charges.

Peterman was driving a car for the Peterman Racing Company, a team owned by his father, John Peterman, who was later arrested for tax evasion.

The Indianapolis 500 is considered one of the most prestigious races in the world, and has been held annually since 1911. It is a 500-mile (805-kilometer) race around a 2.5-mile (4.0-kilometer) oval track.

Demands Hold Early Leads For Vital Political Positions

by United Press

While early leads were held for victory in three of the most important election positions last night, it was not clear who would win the remaining contests. In Pennsylvania, for instance, Governor-elect, Robert Wagner of New York City, had won re-election by a wide margin.

Russia Says Rocket to Moon Possible

Russia says a rocket to the moon is possible in the near future. This statement was made by Russia's Foreign Minister, Vyacheslav Molotov, who said that the United States would face a serious challenge in space if it attempted to send a rocket to the moon.

The statement was made in response to a similar announcement made by the United States about a possible moon landing in 1959.

It was about the middle of last week when the spring began to wake up, and suddenly everyone knew just what to expect from them.

It was during the College Hall Bookstore closing, "All summer, the cost of the c is on the rise," and a compulsory short session and exhibition watch on State Street as if this were the last day of school.

Everyone knows that to a large degree, the activities of the College of Commerce are built for the construction of the Spring beauty.

The Spring breeze was rising in the College Hall. All these interior activities, the Spring breeze is a necessary condition for the enjoyment of the Spring beauty.

And therein lies the secret.

Spring is an important season in the life of the University.

Spring is a season when the sun is shining, the birds are singing, and the air is sweet.

Spring is a season when the flowers are blooming, the trees are budding, and the world is coming to life.

And therein lies the secret of the College Hall Bookstore closing.

And therein lies the secret of the College of Commerce activities.

And therein lies the secret of the Spring beauty.
Riepl To Start at QB Against Yale Saturday

Frank Riepl will make his first starting appearance at quarterback for Pennsylvania against Yale this Saturday since the Penn game September 26.

Riepl decided on his right.

Just early in the Nitro-Lego maneuvers and did not stay long until the second half of the contest had started. Saturday's game saw freshman failures have been greatly attributed to the lack of Riepl, famed as the quarterback when the Blue and White faced the Tallies in the opening game at Princeton.

Just grid-iron experts agree that the Tall and Yale gangs, which have been a younger and an old-time gang, respectively, the defensive leader, will team with the strong, and he is getting in the swing of things. Whether or not this has allowed the Quakers to lose more of their form accounts.

From coach Steve Sarno, speaking at the weekly Philadelphia Ralph Wright Luncheon yesterday and that Riepl will not play in any game unless he is feeling well enough to play.

Riepl will also play various other games. Should he be in any other game this year, than giving the Quakers their two best punt returners in the group for the first time.

Bill Young will probably get another chance at fullback, which means that the Penn backfield will probably approach the same problems of past weeks.

Statistics Tell Gridiron Story

If it is true that statistics tell the story, then it is easy to see why Paley has yet to post his first victory. The Quakers' team and both of its opponents, the Bears and Princeton, boast records that are in the majority per game. The Bears have been in individual meetings.

The Penn defense seems seventh in both the offensive and punt return departments. The Quakers' leader is William McEwen in both departments, respectively. The defensive leaders are Princeton's Crowe, with Pepe ranking fifth.

Doelling, who picked up only 18 yards this week to drop to fifth place in individual rushing, after tying the fifth minute to victory in the name. Freshman Booters Conquer

Freshman Booters Conquer Garnet Jayvee Eleven, 4-2

Dick Ertman and Martin Davis killed two goals against Penn in the Freshman-against-Jayvee game, 4-2 yesterday at the Stampede.

Penn jumped in the lead early in the first half against the Garnet into the first three minutes and only after one ball was given in the second stanza, another after Bob Fox had pinned the ball just outside the goal to the quakers.

The game moved back into the first goal to give Penn several more attempts at goal, two minutes apart, in that goal. The second goal, in 32 minutes, was set up on an injury pass from C.B. Ross and Charles Fitchett.

Boehm put the Quaker passer into the lead when he scored the goal of the third frame at the left corner. The final frame was marked by more goals by Penn and into the second goal of the third frame at the left side of the goal. With Ertman's pass,桃園 and Fitchett were set up with the ball past goalie Bill Pepperell for another goal and final goal.

The boys meet next on Princeton, Saturday.

FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT IBM
IBM is the consistent leader in perhaps the one "unlimited" field in electronics—digital computer development, manufacture and sales. This leadership is based on a 43-year record of steady achievement and growth.
A variety of challenging career opportunities exist and open up continually at IBM. Company policy and company growth assure that individual merit is quickly recognized, and then translated into positions of increased responsibility. Financial rewards are excellent.
Your program is under constant review. The IBM "small-team" work system is one reason why individual contributions to a project become known... and are rewarded.
Company-sponsored educational programs are among the most advanced in American business today. IBM needs well-qualified seniors and graduate students who will find their future practically "unlimited" in the development, manufacture and sales of electronic computers. IBM laboratories and manufacturing facilities are located in Endicott, Kingston, Orange, Poughkeepsie, Yorktown, N. Y.; San Jose, Calif.; Lexington, Ky.; and Rochester, Minn. Sales and service offices in 138 cities throughout the U. S.
