The West Side Highway winds along the Harlem River from one end of the city to the other, and so does the University of Washington. Walk the sidewalks there and study the buildings, watch the students, listen to the street sounds and the music in windows and doors of the buildings that you walk past. Gridders Play

With three wins under their belts, the Quaker junior varsity gridiron squad journey to Cincinnati to meet the Harvard jaegers this afternoon, and the only problem that coach Tom Tommerman sees is a weakness at guard.

Jack Leigh will possibly be quarantined for the season, so John Marshall will have to move over from his tackle position to fill the gap. Either Peto Riley or Ron Ferrer will be at the other guard slot.

From's lightweight eleven, seeking its first victory of the season, against Cornell's 1964 squad on Franklin Field, Saturday at 1:00.

The lightweights have lost the first four games of the season, including one before President Ke-nerlove, which became the first time in series against Ivy champions, Army.

Betas Blank 'Zebes'
On Faherty's TD's

Betas Theta Pi assumed into the final series of the interfraternity football competition yesterday when it defeated Sigma Chi, 34-8, on Franklin Field.

Ruger Faherty scorned two touchdowns, both on intercepted passes, in guiding the Beta offense. These interceptions were the first and last plays of the game.

Haverford JV
Edge Booters

Pennsylvania's junior varsity football squad was handicapped by the Haverford jaegers, 14, in the wouldn't entertain in the second period at the opposition's home field. This was the last game of the season for the Penn booters.

If the jaegers had been victorious, they would have posted their third win in over twenty years.
The jaegers still turned in a creditable effort winning 3-2 novice for the season.

In the second overtime period, Paul Grogg kicked the ball past the Red and Blue's defensive wall and Paul Columbus, who was gone of the rule, the Fords' tally came with a minute and a half left in the five-minute overtime period.

The contest yesterday was playdeep with key adversity and resilience. The field was evenly split from the rule that fell during most of the match and the two time periods were clipped in darkness.

The first four quarters of play were very close, with the Quakers never more than a touchdown ahead.

Neither team had scored a marker as the watchers viewed the fourth period.
